RECORDS OF THE ABBEY OF OUR LADY OF CONSOLATION AT CAMBRAI, 1620–1793

CONTRIBUTED BY THE RIGHT REVEREND LADY CECILIA HEYWOOD, ABBESS OF STANBROOK
EDITED WITH HISTORICAL NOTES BY JOSEPH GILLOW

THE Abbey of Benedictine nuns of the English Congregation was established in 1620 at Cambrai by Monks of that Congregation, chiefly through the instrumentality of the president, Dom William Rudesind Barlow, and Dom William Benet Jones, who brought over from England nine English ladies to form the nucleus of the foundation, of whom Helen More (Dame Gertrude) is considered chief foundress, the pecuniary means having been mainly furnished by her father Mr. Cresacre More, lineal descendant of the blessed martyr Sir Thomas More. For the training of these postulants in the monastic life, three nuns were lent by the kindness of the abbess of the English Benedictine abbey at Brussels, Lady Mary Percy; and their spiritual direction was entrusted to the eminent Father David Augustine Baker, who remained at Cambrai about eight years.

Dame Frances Gawen of Brussels was appointed abbess of the infant community until in 1629, at the first general chapter after their profession, one of their own number, Dame Catherine Gascoigne, was chosen abbess. Though their instructresses, the three Brussels nuns, were now free to return to their own convent, they begged to be allowed to form part of the community of Cambrai. Two of them, Dame Frances Gawen and Dame Pudentiana Deacons, remained till their death several years later, but Dame Viviana Yaxley eventually availed herself of her right according to the original stipulation, and returned to Brussels in 1650.

The Cambrai community were from the first under the immediate jurisdiction of the president and general chapter of the English Congregation of Monks of the Order of St. Benedict, and this with the full consent and concurrence of the Archbishop of Cambrai, Francis Van der Burch, and the solemn approbation of Pope Urban VIII.

In 1793 the Community of Cambrai, twenty-one in number, were violently ejected by the French Government, and carried in open carts to Compiègne, where they remained in close prison for eighteen months. They obtained their release at last in 1795, reaching Dover on May 3rd of that year. Befriended by the Monks of the English Congregation to which they belonged, they remained at Woolton in Lancashire, earning a small means of subsistence by teaching a school belonging to the Benedictine mission. In 1807, by the kindness of Mrs. Stanford, they removed to a mansion belonging to her in Warwickshire, Salford Hall, near Evesham, which they were to have free of rent, not only during her lifetime, but during that of the heir-at-law, Mr. Robert Berkeley of Spetchley, who concurred generously in this negotiation. In 1838 they removed finally to Stanbrook Hall in Worcestershire, purchasing the house and property for themselves, and eventually, after several years, erecting a church, consecrated in 1871, and a considerable portion of a regular Abbey in 1880.

The dearth of original early documents at Stanbrook Abbey is owing to the fact that the seizure of the abbey at Cambrai, in October 1793; was so sudden and so ruthless that in less than half-an-hour the nuns were hurried into open carts and transferred to the prison of Compiègne, each nun being allowed no more baggage than a small bundle of necessaries hastily put together in presence of ruffians armed with clubs. All their books and papers were put under seal; and eventually were transferred to the public library and archives of Cambrai, where a portion still remains. Another portion was carried at a still later date to the Archives Centrales of Lille, where they are stowed away in two cartons marked "Benedictines de Cambrai." In or about 1876 the Lady Abbess of Stanbrook; the Right Rev. Lady Gertrude L. d'Aurillac Dubois, at some expense had copies made of the more valuable of the manuscripts at Lille, and these have recently been carefully verified. During the last eight years transcripts have been made by friends of a few of the manuscripts at Cambrai, as here particularised. The more important original documents have utterly disappeared, but copies, evidently made for business purposes long before the Revolution and kept by the nuns in their archives at Cambrai, have sufficient value to be offered to the Catholic Record Society in absence of the originals.

On the reverse of the foregoing document, the official of the Sacred Congregation has made the following summary:—

"Cambrai. ii Jan^{rii} 1630. Concedat: si nulla alia existat habens requisita. Si sup^{a} per la facoltà d' eleggere p. Abb^{a} e Priora del Mon. della Mad^{a} di Cambrai che una d' eta di 24 e l' altra di 28 anni non essendovi altre che abbiano l' eta e gli anni della professione a ciò necessarii, e considera anche che possiano governar ben^{mo} con la sopraintendenza particolamente del Conf^{r} e dell' Arcivescovo al qle il Mon. è soggetto. ‡

"L'Arciv. attesta l' esporta ea approva L'Abbā è quadriennale e il Mon. è eretto da 9 anni."

* The official "Vicarius monialium," an office subsequently abrogated.

† By the term ordinary was here intended, as in the text of the Statutes, the President of the English Benedictine Congregation, and not the Archbishop.

‡ Here the official has misunderstood the bearing of the term "Ordinary." The error, as such, is evident in the text of the archbishop's letter, where he states the house in question to be "subject to the English Congregation." The error is rectified subsequently at Rome.

[The Rescript evidently having been sent to the nuns, they, noticing its clause to the effect, that their petition was granted on condition of there being no one else in the convent of requisite age, &c., were obliged to send a fresh petition to have this clause cancelled; because, though none of the foundation itself were of age, the three nuns lent from Brussels to train them were still there, and in office. Moreover, these latter were wishful to remain instead of returning to the house of their profession, as originally stipulated. In any case, the foundation now fully effected must be governed by its own members.]

I.

A Spiritual Treatise, conteininge some advise for seculars composed by the unworthy Religious S^tr B.C. of Jesus of the holy Order of S^t Benedict in the monastery of Our Lady of Consolation in Cambray of the Englišh Congregation.

Estote perfecti sicut Pater vester.
Ambula coram me, et esto perfectus : (Gen. 17, 1.)
Nolite contaminare anima vestra : ego sum Dñs deus vester
Sanctus estote quia ego sanctus sum. (Lev. 11, 44.)

To my most deare brother Sir Marmaduke Constable, I wish all health and happiness.

My dearest brother since my affection and good will for you is not lesse then for the rest of my friends to whom according to my poor capacity I have indeavoured to contribute a little of the expence of the idle time my condition affords towards the good and sanctifying of their soules according to the varietie of their conditions and necessities, tho' less needing then you; All circumstances considered, who being in a secular state, ingaged in much distraction and incompassed with all tentations have as much if not more need to be comforted, assisted and incouraged in ye way of virtue; nor must you think that virtue is not compatible or belongs not to your estate or condition as well as others, this is a great error wh. I hope to let you see in this little booke you are much abused by. God has created all creatures to love and serve him in the perfectest manner they can; and such is the force of Christian grace that it will sanctify all states and conditions of what profession or trade soever, provided it be lawfull, and to testify the truth of this, God has exempted none, from the court to the cart, that he hath not produced great saints of, as any may see who will but reade histories. And in the primitive Church, at which time sanctity most flourished all in a manner, were secular persons charged with wives & children and the service of their prince and countrie, and yet the Apostles who preached the evangelicall doctrine in its greatest purity, preached publickly not only, the maine principles of Christian doctrine, but even the highest poynts of perfection, witness S^{t} Paules' Epistles, with S^{t} Peter, S^{t} John, & S^{t} James wh. were writt in common to all Christians; and after them their disciples S^{t} Ignatius the martyr & S^{t} Policarp, etc. & even S^{t} Denis writt his high and divine bookes in that age when religious were rare, altho' indeed he limited it only to such persons as lived most religiously yet certainly without distinction of cleargie or secular persons but left it indifferent in that poynt, & yet the most recluse person cannot practise a higher or more divine doctrine. I doe not say this that I would indifferently now in this age recommend such bookes to secular persons, no it is not convenient, but to lett you see that secular persons have and now may be if they please as capable of the practise of the highest perfection as religious, perfection & sanctity are not limited in such narrow bonds as monasteries, but rather it is by God's own words of—estote perfecti sicut pater vester—delivered to the large extent of the whole world. What greater perfection can be required of the most perfect religious then is contained in the 10 commandments and other Apostolicall and Ecclesiasticall doctrines and ordinations, without the observing whereof none can be saved; and yet seculars are strictly obliged to the performance of them, if ever they will enjoy eternall beatitude. To love God above all things & our neighbours as ourselves, the prime commandment; is a perfection that even the most solitarie and carefull religious will find enough to doe to attaine to the perfection of them: and yet none can be saved without indeavouring to practise them the best they can; but you will say, perhaps all cannot be saints; to which I answer all may arrive to that degree of virtuousness and sanctity which God has designed them to, that will cooperate with his grace, which is never wanted to those he sees industrious and desirous to negotiate for heaven with it, all desire heaven but they will not give the price for it that God requires for it, and so it is true that God in fine gives it to whom and as he pleases, as not considering so much our deeds and desires for it, wh: are truely and indeed far inferior to the worth of so great a reward as eternall beatitude, yet he will have us gaine it by our good & virtuous lifes, & you will find yourself much abused if you thinke a virtuous & perfect life belongs only to ecclesiasticke and religious persons; you may as well thinke & say that heaven belongs only to them, lett them take it and give me the pleasures of this world, but this would be a most strange & unchristian like thought or saying: & yet really in effect so it proves for only those that lead good lives will gaine heaven, & those that doe not shall gaine the contrarie; if then heaven and the enjoying of God for all eternity be the thing you aim at, as I doubt not it is: sic currite ut comprehendatis, as the great Apostle advise all christians, so run the course of your life that you may gaine what you aim at, wh. will not be by giving yourself to an idle & vain life, taking pleasure and seeking after the riches and honours of the world, for as the same Apostle saith in another place, where he reckons up many that shall never enter into heaven, neque avari, neque ebriosi, neque maledici, neque rapaces, regnum dei possidebunt, but many will say they are not guilty of these crimes, to whom I will answer only thus perhaps not according to the largest sense of the words, but lay your hand upon your heart and examine well its affections & desires & the effects they produce and see whether manny sinnes doe not proceed from these sources, wh. doe not only defile but hasard your soule. You doe, you will say, not covett & extort other men's goods wrongfully; but yet you would be glad to be master of all the treasures of the world lawfully, & have you not some inordinate & secret desire & wishes you were so, & would you not take much delight and complaisance in being so rich, & very loth to loose a pennie of it tho' by way of alms & charity & doing yr poor neighbour any good, or doe you not feel a certaine repining & sorrow when by some casuality you loose it; if yes, you are not right, this proceeds from the origin of a covetous desire of having riches for our owne delight & satisfaction & will indanger salvation if we spend our lives carelessly in it. You say also you hate drunkenness, & gluttony; but if you delight not only in eating & drinking abundantly & superflously, but doe spend much money & cause much paines to be taken in finding out fine delicious inventions only for the pleasing of your sensuall appetite, wh. serves rather for the destruction then maintaining & nourishing your bodily health & strength, this is not right, take heed you find not your part among drunkards & gluttons, or at least, by these and other such inordinations wh. are nowadays much practised by most & the sins thereof not much regarded, you come not at last to be of the number of those, qui non possidebunt regnum dei. In fine not to be tedious to you in this my dedication, consider that you are now in those last days, et periculosa tempora, when homines erant seipsos amantes, etc. I endeavour for you by these following advise, which if you take as much paines to practise as I have done to gather and unite them together, I shall hope to receive the comfort I desire, wh. is to meet you in eternity for wh. I shall offer my poor prayers as long as I shall live & be able to say, I am ever yours to com.

"These papers belong to Str Ann Teresa. The originals were sent to the Section D June the 27, 1793, to comply with an order sent by the said Section which required us to give in the names, ages and places of birth of all our Nuns."

As the existing catalogue of the community printed hereafter is not a complete register of the community, it is deemed advisable at this point to insert brief notes on the names appearing in the above prison list.

Dame Elizabeth Anselma Anne, born in 1715, was the third daughter of Marmaduke Anne, of Frickley Hall and Burghwallis Hall, co. York, Esq., by Elizabeth, daughter of Robert Plumpton, of Plumpton Hall, co. York, Esq. Her father was son of Michael Anne, Esq., and his wife the Hon. Jane Langdale, daughter of Marmaduke, 2nd Lord Langdale of Holme. She was professed in 1735, and died in the prison at Compiègne Jan. 21, 1794, a glorious follower in the footsteps of her collateral ancestor the blessed martyr John Anne, who suffered death for his priesthood and the Catholic faith at York on March 16, 1588–9.

Dame Jane Alexander, born of Scotch parentage at Tournai in 1714, prof. 1757, accompanied the community after release from prison to Woolton, where she died June 17, 1799.

Dame Elizabeth Frances Sheldon, born 1720, was daughter of William Sheldon, of the Manor of Lower Ditchford, co. Warwick, and of the city of Winchester, Esq., by his second wife, Anastatia, daughter of Bartholomew Smith, of Winchester, Esq. Her father's first wife, Catherine, daughter of Christopher Roper, 5th Lord Teynham, was the mother of the two nuns Catherine and Mary, who died in 1723 and 1756 respectively. Elizabeth was professed in 1740, accompanied the nuns to Woolton after their release from prison, and died at Salford Hall, July 14, 1808.

Dame Margaret Burgess, born 1721, prof. 1749, and her sister Dame Scholastica Burgess, who died at Cambrai, Sept. 16, 1770, were daughters of Robert Burgess, of Cronton, in Prescot, co. Lancaster, a Catholic non-juror in 1717, who, as a husbandman, registered a small leasehold farm. Dame Margaret died in prison at Compiègne, April 3, 1794. Her brother Thomas removed to a farm called the Hawkslough at Clayton Brook, in the parish of Leyland, and had several children, of whom Dom James Bede Burgess, O.S.B., born in 1768, died in 1837; Thomas, the third son, a joiner in Clayton-le-Woods, married Cecily Gregson, of Gregson Lane in Brindle, and was father of the Rt. Rev. Thomas Burgess, Bishop of Clifton, born 1791, died 1854; Julia, married Edward Swarbrick, of Blackburn, grocer, and was mother of two lay-sisters of that name who died at Stanbrook Abbey; and Ann, wife of Mr. Abbot, was mother of the Rev. Thomas Abbot.

Dame Elizabeth Bernard Haggerston, born 1725, was daughter of Sir Carnaby Haggerston, of Haggerston Castle, co. Northumberland, 3rd Bart., by Elizabeth, daughter and heiress of Peter Middelton, of Stockeld, co. York, Esq. When the nuns obtained their release from prison and came over to England, in May 1794, Dame Bernard was too ill to proceed, and was conveyed to Sutton Place, Guildford, co. Surrey, the residence of John Webbe-Weston, Esq., who had recently married, as his 2nd wife, her niece Mary, eldest daughter of William Haggerston-Constable. There she succumbed to the hardships she had undergone, and was buried at Holy Trinity, Guildford, July 16, 1795. Her eldest brother, Thomas, succeeded to the baronetcy. Her second brother, William, assumed the additional name of Constable upon succeeding to the Everingham estates in conformity with the settlement of Sir Marmaduke Constable, 4th and last Bart., whose sister Anne, daughter of Sir Philip Mark Constable, 3rd Bart., and his wife Margaret, daughter of Francis Radcliffe, 1st Earl of Derwentwater, was the wife of William, second but eldest surviving son of Sir Thomas Haggerston, 2nd Bart., and father of Sir Carnaby Haggerston, 3rd Bart. William Haggerston-Constable married the Lady Winifred Maxwell, daughter and heiress of John, Lord Maxwell, who assumed the title of Earl of Nithsdale upon the death of his father, the attainted Lord Nithsdale, and from him descends the present representative of the family, the Duchess of Norfolk, eldest daughter and coheiress of the late Lord Herries.

Dame Mary Lucy Blyde, born in 1729 at Penistone, co. York, was abbess at the time of the seizure of the convent, having been appointed to that dignity in the preceding year upon the death of the Abbess Mary Clare Knight, Oct. 30, 1792, and so continued till 1802. She was prof. 1756, and died at Salford, Aug. 12, 1816.

Sister Anne Frances Pennington, lay-sister, born in 1734 at Garston, in the parish of Childwall, co. Lancaster, died in the prison at Compiègne, Feb. 6, 1794.

Dame Teresa Joseph Walmesley, born in 1739, was the only child of Thomas Walmesley, of London, 4th son of John Walmesley, of Wigan, who was son of John Walmesley by his second wife, Margaret, dau. of William Plesington, of Dimples Hall, Esq., and aunt of the martyr, the Rev. John Plesington. She was prof. 1759, and died in the prison at Compiègne, Jan. 21, 1794.

Dame Louisa Hagan, born at Bryantown in Maryland in 1740, was professed in 1763, returned to England with the community, and died at Salford, June 6, 1811.

Dame Elizabeth Anne-Joseph Knight, born in 1742, was a younger sister of the Abbess Mary Clare Knight, (born 1740, prof. 1765, elected to that dignity in the year of her death, which occurred Oct. 30, 1792). They were daughters of Arnold Knight, of Buslingthorpe, co. Lincoln, by his wife Anne, daughter of Marmaduke Anne, of Frickley Hall and Burghwallis Hall, co. York, Esq., and sister of Dame Elizabeth Anselma Anne above. Their grandmother Elizabeth Anne, née Plumpton, married 2ndly William Knight (vide C.R.S. vol. iv.), who subsequently resided at Frickley Hall. Their brother Alexander Knight settled at Sixhills Grange, co. Lincoln, and was the father of Sir Arnold James Knight, M.D., whose son Edmund became bishop of Shrewsbury in 1879. Dame Elizabeth Anne-Joseph was professed in 1765, came over with the community to Woolton, and died at Salford, March 2, 1813.

Dame Elizabeth Anne Teresa Partington, born in 1744, was prof. 1775, daughter of Thomas Partington, of Walton-le-Dale, co. Lancaster, and first cousin to Dom John Basil Brindle, O.S.B., and his sister Dame Ellen Mary Placid Brindle, O.S.B., of Paris, came with the community to Woolton, and died at Salford, Sept. 4, 1820. She was sister to Dame Mary Benedicta below.

Sister Magdalen Kimberley, lay-sister, born in 1745 at Hutington [?], co. Bucks, professed 1767, accompanied the community to England, and died at Woolton, June 17, 1802.

Sister Anne Scholastica Caton, born 1749, was daughter of John Caton, of Broughton, near Preston, co. Lancaster, yeoman, and his wife Anne Gregson, both of very good Catholic families. Her brother, the Rev. Thomas Caton, died at Cottam, the ancient seat of the Haydocks, in 1826, aged 70. She returned to England with the community, and died at Salford, Feb. 13, 1830.

Dame Mary Benedicta Partington, born 1751, prof. 1772, sister of Elizabeth above, came over with the community, and died at Salford, Dec. 28, 1826.

Dame Margaret Bernarda Barnewall, born in Dublin in 1756, of an ancient Irish family, after her release from prison obtained permission to join the Trappistines, and died at the convent at Stapehill, co. Dorset, Aug. 20, 1835.

Sister Martha Fryar, lay-sister, born at Winchester, co. Hants, in 1761, returned to England with the community, and died at Salford, Jan. 2, 1825.

Dame Martha Agnes Robinson, born at Lisbon in 1761, of a good English family having associations with Lisbon, prof. 1781, after her release from prison came over with the community, was abbess 1806–14, and again 1818–22, and died at Salford, June 11, 1830.

Dame Anne Mary Teresa Shepherd, born at Sefton in 1762, prof. 1782, came of the very highly respected Lancashire Catholic family noted in C.R.S. vol. vi. p. 112. After her return to England she was abbess at Woolton 1802–6, and died at Salford, June 12, 1809.

Dame Helen Augustina Shepherd, sister to above, born in 1764, prof. 1783, came over with the community to Woolton, was abbess 1814–18, and died at Salford, Feb. 12, 1818.

Sister Jane Josepha Miller, lay-sister, born 1766, was daughter of Joseph Miller, of Cottam, co. Lancaster, by Agnes, daughter of Ralph ffidler, of ffidlers in Lea, and his wife Jennet, daughter of Robert Haydock, of Leach Hall in Bartell. The Millers had long been tenants of the Haydocks of Cottam Hall, and from them was descended Bishop John Milner, V.A.–M.D., who reverted to the ancient spelling of his name. She was clothed at Cambrai, and after her release from prison accompanied the nuns to Woolton, where she was prof. in March, and died July 15, 1796.

Dom George Augustine Walker, born in 1720, son of George Walker, yeoman, who in 1717 was residing in Aspull, co. Lancaster, and as a Catholic non-juror registered a house at Deane, to which subsequently he must have removed, as his son declares he was born there. He was professed at Paris in 1743, and became president-general of the English Benedictine Congregation in 1777, an office which he held till death in the prison at Compiègne, Jan. 13, 1794. When the Revolution had commenced he took upon himself to be vicar of the nuns at Cambrai in 1790, and went to prison with them.

Dom James Higginson, born at Standish in 1764, son of a tenant of the Dicconsons, of Wrightington Hall, was professed at the Benedictine Monastery at Douay in 1785, became socius to Fr. Walker at Cambrai in 1792, and died on the mission at Birtley, co. Durham, Dec. 13, 1835.

[There are at Stanbrook two manuscripts in different handwriting, but evidently of nearly the same date, giving the following "Narrative" with scarcely an alteration of a word. One is signed by the writer, Dame Ann Teresa Partington, and is the more valuable of the two, being quite original. At Stonyhurst there is another manuscript copy of this same, bound up with other matter. The nuns at Stanbrook, having some years ago collated its text with their own manuscripts, found hardly any difference in words, save just improvements in style here and there. One important omission in their manuscripts was found supplied in the Stonyhurst MS., i.e. the name of Dame Margaret Burgess, the fourth of the Community who fell a victim to prison hardship, expiring there on April 3, 1794. Though no doubt ever existed as to this fact, the Stanbrook nuns were glad to find the missing name. Evidently it had escaped the memory of Dame Ann Teresa Partington when writing her Narrative under difficulties; the later date, April 3*rd, separating*

D. Margaret's fate from that of the other three nuns in January and February. D. Margaret's name is in the Necrology, and her death register, made by the prison authorities, is given above. The date at which the Narrative was written was evidently 1796, or early in 1797. This manuscript was of very great value in the Process of the Blessed Carmelite Martyrs of Compiègne.]

A Brief Narrative of the Seizure of the Benedictine Dames of Cambray, of their Sufferings while in the hands of the French Republicans, and of their arrival in England. By one of the religious, who was an eyewitness to the events She relates.

[Signed] Ann Teresa Partington.

In the Summer of the Year 1793, the allied armies being near the gates of Cambray, the Religious were repeatedly ordered in the most threatening manner by the District of Cambray to lay in provisions for Six months against the Siege that was then expected to take place. They accordingly provided themselves with such a Stock of Necessaries as their finances would allow them to purchase. From the commencement of the unhappy troubles, they had been constantly alarmed, by the visits, or decrees of the Agents in the Revolution who were no where more outrageous than at Cambray. But the Nuns not being conscious of having given any offence were willing to flatter themselves that they were in some safety. However on Sunday October 13th 1793 the District of Cambray sent four of their Creatures to fix the public Seal on the papers and effects belonging to the Nuns. These Commissioners arrived at the Convent about half past eight at night. The Religious were retired to their Cells having to rise at Midnight to perform their Matins Office so that it was some minutes before Lady Abbess Lucy Blyde could open the Inclosure Door; at which they seemed displeased. The Very Revd Mr. Walker, who out of a motive of charity assisted the Nuns as their Spiritual Director; was only just recovering from a very dangerous illness and was in bed, but on hearing what was going forward got up and came into the Convent.

All the Nuns being assembled, one of the men who seemed the most cruel of the Company read a very long paper the purport of which was that all the Effects belonging to the Nuns were confiscated to the Nation. Mr. Walker began to expostulate with them, but their brutality soon silenced him. They then proceeded to fix the seals on all the Books, papers, &c., belonging to the Lady Abbess and Dame Procuratrix Dame A. T. Partington, threatening them all the while how severely they should be punished in case they concealed the smallest article of their property. Having secured everything, they told the Nuns that they were now prisoners, and then they wrote a long account of their proceeding, at the close of which they added by the desire of the Community that the religious wished to remain prisoners in their Convent under a Guard rather than be removed to any other place of confinement. This paper the Lady Abbess and Procuratrix signed. They went out of the Monastery about Eleven o'clock to put the public Seals on everything in the outward buildings and apartments one of which was appointed for the use of the Confessor, this they did with the utmost Severity. They then arrested the Rev^d^ Mess^rs^ Walker and Higginson, the last mentioned was a young religious man who in consideration of the age and declining health of the former had been some months before appointed to assist him. To prevent them from having any Conversation with the Nuns they took them away instantly. It was near Twelve when the Guards conducted them to prison. Mr. Walker was quite broken with age and infirmity. The Nuns had the affliction of seeing all that passed from their adjoining Convent. They thought they were dragging them to prison for immediate execution, but Providence kindly reserved them to be their Support in another place of Suffering. What the religious felt on the occasion may be better imagined than expressed.

That Night they confined them in the Town house. Next morning they were removed to the Bishop's Seminary which formerly belonged to the Jesuits but was then turned into what they called a Maison de Detention. There they remained till the 20^th^ of Nov^r^ 1793, deprived of the most common Necessaries. They were once, a day and a half, without any other food than one bit of Bread. They began to suspect that their death was to be effected by their being left to Starve. No one durst serve them with Victuals. They wrote to many Inn keepers and assured them of immediate payment for the scanty Sustinence they asked for, but so hateful was the name of a Priest in Cambray, and the people so terrified at what they saw going on, that no answer was ever returned. They could not prevail even with a Barber to venture to attend them. At length a good woman Marie Demal who had lived Servant with the Nuns, hearing of their distress, had the courage to visit them instantly and in spite of every danger and difficulty provided Victuals for them the best she could get. She continued her charitable assistance till they were removed to Compiegne. Mr. Walker frequently said afterwards that she had saved his life.

But to return to the Nuns. From the moment the Commissioners from the District entered their house on Sunday Night, they found themselves Strictly Guarded, but they were still made to hope that they might remain in their Convent as they had desired, even some of the members of the District assured them in the most Solemn Manner that there was no danger of their being (?) from it. That this was all treachery the Nuns were afterwards well assured—for the day after this Solemn promise had been made them, Friday the 18^th^ of Oct^r^ 1793, they were seized upon by a body of light horse Guards, part of whom surrounded the Street Door whilst the rest entered into their Convent with a crowd of blackguards at their heels. A very brutal Man sent by the District of Cambray was at their Head. When he came up to the Inclosure Door his first question was, have you laid in a provision for Six months. On being assured that that had been done, he seemed for an instant at a loss what to say, but after a short pause he gave orders that the Nuns should be totally out of their house in half a quarter of an hour and that they should take neither Trunk nor Box with them. He only allowed each one of them a small bundle. His figure and manner of speaking appeared so savage and insulting that the Nuns were in the Greatest Terror, so that amidst the hurry and Confusion of so sudden a Calamity overwhelmed with sorrow at being thus turned out of their beloved abode, and for want of sufficient time to make up their bundles, many of the Nuns went away with only the Clothes they had on. At this afflicting moment, the future want of every necessary found no place in their Minds—they were Stupified with grief. The Procuratrix, however, petitioned to carry off a small Book where was written a few memorandums very useful to her, but the Ill natured Man to whom she addressed herself wrested the Book from her hands telling her at the same time to fetch Brandy for the Hussars, which she instantly was obliged to do, while the barbarous man was running about the house with a club in his hand ready to make any one feel the weight of it who did not make haste to be gone. Thus in less than half an hour they were completely turned out of their whole property without being able to learn from any one what was to be their fate. They thought Death would soon have followed and expected every moment to see the fatal Gullotine.

In the Street they found one coach and two carts, each of them Strongly Guarded by a detachment of Hussars on horseback with Naked Swords. The Nuns were soon hurried away—the Hussars seemed much displeased at this barbarous usage. Some of them Shed Tears, and on the way with the most feeling compasion, They even lent their Cloaks to those of the religious who were in the uncovered Carts to keep them from Starving. Through the whole dismal journey of five days, they did all they could to soften the hardships they saw the Nuns exposed to on all Sides, but it was not in their power to hinder the populace from loading the religious with insulting language wherever they past. Besides when the Nuns arrived in any Town to pass the Night they were guarded by the Soldiers who did duty at the prison in which they happened to be lodged; among them they met with a variety of insults, insomuch that they always dreaded the approach of Night. The Nuns were Twenty in number and a Novice upon probation when they were expelled from their Convent (Viz)

The Hussars who Conducted them did not at first know whither the Nuns were to be taken. They were Strangers to the Country; had been sent for from some distance for the grand purpose of carrying Prisoners from Cambray. They received orders every Night how they were to proceed the following day. At last the Nuns found that the appointed place of their Captivity was Compiegne where, being at a distance from every friend, they must have little, or no hope of recovering any part of their large property.

The first Night, Friday, they were lodged in a very ruinous place at Bapaume; it had the appearance of having been a Convent, it was almost destroyed, the Windows all broken &c: The violence of the rabble was so great here, that the Nuns were very happy to be taken out of the Carts into any place like a house. The Mayor of this Town was a native of Cambray and was well known to the Nuns, one of his Sisters having had her education among them, but he now knew nothing of them nor showed them any favour. He was highly displeased at their being in the religious dress, and said the people of Cambray had acted against the Law by not making them Shun a dress which the law had prescribed.

The jailor of this prison seemed a quiet man, and his Daughter was so kind as to buy the Nuns two faggots, some very Brown Bread, and a kettle of boiling water. They made Tea, but Sugar and milk were delicates not to be thought of, or at least not to be had. They were so exhausted with grief, and the fatigue they had gone through that day, that most of them could not eat the Bread. They laid their wearied bodies on the floor, and they spread a few bundels they had brought with them to Stretch their limbs upon, and even in this State they were frequently disturbed by the Guards looking through the broken Windows.

The next night (Saturday) they past at Peronne in the Citidal. Here they were Guarded by the National Troops, whose brutality can hardly be described. Nothing could be more disagreeable than their language and behaviour. A Woman who appeared to belong to one of them molested the Nuns by every means she could. However amongst all this cruel treatment They had the comfort to meet with some friends. A Woman whose Father in better times had been employed by the Nuns had the courage to make her way to them in the Prison. She and her Husband bought for them Bread, small Beer and a few Boiled Eggs, which was really a treat. Some of the Nuns had eat nothing for two days. Here they found a few Bed-stocks full of dirty straw, on which the Soldiers had Slept apparently for some months. The Nuns for a time were much afraid of the consequence they might procure by lying down upon it: at last excessive weariness overcame that difficulty, but there was no rest to be found in this place of horror, the Soldiers were passing to and fro the greater part of the Night, even through the room which had been assigned to the Nuns. Next morning by the favour of an Irish Lady, who was there in Arrestation, the Nuns had one cup of Tea before the Hussars came to summon them to continue their tedious Journey.

On Sunday Night they rested at Ham. On their arrival there was, as they expected, a great Stir among the rabble, each one crying out Aristocrates to the Guillotine, but this Language was become so familiar to the Nuns, that it had lost much of the effect it had at first. The Prison they were lodged in being at the Skirts of the Town they got out of the Carts with fewer of the Mob attending them than usual. Not to be insulted to a great degree now seemed a favour. The Governor of this place happened to be in Town, an humane Man. He gave orders that the Nuns should have a room to themselves and allowed them clean straw, which was Spread all over the floor. They were happy to lye down upon it, and the Night passed without any noise or Interruption. They were also permitted to buy a Candle, and, what was more to their purpose, something to eat. Next morning the Governor call[d] upon them and on parting with them recommended himself to their prayers. They attributed this shew of kindness to the good will of a poor woman, who had the care of the prison. She had lived at Cambray, in the neighbourhood of the Nuns, and she seemed to be much affected on seeing them in their present distress. It gave her particular concern to see them go in Carts, while all the other prisoners (a few men excepted) were carried in Coaches to their several destinations. She thought as every one did, that the Nuns were exposed in Carts for no other end, than that they might be the more insulted.

Monday Night they stopt at Noyon. It is impossible to describe the fright they were in on their arrival there: the Carts had no sooner Stop't in the Market place, than thousands of people assembled in the most riotous manner around them. For Nuns to appear in the religious Dress was at that time the worst of crimes. Some talked of tearing them to pieces, others said they would bury them alive with their prescribed Dress. The Hussars repeatedly endeavoured to speak in their favour but so great was the Noise and the tumult among the populace, which in a Short time had increased to a dreadful number, that not a word could be heard. Not only the streets, but the windows and the tops of some houses, were full of Spectators. The Hussars finding it impossible to keep any order, Sent for the Soldiers quartered in the Town, by whose assistance the Nuns were at last taken out of the Carts, half dead with fear, after having been detained in the Market place near an hour, amidst a variety of the most outrageous insults and threats. One instance alone may shew the Temper of the people in their regard; one of the Nuns Mary T. Shepherd when she was taken out of the cart being Scarcely able to stand fell against the horse which was at side of her. The Beast immediately Struck her at which the rabble set up the most insulting Shouts, and clap'd their hands for joy.

The Soldiers, who came to assist the Hussars, guarded the Nuns that Night, were extremely civil to them; one of them, a very young man, wept most bitterly out of compassion; they conducted them to a decent Inn instead of the common prison, and they allowed them to call for whatever they could pay for. Two Officers took particular care of them, the younger of whom for a time could not refrain from Tears. The head Officer of the Hussars came twice to the Inn to see them, but Nothing could revive their Spirits. The thought that they must again be exposed on the Carts, was too distressing to admit of any Comfort. Their kindness, however, was a great alleviation of the pungent grief and distress of the Nuns. It is three Years since these scenes of horror happened, yet the writer of this declares that her Blood Chills whenever she thinks of that dreadful day: Those who have experienced such distress will excuse her for expressing herself so feelingly on this Subject.

Gratitude to a merciful providence over us in all our distress prompts me to remark here, that tho the Mob said everything Shocking—and Surrounded us on every Side, as if to tear us into a thousand pieces, and on one occasion cut off a piece of one of our Veils—Yet not one of them laid a hand upon any of us. And in every place some were found who shed Tears of Compassion over us.

The Nuns left Noyon about Nine on Tuesday morning. They had covered their Veils with coloured Handkerchiefs and disguised themselves as much as they could in order to appear as they sat in the Cart like the French Villagers, who wear no Hats. This precaution was of some service, for on the road the people seemed at a loss what to make of them.

About four in the afternoon, the Nuns arrived at Compiegne and there the Hussars left them, after having said much in their favour to the Mayor, and two other Members of the District, who came attended by the National Guards to receive the Prisoners.

The Hussars were Natives of Normandy, most of them Young Men, about nineteen or twenty Years of age. The Nuns were the more surprised at their civility, as they were gidy and very profane in their Language to one an other.

The prisoners brought from Cambray to Compiegne at that time were fifty-two in Number, the Nuns included. They were all confined in one house; it had been a Convent formerly belonging to the Nuns of the Visitation, but was then a common prison. The Gentlemen of the District of Compiegne very frequently Visited the prison; when they called upon the Nuns they asked them a hundred questions, but upon the whole they behaved with civility. The Procurator Sindic, seeing them half Starving, had the goodness to write twice to Cambray to desire the Municipality of that City to return Some part of their wearing apparel, but they sent None. The Nuns had a room assigned to them in the Infirmary of the Convent; the adjoining apartments were occupied by prisoners of all ranks and descriptions, their Number increased daily, they were chiefly from Cambray and its environs. Whole families were sometimes brought up at once. It seems this place had been fixed upon in preference to Cambray because it was more within the reach of the assassins of Paris, who were then deluging the streets of that Capital, with human Blood.

On the 25 of November 1793 a great number of prisoners were brought from Cambray, among whom were The Rev[d] Mess[rs] Walker, the Young Priest his Assistant, and the Hon[ble] Tho[s] Roper.* It is not easy to express what the religious felt when Mr Walker appeared as they had not the least reason to hope of ever seeing him again. He also seemed much affected. The pleasure of seeing him, was however greatly allayed by orders which were immediately given that he should by no means come near the Nuns. One of the members of the District

* Though Henry Roper, the 8th Lord Teynham, through fear conformed to the Anglican Establishment when the Chevalier de St. George raised his standard in 1715, members of this hitherto staunch Catholic family continued to hold the Faith for long afterwards. The Hon. Thomas Roper was a younger son of Henry, 10th Lord Teynham, and was a relative of the Sheldon nuns at Cambrai.

having observed to his colleagues that if he was allowed to visit the Nuns some part of religious worship might probably be kept up among them, which he said, they were bound to root out entirely. For a time, the Nuns saw him seldom and always with fear and great apprehension. I have reason to think, that it cost him a great deal to be obliged to pass his time with a set of men whose manners and conversation were shocking to common decency.

Soon after this the very man who had with a club in his hand turned the Nuns out of their Convent at Cambray was sent after them to prison. He was removed to Paris soon after, where, it was said, he lost his Head. Such was the fate of many who had been particularly active in promoting the unhappy Revolution.

For a time the gaol allowance was a pound of Bread for each person per day, and one good meal, the expense of which was to be defrayed by the prisoners jointly, the rich paying for the poor, and strict orders were frequently given that EQUALITY should be observed, according to the new Republican law. That no one might escape unnoted the prisoners were called over twice every day.

About the beginning of January 1794 most of the Nuns fell sick. Eight or nine were confined to their beds at the same time, and the rest so much indisposed, as to be scarcely able to help their dying Sisters. A good woman who sold milk to the prisoners took great compassion of them, and came to assist them, but in a short time fell dangerously ill herself: this unfortunate accident made others afraid to come near them. The disorder was a Fever proceeding (as the Doctor said) from great hardships and chagrin. They had still only one room for the whole Community (twenty-one in number), several of whom were now drawing near their end. Every one seemed to pity them, but the fever beginning to spread among the prisoners, each one feared for himself. Upon this it was thought proper to allow the Nuns a small adjoining room, and the prisoners in general, who were about an hundred and sixty, were permitted to walk in the garden, a favour which had not been allowed them before. The windows in the Nuns room were unnailed that they might open them for a little fresh air, but it was the middle of Winter, and the weather so very damp and wet, that this allowance was of no avail to them.

On the 12th of January, about 2 o'clock in the morning, Mr. Walker found himself very Ill, but would not disturb Mr. Higginson till the usual hour of rising. Among the prisoners was a Doctor [Dufeuille] from Cambray, which was a fortunate circumstance for all the sick. He was called about 7 o'clock and declared Mr. Walker's case to be dangerous. He grew worse fast, so as to alarm every one, for the prisoners all esteemed him. He fell into his agony in the evening, and expired near 2 o'clock, having been ill only twenty-four hours. It was thought by some to be the Gout at his Stomach that so suddenly hurried him off, but the Doctor always affirmed, that the many hardships he had undergone, and the want of necessaries requisite to a person of his age and weak health, had not a little contributed to his death. Many of the Nuns were at that time too ill to be informed of this catastrophe, but the distress of the few who were informed of it was great beyond expression. The circumstances the religious were then in made his loss to be severely felt, and long deeply regretted by the nuns. He had for some years past been as a Father, and an exemplary friend, to each of them, having remained with them by choice in the hardest of times, even when his life was in danger, and when he might have lived comfortably in England. During his long confinement he was never heard to let fall one word of complaint, tho' few had suffered so much as he. He died as he had lived, a good religious man. The writer of this well remembers that sorrowful day. He had lived 73 years, during twenty of these he had resided at Rome, and had received distinguishing tokens of esteem from his present Holyness Pius the VI. The last 17 years of his life he had with great credit to himself held the office of President-General of the English Congregation of the Order of St. Bennet.

Next morning, January 14th, while Mr. Walker's corpse was still in the prison, Dame Anselm Ann died, aged 79. On the 21st of the same month, Dame Walmesley breathed her last, aged 55. About the end of the same month Ann Pinnington, a lay-sister, who till then had been of the greatest service about the sick, fell dangerously ill. Her disorder was a gangrene in her arm which from the first threatened her life. Nothing could be had in the prison proper to apply to it, nor would the Commissioner who was over them that day, tho' he was in the prison and thoroughly informed of the nature of the disorder, allow anything to be procured from the town, so that twenty four hours had elapsed before anything material was done. In the meantime the mortification had spread prodigiously and her life was despaired of. She expired on the 6th of Feb. about three o'clock in the morning aged 60.

Towards the beginning of March the same year, the surviving Nuns began to recover tho' but very slowly.

The District of Compiegne now began to treat the prisoners with great severity—very many had been sent from Cambray. The District had seized all their property, but would allow nothing towards keeping them from starving. On the 6th of March three of the Members of the District of Compiegne came to the prison escorted by a detachment of the National Guards. The prisoners were all ordered to assemble in one large room, some of the Nuns were still confined by sickness so that only a part of them could attend—all the prisoners stood like condemned criminals. The Procurator-Sindic made a long harangue putting them in mind that they had hitherto been served with one meal per day, but that nothing had been paid for so liberal a treatment (as he called it). That the people of Compiegne were resolved to reimburse themselves one way or other. The prisoners alleged that they had already been stript of everything and their houses plundered, that to think of forcing more from them was cruel in the extreme. These expostulations, true as they really were, had no effect. The Procurator-Sindick again and again told them that if the sum of . . . french livres was not collected amongst them and sent to the District before 10 o'clock next morning they should be punished with the greatest severity. The prisoners being by no means able to furnish the sum demanded, they were on the 11th. of March stinted to coarse brown bread and water. Many of the Nuns were still unwell when this severe order took place, some of them were even confined to their beds. Six red herrings, which they happened to have when this command was given out was all they had for three days, not being allowed to buy anything, not even a little salt. A surgeon of Compiegne, who had attended some of the Nuns, was so compassionate as to go himself to the District when the Members were assembled to beg as a favour they would permit a little broth to be sent to Dame Alexander who was near 80 years old, and had been confined to her bed about 6 weeks of a fever which terminated in an hectic fever and an imposthume. He was refused, on which as they were told tears gushed into his eyes. Be that as it may, all that the Nuns got by the charity of this good man, was a heap of compliments of condolence from the Mayor, and from some of the Magistrates, but they gave us nothing.

Their wants growing every day greater, they applied to some of the inhabitants of Compiegne for needlework, but the windows of the room they occupied being most part blockaded, little could be done materially to mend their condition. In order to raise money to buy bread they contrived privately to sell, tho' at a vast loss, a few gold crosses etc which they happened to have about them when they were taken from Cambray.

The Magistrates of Compiegne, finding that nothing could be got from the District of Cambray, were every day more and more importunate with the prisoners for money, which they had not to give. One day they came to take away their beds, which consisted of each a matress and one blanket; a charitable friend gave them money to leave the Nuns theirs a month longer, at the expiration of which they came again & made ye same bustle, but another friend promised to pay for them a month longer, and thus they went on, always under the apprehension of being obliged to lye on a few locks of straw.

On the 17 of May, 1794, at 8 o'clock in the morning, about 20 Members of the District of Compiegne, and six or seven of Robespierre's creatures from Arras, came to the prison escorted by 120 Guards. The prisoners were instantly ordered each one to their own quarters, and a Guard posted at every door in the prison. A soldier with a drawn sword was also stationed within the Nuns' room and strictly ordered to take care the Nuns did not open a window nor leave the room for a moment, and above all that they burnt no papers. Some of the Nuns turned pale and almost fainted, which the Mayor observing, he, with his usual good nature towards them, ordered the Guard to sheath his sword. An officer soon after made his round, and asked the Guard in anger, why he had not his sword drawn. He told him, the Nuns were affraid, at which the officer began to scoff and said something about the guillotine, and with horrid imprecations commanded the Guard to draw his. This made the Nuns more affraid. While they were in this situation, from time to time they heard the jailer call the prisoners one at a time, the men first and then the women, to a lower room, but no one returned. The Nuns durst not speak to each other for fear of the Guard. After they had been in the most cruel suspense about nine hours, the Nuns were called down, it was then 5 in the evening. Before they got half way down the stairs, counter orders were given, and one of the Nuns, Dame A. Robinson, who could speak french, was ordered down. The Nuns therefore returned with a Guard, and only this young religious was conducted to the room below. The Commissioners immediately began to search her pockets, but the Mayor checked them, so that they were not so insolent to her as they had been to others. Nothing of value being found about them, they were dismissed, and the whole tribe of rough fellows, about thirty in number, came up with them to the room where the Nuns all were. One of them (who was a fallen priest) could speak a little English. He was a busy man on this occasion, and was the orator. He addressed the Nuns in a manner which seemed the most proper to terrify them, innumerating the punishments that would certainly be inflicted upon them if they concealed either writing or anything of value from them. The Procuratrix produced the little paper money they had, and laid it before them. The Nuns in general assured them that all their writings had been taken from them at Cambray. After asking many questions and talking in a low voice to each other, they withdrew, leaving the money upon the table, which however, the Nuns durst not touch. They then proceeded to search all the prisoners beds, men and women, pulling the straw and everything else about the room. They took everything of value, such a trifle as a silver thimble did not escape them. In the course of this examination they pulled the womens caps off their heads (some of them were ladies of quality), unpinned their gowns, and searched them in the most cruel manner. If they found a crucifix or a reliquary of gold or silver they took it, if it was of a baser metal, they broke it and sometimes gave the bits to the owner. From the Hon. Thos Roper and Revd James Higginson, who were our companions in prison, they took everything they could find (viz. a metal watch and two beautiful gold repeating watches which had formerly belonged to the Rev Fathers Walker and Welch—this last mentioned gentleman had ended his life with the Nuns at Cambray during the early part of the Revolution.*

Having stript the other prisoners of everything of value, they were returning to the Nuns' room, when one of the prisoners addressed the Mayor as follows: Surely sir, you are not going to search those poor Nuns a second time. You know how barbarously they were used by the people of Cambray, and at present you are well assured that they live in the greatest poverty, having only the poor pittance which they gain by their needle to maintain them. The Mayor seemed to be pleased with the person who spoke in their favour, and after a short pause turned off, called the Guard out of the Nuns' room, and soon after went out of the prison attended by the Administrators of the District (as they called themselves) and the Guards. This was one of the most suffering days we ever passed, tho' in those times of universal terror the Nuns experienced many sorrowful ones.

The prisoners from the time I am speaking of were treated with greater severity than they had ever been before. They were in the greatest distress, some of them passed days and weeks with no other food than bread & water, and few of the prisoners at Compiegne entertained a hope of escaping a public execution, yet this seemed to have no effect on their morals, for they were for the most part very ill livers, tho' few days passed but one or other of them was taken out of the Compiegne prison & thrown into the dungeon to be ready for execution. Here some of them remained till the death of Roberspierre, others were carried to Paris, and an end put to their existence by the fatal guillotine.

About the middle of June, 1794, sixteen Carmelite Nuns were brought to the prison and lodged in a room which faced that which was occupied by us. They were very strictly guarded. They had not been long there before they were, without any previous notice, hurried off to Paris for no other crime than that an emigrant priest, who had been their Confesser, had written to one of them. In this letter a Bishop, who was also an emigrant, had unfortunately desired his Comp^{ts} to an old gentleman who was cousin to the Nun to whom the letter was directed. He was a man of great property, a crime not easily overlooked in those days. This Venerable person was carried to Paris with the Nuns. A servant who attended him seemed ready to die of grief, and the good old man shed tears at the parting.

The Carmelite Nuns quitted the Compiegne prison in the most saint-like manner. We saw them embrace each other before they set off, and they took an affectionate leave of us by the motion of their hands & other friendly gestures. On their way to the scaffold, and upon the scaffold itself, as we were told by an eye-witness of credit Monsieur Douai, they shewed a firmness and a cheerful composure which nothing but a spotless conscience and a joyful hope can inspire. It was reported that they sung or said aloud the Litany of the Blessed Virgin untill the fatal axe interrupted the voice of the last of them. They suffered on the 16th of July, the feast of their patronness Our Lady of Mount Carmel, 1794. One of this holy community happened to be absent when the rest were taken to Paris. She concealed herself in different places till the death of the tyrant Roberspierre, which happened on the 28th of July 1794. When this monster was removed she returned to her friends in Compiegne-& frequently visited us in prison. She gave us the names and the ages of her Sisters who were put to death, they are as follows.

One of this community was Novice and two others were portresses or extern Lay-sisters.

On the 28th of July 1794, the same year, the tyranny of Robespierre, eight days after the Carmelites, met its deserved fate at Paris, by his being overthrown and guillotined with 20 of his infamous adherents —the populace insulted them in the most abusive manner.

Two or three days after the Carmelites were taken to Paris, the Mayor and two Members of the District of Compiegne called upon us in the prison, we were still in our religious dress which he had frequently wished us to change, but we always alleged that we really had not money sufficient to furnish ourselves with any other clothes than the ragged habits we then wore. The same day he returned to us again, called two of the Nuns aside, and told them that they must put off that uniform, as he called it, that he durst no longer permit them to wear that prohibited dress, that should the people grow riotous we should be more easily concealed in any other dress than in the religious one. The truth was he expected like the Carmelites we should soon be conducted to Paris for execution, and he was affraid he might be put to trouble if we were found in the religious garb. Being again assured that we had not money to purchase other clothes, he went himself to the room which the good Carmelites had inhabited while in prison and brought some of the poor clothes they had left behind them there. These he gave to us, telling us to put them on as soon as possible. We were in great want of shoes, the Mayor civilly said he would get us what we wanted, but one of the jailers bluntly told the Procuratrix we should not want shoes long. On leaving the room the Mayor turned to Mr. Higginson and said, Take care of your companions—as much as to tell him, Prepare them for death, for he had nothing else in his power as the Mayor well knew.

The next day the news became public that the poor Carmelites had been all guillotined. The old clothes which before appeared of small value were now so much esteemed by us that we thought ourselves unworthy to wear them, but forced by necessity, we put them on, and those clothes constituted the greatest part of the mean apparel which we had on at our return to England. We still keep them—a few articles excepted, which we have given to particular friends.

The prisoners at Compiegne were still importuned to pay off the old debt (as they called it) for the allowance of one meal per day which had formerly been given them but which had long since been withdrawn, insomuch that during many months before we had leave to quit this tedious confinement we had not even bread given us unless we could pay for it.

The two last months of the year 1794 and the beginning of the year 1795 being extremely severe, we had a great deal to suffer from wants of various kinds, especially from want of fuel, as no one had a sufficient quantity of clothes to keep herself (tho' the youngest of us) moderately warm. The room we inhabited was large and very cold, but no entreaties could obtain more than one single blanket for each Nun. The scarcity of provisions also encreased in a dreadful manner. Bread was so hard to be got that no one inhabitant of the town was permitted to purchase more than a certain fixed allowance which made a very scanty portion. Guards were placed at every baker's shop, and in their prescence the bread was weighed out to each one his pittance till the whole poor stock was distributed, but commonly there was not a sufficient quantity of it to supply more than half the people who were expecting to have a little, so that no day passed without some tumult in the town. The bread for the most part was of the very worst and most disgusting quality, yet we thought ourselves very fortunate when we could buy a sufficient quantity of it. Very frequently when we had finished one poor meal we had not a morsel left for the next.

The English throughout every part of France had more than once petitioned for some mitigation of their sufferings and some of them had, with becoming freedom, pointed out the absurdity of detaining in confinement so many innocent sufferers, for the apprehension of whom there had never existed a pretence of justice. At last it was decreed that all foreigners should have an allowance of two livres paper money per day. Bread was then sold at 3 livres per pound. This allowance besides its being irregularly paid was utterly insufficient to subsist upon in the state in which France then was, paper money being then reduced to a very low rate there. We received this allowance for the first time on the 23rd of Dec. 1794. It was then counted to make the value of twopence halfpenny or at most three pence per day English money.

Some months after this, the prisoners began to be treated with more lenity than they had yet experienced. The Hon^{ble} Tho^{s} Roper & the Rev. James Higginson had liberty to go into the town. This was of great service to us. Mr. Roper showed himself indefatigable in using every means possible to procure victuals and fuel for us. He carried the wood himself and ran from shop to shop to buy us bread. But notwithstanding this seeming liberty, the prison was still very disagreeable. Tho' the soldiers had no longer power to command us as formerly, yet the door to the street was open night & day, so that it was scarcely possible to step out of our room without meeting a crowd, one part of the prison being turned into a guard-house all came in & went out as they pleased. The garden too was always taken up by the soldiers and the rabble.

About this time the Convention frequently ordered the prisoners of war to be sent from one town to another to show them to the people. When those bodies of prisoners passed through Compiegne, they were always lodged in our prison, & nothing distressed us more during the whole of our confinement than on such occasions to meet with brave Englishmen in want of the most common necessaries of life & to see them treated with the greatest scorn & contempt by the most despicable of the French Jacobins, who were quite elated to have an English soldier under their feet. Whenever these prisoners arrived all was noise & confusion & we expected nothing less than to see the house on fire, the weather being remarkably cold they burnt everything they could lay their hands on.

Seeing no prospect to the end of their miseries in this unhappy country in which we were confined, & provisions growing so scarce and dear that it became quite out of our power to procure them, we at last resolved to apply to Paris for passports to return to our native country. The Mayor of Compiegne privately advised us to take this step & assured us of his assistance. Accordingly a petition was drawn up & signed by the whole Community. The Mayor forwarded it to the Convention at Paris and seconded it by a letter in our favour. About ten days after, our liberty was announced to us by the District of Compiegne. After this we contrived to borrow (the good Carmelite above mentioned assisting us) sacred vessels & ornaments that we might have the happiness of hearing one Mass, the only one we had during our eighteen months confinement, & we were in the greatest fear the whole time of it.

In order to raise the necessary supplies for our journey, we contrived privately to draw money from England, though at a great loss, by the way of Hambourg. A charitable gentleman, the present Edw[d] Constable of Burton, Esq. had two years before given us leave to call upon him for money what we might want in case we came to be in distress which he seemed to foresee would happen. The horses being for the most part taken for the army, we found it very difficult to get carts to transport us to Calais. After many delays, [and] a great deal of trouble and expense, the whole Community left Compiegne on the 24th of April, 1795 in two carts, four of the eldest Nuns having gone off before in a coach. We were in the prison at Compiegne 18 months & 5 days. In our journey we made Cambray in our way, but had not courage enough to cast a passing glance at our dear Convent, which from the time we were driven out had been turned into a common gaol, (it was then in a most ruinous condition), out of which very many had been dragged to the guillotine—in one day 25 persons were dragged to the market-place in Cambray and there guillotined, among whom was a most pious and learned priest, Mr. Tranchant (who had frequently sung Mass in our church). He was saying Mass in his own house & his niece serving, they were immediately hurried to prison not allowing him time to take off his vestments.

We found that all our houses & effects had been publicly sold, but had not been paid for. We were also informed that our enemies had made the common people believe that the prevailing scarcity was greatly to be attributed to the English Nuns having amassed such quantities of provisions. This was made an accusation against us by the very people who had ordered us to prepare provisions against a siege or to be expelled the town. The Rev. James Higginson went six or seven times to the Town House thinking to expostulate with the District upon their cruel behaviour, and to assure them that one time or other we should call them to account, but he was refused entrance. Finding therefore nothing could be done, the Community followed Lady Abbess and three old religious, who as I said before set off from Compiegne a few days before us. We found them at Calais where they had been some days, we rested one night, and the next morning, May 2nd, the whole Community sailed from Calais in a Danish vessel, Captain Johnson. We happily landed at Dover the same evening in number sixteen religious, the Rev. James Higginson & Mr. Roper. The next day being a Sunday, we rested at Dover, and reached London about 10 o'clock on Monday night May 4th. We remained at the Golden Cross, Charing Cross London, till Wednesday 6th, when the charitable Marchioness of Buckingham,* hearing that our situation was exceeding unpleasant at a common Inn, sent her chaplain, a clergyman of the Established Church, to inform us that she had provided a house at the West end of the town during our stay in London. Here she was the first to visit us, affording us every comfort in her power; and the respectable clergyman above mentioned copied the example of his noble patroness. We experienced many instances of civility & kindness during our stay in London, for several of which we are indebted to persons unknown to us, but the Blessed Redeemer of man, who has promised to repay a cup of cold water given in alms for His sake, will not suffer their charity to go unrewarded. Gratitude obliges me to mention here one friend in particular, Mr. Coghlan,† bookseller, who though a person in business and possessed of no great riches, yet rendered us most substantial services. It was he who first made us known to the Marchioness of Buckingham, and he richly deserves our thanks for many other favours.

The Community remained in London about 12 days, during which time Rev. Mr. Cowley,‡ the President, and Rev. Mr. Brewer § decided that we should take the management of a school for the education of young Catholic ladies. Nothing but the great desire we had to maintain ourselves and to be no burden to our friends or to society in general, upon whom Providence has permitted us to be reluctantly thrown, could have prevailed upon any of us to have undertaken such a charge, worn out as we were with past sufferings. Superiors,

* Mary Elizabeth, only d. and h. of Robert, Earl Nugent, married George, 2nd Earl Temple, who was created Marquess of Buckingham in 1784. Her father, who had conformed, was reconciled to the Church at Bath, at Easter, 1788, by Dom Joseph Cuthbert Wilks, O.S.B., and died in the following October, when the earldom of Nugent passed to his son-in-law, the Marquess of Buckingham. The Marchioness in 1800 was created in her own right Baroness Nugent, with remainder to her second son, Lord George Grenville-Nugent-Temple. She died March 16, 1813. She had befriended many of the French emigré clergy, and several of the English communities which came over to England after the Revolution.

† James Peter Coghlan, the eminent Catholic publisher, died Feb. 20, 1800, aged 68.

‡ Dom William Gregory Cowley was president-general of the English Benedictine Congregation from 1794 till his death in 1799.

§ Dom John Bede Brewer succeeded Fr. Cowley as president-general, and at this time had charge of the mission at Woolton, near Liverpool, where a school for young ladies had been established through his instrumentality and under his supervision.

however, informing us that such was their pleasure, we left London in three companies on different days as we could get places in the stage coach. The last company arrived at Woolton May 21st, 1795, where we experienced every civility & kindness. Mrs. Porter & Dr. Brewer entertained the whole Community for a week at their house, with great good nature and compassion, rendering to each one every solace possible. We got settled in a school which had been for about six years under the superintendance of the Rev. Dr. Brewer, but the managment of which he now resigned to the Nuns. Here we have now been near three years, during which time we have found no abatement in the kindness & charitable attention showed to the Community, not by our friends and relations only, but by our country-folk in general. We are not less grateful for the allowance of a guinea and a half per month, for each religious, which in common with so many of our fellow sufferers we have received from government ever since our arrival in our native country; & we shall always think ourselves under an additional obligation of praying for the welfare of England.

We had not been long settled at Woolton, before Edward Constable of Burton & Francis Sheldon of Wycliffe, Esquires,* honoured us with a visit. They paid us the kindest attentions. They brought with them a French priest,† whom Mr. Constable allowed 40£ per annum. As we could not hear Mass anywhere nearer than Mr. Brewer's chapel, he offered to leave the French priest at Woolton; of that offer we joyfully accepted, & he has since remained with us. To assist the Community in general Mr. Constable has also made us an allowance of 60£ per annum, which is paid quarterly; & we have reason to hope that it will not be withdrawn, till something falls to enable the Community to live without it.

flowers, and for cutting out upon vellum various ornaments and devices with the most exquisite taste and execution. By these and their other resources, they lived without being any burthen, but rather were a benefit to the country in which they were placed, whilst their principal attention and endeavours were bent, by the exercises of religion and the practice of every virtue, upon arriving at our true country in the heavenly region. It was, however, the will of the Almighty to prepare them all in general, and more immediately some of them, for this happiness by a course of sufferings. In the summer of the year 1793, the allied armies having pushed their conquests almost to the gates of Cambray, these poor religious were advised, for a double purpose of treachery, to lay in provisions against the siege that was then expected to take place. They listened to this advice, and accordingly provided themselves with such a stock of necessaries as their finances would allow them to purchase. Not being conscious of having given any offence, they conceived themselves to be in perfect safety, when, on the 18th of October, in the said year, they were surprised by a body of guards, part of whom surrounded, whilst the rest entered into their convent, and in less than half an hour hurried them out of the same without affording them the means of taking with them a change of clothes or any other necessaries. The appointed place of their captivity was Compiegne, which was more within reach of the assassins, who then deluged the streets of Paris with human blood, than Cambray was. Thither these ladies, whose only crimes were their religion and their country, were carried in open carts, amidst a variety of insults and barbarous usage. Their place of confinement in this town was the infirmary of the convent which formerly belonged to the order of the Visitation, whilst an adjoining part of the same convent was occupied by an illustrious band of christian heroines, worthy to have lived in the primitive ages of the Church. These were seventeen (sixteen) Carmelite Nuns, formerly of the convent of St. Denis (Compiègne) and the sisters in religion of Madame Louise, the saint-like aunt of Louis XVI., who, on that account, seemed to have been marked out by Roberspere and his sanguinary confederates as victims for the guillotine. They were led out to execution a few days [on the 16th July, the feast of our Bd. Lady of Mount Carmel their patroness, 1794, nine months] after the arrival of the Cambray Nuns at the same prison, [they had been in prison with us, Cambray Nuns, about 6 weeks,] and, though they could not converse with them by words, yet they took an affectionate and pious leave of them from their windows by the motion of their hands and their gestures. On their way to the scaffold, and upon the scaffold itself they showed a firmness, and a cheerful composure, which those who braved death at the cannon's mouth have rarely exhibited, and which nothing but a spotless conscience and a joyful hope can inspire. They invoked the Queen of Martyrs to assist them in their conflict, singing the litany of the Blessed Virgin in their procession to martyrdom, and until the fatal axe interrupted the voice of the last of them. The English Nuns were for a long time in daily expectation of meeting the same fate. They observed that their place of confinement was blockaded in a particular manner, which generally took place with respect to such bodies of prisoners as were intended for execution, and when they petitioned for a supply of clothes of which they stood greatly in need, their keepers in the most wanton and undisguised manner were accustomed to tell them that soon they would neither want for clothes nor for anything else. At length, however, a parcel of left-off wearing apparel, which had been the executioner's perquisite,* was sent to them. This consisted of the dresses of the above-mentioned religious sufferers. Such a present, however despicable in the eyes of worldlings, in their eyes was more valuable than the robes of royalty would have been; they received the poor clothes upon their knees, kissing and bedewing them with their tears, and these constituted part of the mean apparel which they had on at their return to their native country.

Great were their sufferings during their tedious confinement, especially from the want of bread and fuel. These were dealt out to them in the most scanty proportions, and the former was of the very worst and most disgusting quality. Nor was it in their power by their needle-work, and industry in other respects, materially to mend their condition, though they exerted themselves for this purpose. They were twenty in number when they were expelled from their convent, exclusive of their chaplain Dom Augustine Walker, president of the English monks, who for his erudition and piety, having long resided at Rome, had received distinguishing tokens of esteem from his present Holiness, and exclusive of another reverend gentleman [Rev. James Higginson], who, in consideration of the age and declining health of the former, was appointed to assist him. Of these, during the rigours of their confinement departed this life, on the 13th of Jan., 1794, the Rev. D. President Walker, on the 14th of the same month Dame Anselma Ann, on the 21st ditto D. Teresa Walmesley, on the 6th of Feb. D. Ann Pennington, and about the end of March D. Margaret Burgess; so that now only fifteen nuns, a novice upon probation, and the gentleman who had assisted Dom President, were left of this once flourishing community.

At length the scarcity of provisions encreasing in a dreadful manner throughout every part of France, and the absurdity of detaining in confinement so many innocent sufferers, for the original apprehension of whom there had never existed a pretence either of justice or of policy, being perceived by the rulers of that unhappy country, these ladies obtained liberty to quit their confinement, and on the 24th of April in the present year [1795] procured passports to return to their native country.

On their journey they made Cambray in their way. Here they found that their listening to the advice that had been given them, in preparing provisions against a siege, was made an accusation against them, and the common people were made to believe that the prevailing scarcity was greatly to be attributed to the English, who had amassed such quantities of provisions. They found, however, that their house and effects, though sequestered and publicly sold, had never been paid for, nor had one been appointed to receive the purchase-money for the same. This circumstance afforded them a hope that they might, on a later day, receive some compensation for their great losses.

On the 3rd of May they sailed from Calais, and on the 4th arrived in London. Their arrival here was no sooner known, than [the Marchioness of Buckingham] a lady, still more distinguished by her extensive charities than by her station in life, sent the chaplain of her family [Rev. Mr. Holt, a native of Lancashire], a clergyman of the Established Church, to inform them that, conceiving their situation at a common inn to be exceedingly inconvenient and unpleasant to them, she had provided a house at the west end of the town for them during their residence in London. Here she was the first person to visit them and afford them every comfort in her power. They were struck with such marks of divine bounty in their regard, and they ceased not to put up their prayers in behalf of the immediate instrument of it and of her noble relatives. Nor were they less sensible of the unaffected compassion and substantial services which they, in common with so many others, their fellow-sufferers, experienced from the respectable clergyman here alluded to, who, copying the example of his noble patrons, has proved himself the good Samaritan to such a variety of sufferers of a different religion, and many of them of a different country.

Upon an invitation from the Rev. Dr. Brewer, these ladies have proceeded to Woolton, near Liverpool, where, after qualifying themselves as the act in favor of Roman Catholics directs, they have undertaken the superintendence of a school for the education of catholic young ladies, which they mean to conduct agreeably to their much approved plan established at Cambray, and long known to this country.

[There is a slip of paper pasted in at the foot of page 7 of the Stanbrook copy of the Directory for 1796, on which is written, probably in the hand of Dame Agnes Robinson, though it may be that of Dame Ann-Teresa Partington:]

"The Names of the Carmelites of Compiegne who were put to death among whom were one novice" . . . (the rest is obliterated by the paste, the sense evidently being that Mary of the Incarnation furnished these names, as the next sentence is:) "This good Carmelite was in the summer of the year 1814 living in the town of Compiegne with a few devout companions with whom she was concerting to form a little community serving God according to the severe rule of the Carmelites as a French priest informed us who had seen her in Jan^ry^ 1814."

A CATALOGUE

Of Ye NAMES and AGES

Of all those that have at any time entred into this MONASTERY of our Bd. Lady of CONSOLATION in Cambray, as well of such as have been and are religious profess'd, as of such as have lived for any time in ye monastery and gone away.

December 2. In ye Year 1623.

Entred Mrs. Helen More (in religion called De. Gertrude), of ye age of 17. great grandchild to Sr. Thomas More.

Born March 25, 1606, at Low Leyton, Essex, an estate belonging to her father, Cresacre More, Esq., of Barnborough Hall, co. York; professed Jan. 1, 1625; died Aug. 17, 1633, aged 27.

After her death, her spiritual writings were collected and arranged by Father Baker for publication, but they did not actually appear till long after his decease. One portion arranged by him was issued at Paris in 1657 under the title of "The Holy Practices of a Divine Lover, or The Sainctly Ideot's Devotions," with Dedication to Dame Catherine Gascoigne, Abbess of Cambrai, unsigned. This work has lately been re-edited by Dom Hildebrand Lane Fox, O.S.B. The other and far more important portion of the collection was printed at Paris in the following year 1658 with a dedication to R^d. Mother Bridget More, then Prioress of the Paris House, signed F. G. (Rev. Francis Gascoigne, brother to Dame Catherine). The work is entitled "Confessiones Amantis, or A Lover's Confessions and Ideot's Devotions." In the beginning of the same book is given her "Apology for herself and her Spiritual Guide and Director, Very Rev. Father Baker." The book concludes with a series of fragments of devout aspirations and reflections, as also a few prayers in verse found amongst her papers after death. The work has been re-edited lately by Rev. Dom E. Benedict Weld-Blundell, O.S.B. Her Life was written by Father Baker, entitled "The Life and Death of D. Gertrude More, a Religious Virgin of the English Cloister of Benedictin Nunnes in the Cittie of Cambraie." Dom E. Benedict Weld-Blundell, O.S.B., has lately edited this manuscript at the special request of the Lady Abbess of Stanbrook, who entrusted to his hands not only the valuable MS. of Part I., bearing the stamp of Lambspring, which had for a long period been carefully preserved in the Stanbrook library, but also Part II., until then thought to be lost, but which had just been identified amongst other manuscripts at Ampleforth Abbey, and had kindly been lent to Stanbrook by the Abbot for the purpose of thus publishing, by the fusion of these two distinct manuscripts, the first complete edition of Father Baker's original work. This was in 1907, Dom E. B. Weld-Blundell's volume appeared in 1910.

Do.

Mrs. Margarette Vaversour, (in religion Dame Lucy), daughter of Sir William Vaversour of Haselwood, in Yorkshire, Barenet. She was 17 years of age.

B. 1606, at Haslewood Castle, co. York, d. of William Vavasour, Esq., by Anne, d. of Sir Thomas Manners, 4th s. of Thomas, 1st Earl of Rutland. It was her brother, Sir Thomas Vavasour, Knt., who was created a baronet in 1628, and died in his father's lifetime in 1632. Her father died in 1637, aged 70. She was professed Jan. 1, 1625, and died Aug. 25, 1679, aged 73. Her eldest sister, Mary, was twenty-five years abbess of the convent at Brussels, and died in office in 1676, aged 76.

From the original formula of vows in the handwriting of Dame Bridget More, O.S.B.

December.

Entred Mrs. Margaretta Gascoigne, aged of 22, sister to De. Catherine Gascoigne before mentioned.

Born April 22, 1608, at Barnbow Hall, prof. 1629, died Aug. 16, 1637, aged 29. Her "Life" was written by Fr. Augustine Baker, and the MS., thought to be lost, has lately been found at Downside Abbey.

June 28. 1629.

Entred Mrs. Brigitt More aged of 19, sister to ye forementioned De. Gertrude More.

Born in Herts, 1609; prof. Sept. 24, 1630; sent with the colony of nuns to found a new convent at Paris, and elected first prioress on Feb. 20, 1652, in which office she remained till 1665; died there Oct. 12, 1692, aged 82.

Ye same day & year.

Entred Mrs. Mary Percy (of ye noble family of ye last Earl of Northumberland) aged of 33 for a lay sister. She was called in religion Sister Hilda.

Born 1596; prof. 1631; died Feb. 6, 1670. It is probable that she was of the family of Percy of Beverley, co. York, and a near relative of Thomas Percy, one of the Gunpowder Plot conspirators, grandson of Joselyn Percy, 4th son of Henry, Earl of Northumberland. A namesake, Mary Percy, daughter of Francis Percy, of Scotton, co. York, and his wife Frances, dau. of Ralph Vavasour, a younger son of the Haslewood family, was professed at Ghent, Aug. 12, 1626.

It does not follow from a nun's profession as a lay-sister that she was relegated to the menial work of the convent, and estranged from the choir nuns. Dowers were required by ecclesiastical authority to safeguard common life and common property. There is evidence of ladies not having the required dower being taken as lay-sisters.

February ye first. In ye year 1630.

Entred Mrs. Hellen Kenion aged of 26 for a lay sister; her parents were good sufficient people in Lancashire, and her sister Margaret also a lay Sister.

Helen Kenyon was born 1604; prof. 1632; died Nov. 10, 1657. Margaret was prof. 1632; died May 14, 1645.

Cornwall, Esq., and his wife Jane, dau. of Sir John Arundell, of Trerice, in that county; prof. 1635; died Jan. 26, 1675. She was sister to Dom Thomas Cuthbert Risdon, O.S.B.

Aug. ye 3rd. [1634]

Entred Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, aged of 18 (in religion Barbara). She was natural daughter to a person of quality in England.

Born 1616; clothed 1634; prof. on her death-bed, and died Feb. 24, 1635.

June 23. In ye year 1638.

Entred Anne Taverne for a lay Sister, aged of 35: She was borne of honest parents in ye citty of Cambray.

Born 1603; prof. 1640; died Jan. 5, 1661.

August 31.

Entred ye Honble. Mrs. Lucy Cary aged of 19 (in religion called De. Magdalena) and her Sister Mrs. Mary Cary aged of 17, daughters to ye Right Honble. Harry Cary, Viscount of Faukland, some time Vice Roy of Ireland.

Lucy, born 1619; prof. 1640; died Nov. 1, 1650. Mary, born 1621; prof. 1640; died Sept. 22, 1693. They were sisters to Anne Clementia and Elizabeth Augustina Cary. Dame Mary of St. Winefride Cary went with her sister Anne Clementia to found the convent at Paris in Nov. 1651, but returned to Cambrai in 1652.

Aug. 31.

Likewise entred Mrs. Barbara Constable, aged of 21, daughter to Sir Philip Constable of Evringham in Yorkshire, Baronet.

Born 1617; prof. 1640; died Jan. 26, 1684. Her father was created a baronet by Charles I., July 20, 1642, and was a severe sufferer in the royal cause. Her mother was Anne, dau. of Sir William Roper, Knt., of Eltham and St. Dunstan's, co. Kent. Two of Dame Barbara's brothers, Philip and Thomas, were Benedictines. Two of her works have been referred to elsewhere. Another is preserved at Stanbrook entitled "Gemitus Pecatorum, or the Complaints of Sinners," dated at end Dec. 31, 1649, of which a transcript is at Bergholt. At p. 2 she states that she was nineteen when she entered at Cambrai, which does not necessarily contradict the entry in the text, as it may include the date of her first crossing over to the Continent. She also says that her mother took her up into her arms when a new born infant, and dedicated her wholly to the B.V. Mary.

Aug. 31.

Also entred Mrs. Catherine Gascoigne (in religion called D. Justina) aged of 15, daughter to Sr. Thomas Gascoigne of Barnbow in Yorkshire Baronet, & neece to D. Catherine Gascoigne afore mentioned.

Born March 1, 1623, at Barnbow Hall; habit, Jan. 25, 1639; prof. April 15, 1640; sent to Paris to join the new convent Feb. 6, 1652; prioress there 1665–90, and died there May 17, 1690. Her father was the 2nd baronet; and her mother was Anne, dau. of John Symeon, of Baldwins Brightwell, co. Oxon, and sister of Sir George Symeon, Knt.

Aug. 31.

Also entred Mrs. Mary Tempest aged of 16, (in religion De. Euphrasia) daughter to Mr. Tempest of Broughton in Yorkshire.

Born 1622, dau. of Sir Stephen Tempest, of Broughton Hall, Knt., by his second wife Catherine, dau. of Henry Lawson, of Neesome, co. Durham, Esq.; died Feb. 14, 1689.

Aug. 31.

Also ye same day entred with ye 5 precedent Mrs. Francis Lucy aged of 16.

Oct. 29.

Likewisee entred ye honble. Mrs. Mary & Mrs. Francis Stourton aged ye first of 14, ye other of 12 for pensionnars: they were daughters to ye honble. Baron Stourton of Stourton; they both went away.

Daughters of William, 10th Baron Stourton, by Frances, dau. of Sir Edward Moor, of Odyham, co. Southampton. Frances was buried at Stourton, co. Wilts, Aug. 5, 1646, and Mary, Sept. 27, 1672. Lord Stourton died in Aug., 1685.

March ye 8. In ye year 1639.

Entred Mrs. Anne Cary aged of 24 (in religion called D. Clementia) daughter to ye Ld. Viscount Faukland & sister to Mrs. Lucy, Mrs. Elizabeth, & Mrs. Mary Cary.

Born 1615, eldest dau. of Sir Henry Cary, K.B., elevated to the peerage of Scotland, Nov. 10, 1620, as Viscount Falkland, and his wife Elizabeth, only dau. and heiress of Sir Laurence Tanfield, chief-baron of the Exchequer; habit April 3, 1639; prof. 1640; sent with her sister Mary, and a lay sister, Ann Scholastica Hodson, to establish a filiation of the convent at Paris in Nov., 1651; was assisted by Queen Henrietta Maria, to whom she had been maid of honour at the court in England, and others, and in Feb., 1652, was joined by more sisters from Cambrai, but through humility would not take upon herself any office of superiority, and in consequence Dame Bridget More was elected the first prioress of the new convent, Feb. 20, 1652; died at Paris April 26, 1671. A long memoir of her appears in Cath. Rec. Soc. ix. 339–46.

She wrote the life of her mother, which was revised with notes by her brother, the Hon. Patrick Cary, and remained in MS. at Cambrai till the Revolution of 1793, when it was removed with the valuable library of the abbey to the Archives of the Department of the North in Lille. It was eventually published by Richard Simpson, Esq., under the title of "The Lady Falkland: her Life, from a MS. in the Imperial Archives at Lille," London, 1861, 8vo.

Ye same day. Came Mrs. Mary Stanford, aged 11; went to ye French house 18 January 1721.

Eldest daughter of William Stanford, of Abbot's Salford, commonly called Salford Hall, co. Warwick, Esq., by Mary, eldest daughter of Richard Betham, of Rowington Hall, in the same county, Esq. As Salford Hall is so intimately connected with the life of the community, which found a shelter under its venerable roof from 1807 until 1838, a brief notice of its history is expedient. Salford was a possession of the Abbey of Evesham, which in 1543 was granted by Henry VIII. to Sir Philip Hobby, who in the last year of the king's reign sold the manor of Abbot's Salford to Anthony Littleton. The latter's daughter and heiress married John Alderford, but dying childless her husband married secondly, in July, 1579, Elizabeth, daughter of Peter Dormer, of Nubottell, and relict of Edward Morgan, and by her had two daughters and coheiresses, Eleanor and Margaret. Alderford rebuilt the hall in 1602, incorporating parts of the older building, and died in 1606. His elder daughter, Eleanor, married Charles Stanford, second son of Sir Robert Stanford, of Perry Hall, co. Stafford, son of Sir William Stanford, justice of the King's Bench, and his younger daughter, Margaret, married Sir Simon Clarke or Woodchurch, of Woodchurch, co. Kent, who thus became possessed of Salford Priors. Charles Stanford, whose wife brought him Abbot's Salford, completed the building of the hall, and commemorated the event by hanging up a bell on the top of the house bearing the inscription, "Charles Stanford, Esqre., Ellinor, 1610." Their eldest son, John, succeeded to the estate and married Frances, daughter of Sir John Peshall, of Horsley, co. Stafford, 1st Bart., and sister to Dorothy, wife of William Stanford, of Perry Hall, cousin of John Stanford. A younger son joined The English Discalced Carmelites, Fr. Edmund of St. Martin Stanford, and died April 10, 1635. John Stanford died in 1649, leaving sons, William, who married Dorothy, daughter of Clement Paston, of Appleton, co. Norfolk, Esq., and died s.p., and John, who married Mercy, second daughter of Francis Sheldon, of Abberton, co. Wigorn, Esq. The latter had a son, William, and four daughters, Dorothy, wife of . . . Savage, of Bagend, co. Wigorn, Esq., Mercy, wife of Thomas Chambers, of Studley, Esq., Frances, and Penelope. The son, William, who registered his estate as a Catholic non-juror in 1717, and was living at Salford Hall in 1730, was the father of the young girl who came to the school at Cambrai in 1718. William had four sons, John, William, Charles, and Robert, who all died s.p., and two daughters, Mary, as above, and Frances. The youngest son, Robert, the last of the family, died in 1785, bequeathing Salford Hall to his wife Mary for life, with remainder to John Stanford Berkeley, second son of Robert Berkeley, of Spetchley, co. Worcester, Esq., and in case of his death to the said Robert Berkeley for the term of his life only, after which it was to go for ever to the Eyston family of East Hendred, co. Berks. Mrs. Stanford most generously offered the community at Woolton, which was a house quite uncongenial to the tastes and requirements of the monastic profession, Salford Hall and grounds rent free, and lent them one hundred pounds free of interest towards the expense of removal. From the earliest times there had been a chapel in the house, and at this period Père Louvel, a French emigré, resided in it, and served the chaplaincy. The registers only commence in 1763, though the list of Benedictine chaplains can be traced from 1727. Mrs. Stanford also offered to pay the chaplain's stipend of twenty-five guineas whether the nuns should prefer to bring their own with them, or to retain the services of M. Louvel. Mrs. Stanford died at her house in College Green, Gloucester, on May 24, 1812. "She was a woman of superior cast of mind," said a local print, "universal charity and a high sense of philanthropy were the ruling principles of her life, and the tears of the poor best bespeak their loss, who had so constantly partook of her unbounded benevolence." Meanwhile John Stanford Berkeley had predeceased his father, Robert Berkeley, who concurred in everything Mrs. Stanford had done, and continued to allow the community to occupy Salford Hall until the nuns purchased Stanbrook Hall, near Worcester, to which they removed in 1838. Upon Robert Berkeley's death Salford passed to the Eyston family in accordance with the will of its last squire, Robert Stanford.

Aug^t 2^d 1792—Died in our Monastery of our Lady of Comfort in Cambray D. Catherine Joseph Throgmorton aged (as is conjectured) 97. She was professed of the Rule of S^t Augustine in the English house of the Fossi S^t Victor in Paris, where she remained several years, but falling deranged in her intellect she was transfured to this house, where she is said to have been for above 60 years. She was buried the day following in our Burial ground.

Catherine Throckmorton was dau. of Sir Robert Throckmorton, 3rd Bart., of Coughton Court, co. Warwick, by Mary, dau. of Sir Charles Yate, of Buckland, co. Berks, 3rd Bart. (by Frances, dau. of Sir Thomas Gage, of Firle Place, co. Sussex, 2nd Bart.), and sister and heiress of Sir John Yate, 4th and last Bart., who died unmarried at Paris in 1690. She and her sister Elizabeth went to the English Augustinian convent at Paris in 1713, where they were professed in the following year. Within seven years her intellect seems to have given way, and eventually it was thought better that she should come to reside at Cambrai. She was known at Paris under the name of Mary Catherine.

August 3^d 1792—died about 3 p.m. Dame Mary Christina Hooke, Abbess of our Nuns of Our Lady of Comfort Cambray.

Born in Dublin in 1715; daughter of the eminent historian Nathaniel Hooke and his wife Mary Barnes; prof. 1734; abbess 1789 till death Aug. 3, 1792. Her brother, the Rev. Luke Joseph Hooke, D.D., baptized at St. Paul's, Dublin, Sept. 28, 1714, was educated at St. Gregory's Monastery at Douai, whence he went to the Irish College in the Rue de Lombards at Paris, where he was granted Letters of Naturalisation in 1735. After taking his degrees at the Sorbonne he was raised to the chair of divinity, and in 1774 to that of Hebrew. He was also appointed librarian to the Mazarin College, but died in the same year, 1774.

A Catalogue of ye names of ye Religious Dames and Sisters professed of this Convent of our Blessed Lady of Consolation in Cambray who are dead. Requiescant in pace.

The first day of Aprill 1631 departed in peace our dear Sister Jane Martha Martin, a lay sister & one of ye first profes'd of ye monastery in ye 43 year of her age & seventh of her profession. Shee had ye proffer to marry a gentleman of a good estate in England, but shee rather chose to lead an humble life in Religion, than to appeare great in ye world, therefore refused ye offer made her & prevailed with the gentleman who would have married her, to bestow his wealth upon a Seminary of English in Flanders, which he did at his death oblidging ye sayd seminary to provide for her & settle her as she should desire. And she chose out of humility & yt shee might not be too chargable to them whom she esteemed her benefactors, (tho' in effect she had been theirs) to be a lay-sister & as she had lived in ye world very purely & innocently, so shee lived in religion very painfully & obediently, in both piously & charitably. And after many daily infirmities & eight months sickness suffered with resignation & edification, she died as we have cause to believe most happily. Requiescat in pace. Amen.

In ye year 1631 ye 22 of 7^{ber} died D. Francis Ebba Browne, daughter to S^{r} Peter Browne of Kiddington in Oxfordshire, in ye 2^{d} year of her profession & 22 of her age, during which three years, her noviceship included, she so much profited in ye continual practice of prayer & patience y^{t} shee left behind her a good odor of virtue, being so truly pious & humble y^{t} shee could say on her death-bed, being asked theruntó, y^{t} since shee had profess'd our H. Rule, shee did not remember y^{t} ever shee did deliberately desire to please any creature or desire any praise from any. And indeed she lived so wholly abstract of all terrene & humane solace & content and so attentive to God in her soule y^{t} neither business in health, nor pains in sickness could divert her thoughts & affections from him, but pass'd on her life like a true pilgrime thus to Jerusalem, to seek & see Jesus, ye sum of all her desires & ye centre, & ye reward of all her sighs & labours. Requiescat in Pace.

In ye year 1633 ye 17 of August, died D. Gertrude More, of ye noble family of S^{r} Thomas ye famous Martyr of happy memory. Shee it was who erected this Community & was ye first y^{t} was profess'd in this house where she afterwards lived with a great deal of zeale, prudence & piety, as will appeare in her life writ more at large, shee left many examples worthy her blood & vocation, particularly in her last grievous sickness (being indeed very terrible) which shee embraced with much patience & conformity to ye Will of God, showing such an admirable confidence in his mercy y^{t} shee seem'd only to be sensible y^{t} shee was so long detain'd from ye union & fruition of his divine Majesty to which she had ever tended, desiring truely to be dissolv'd that she might live in Christ Jesus. In fine she fought ye good fight & dyed, as we have reason to hope, most happily ye 28 of her age, & 10 of her profession. Requiescat in Pace.

In ye year 1635. ye february 24 died S^{r} Elizabeth Barbara Smith daughter naturall of an English Baronet. She lived in her father's house without being known eyther by herself or others to be his daughter though she was maintain'd by him very handsomely, but for a disguise shee was call'd ye neece to a gentleman who lived in ye house & who 'twas thought gave her the maintainence & education becoming a gentlewoman, till at length her brother ye Baronet's eldest son fell deeply in love with her (for she was very beautifull, of a good carriage & of an innocent harmless conversation) ye young gentleman not dreaming she was so neare related to him; but by good fortune his father discovering his affection for ye young lady, soon prevented his son's design of marriage with her & consulting her pretended uncle who was ye priest of ye family, it was by them judged best to prevent all misfortune & keep her still best unknown, to send her over to a monastery for education, shee being yet young; and accordingly they sent her to this our Convent of our Blessed Lady in Cambray, in which shee took to religion, & lived very edifyingly in her noviceship, so y^{t} all had great hopes shee would make a good member of ye Comunity, when accidentally shee got a fall down staires, which shee received such a hurt from, y^{t} shee suffer'd very much with a great patience, & at length by her sickness shee was brought to her end, shee embraced death chearfully & dyed wholy resigned to God's divine will with much internall peace and confidence in her creator who had so mercyfully drawn her out of ye vanities of the world, before shee had ye misfortune to know them, shee died in ye 6th month of her probation, having on her death bed often beg'd ye favour of her profession and obtained, being dispensed with. And soon after went to keep, as we hope, ye solemnity in Heaven with ye Saints & Angels. Requiescat in Pace.

On ye 16 of August in ye year 1637 our dear S^{r} Dame Margaret Gascoigne departed ys life in ye 29 of her age & 8 of her profession. She was daughter to S^{r} John Gascoigne Baronet of Barnbow in Yorkshire, shee esteeming y^{t} innocence & native goodness shee had derived from her parents to be insufficient, therefore laboured for more purity of heart & perfection of divine love in Religion, which by means of prayer constantly prosecuted shee obtained, shee led a most abstract life in religion and having chearfully and courageously trampled under foote all y^{t} the world calls great, & forsaken with a generous contempt not only what advantages her birth & education offer'd her in ye world, but also forsaken her parents & country, shee applyed herselfe in a profound solitude & silence to religious duties in this Convent as appeares by ye story of her life writ in another place. Her natural propension to serve God was of ye best, and knowing y^{t} al selfe-seeking & propriety was all nature could intend, if it were not reformed by grace, her whole endeavours were to comit herselfe totally to ye divine guidance, y^{t} shee might truely become virtuous in ye sight of God, & conformable to his B^{d} Will. Her exemplary & most comfortable death gives us great hopes y^{t} shee now enjoys y^{t} inseparable union with her Spouse our Saviour which wth all her heart shee incessantly sought after. Requiescat in pace.

On ye 18 of April in ye year 1640 our D^{r} S^{r} D. Bennet Morgan, daughter to M^{r} Morgan of Weston in Warwickshire departed this life in ye 36 year of her age & 17 of her profession, shee was one of the first nine that entered this monastery & were the beginners of it, wherein shee lived with edification to all, ever continuing in her primitive zeale, still striving by ye helps of religion to perfect her soule. Her life was free from offence to her sisters, & her conversation very innocent, and her endeavours to please God very great whilst sense remained which allmighty God permitted should faile her some years before her death, which it is believed she had some kind of foresight of, for ye night before her infirmity seazed her, shee was heard by one of ye religious y^{t} was very neare her, to rise several times from her bed, in ye night time, and casting herselfe on her knees, to pray very devoutly to All: God, particularly shee was heard to make in a moderate voice many acts of resignation to God's will, leaveing herselfe to be disposed of as he knew most for his own honor & ye good of her soule. In ye time of her indisposition as well as before, she lived inoffensively to her religious Sisters & evidenc'd in all oocasions y^{t} shee was naturally of a devout spirit; on a time when one of ye religious was speaking to a person newly enter'd ye house in order to be religious (D. Beñet being present) and giving a relation in obscure terms how & at what time shee fell into her distemper, D. Bennet who till then had satt silent presently answered saying: yes indeed the night you mention was ye very night I died & I have been dead ever since: words very remarkable. In fine ye day come when All. God was pleased to take her out of this world by a natural death, she call'd to ye religious who had care to tend her & desir'd very earnestly shee would permit her to put on her cowl, for says shee, this day I am to appeare before a great King, as indeed shee did, for a very slight indisposition to all others sight, took her out of this world, on y^{t} very day to make her appearance before the King of Kings, & we have all reason to hope her death was pretiosa in conspectu Domini &c. Requiescat in Pace.

In y^{d} year 1640 on the 7 of May, departed this life, R^{d} Mother Francis Gawen, in ye 64 year of her age, & 40 of her profession. She was professed in ye English monastery at Bruxelles of ye order of our H. Father St Beñet & one of ye first companie who began y^{t} monastery, in which shee lived 23 years after her profession, & from thence shee came hither to Cambray to begin this of ye same order & of ye English Congregation, which with much zeale of regular observance & with great care & motherly affection to every one she govern'd in ye office of Abbesse for ye space of 6 years ever more earnestly desiring & labouring to advance ye progress of ye Cõmunity in all respects. Afterwards resigning her office she betook herselfe to a private life wherein for ye remainder of her days shee much edified her religious Sisters with good examples of humility and obedience practising amongst them in her life & conversation what she had before taught them with great zeale, & being overtaken with old age & infirmity when shee had patiently endured ye difficulties & pains of long sickness, shee died as we have cause to hope happily in our Lord. Requiescat in Pace. Amen.

On ye 13 of June in ye year 1640 our D^{r} S^{r} D. Anne Scholastica Timperley, daughter to S^{r} Thomas Timperley in Suffolk. Shee endur'd with much patience & a wonderfull resignation a long & terrible sickness which continued for ye most part of a whole year, y^t shee might by many tribulations enter into ye Kingdom of heaven; for by God's Providence shee was brought into so great inward desolation (being full of most grievous pains & voyed of all comfort) as made her say: " Deus meus ut quid dereliquiste me?" & so was led through fire & water unto Eternall rest: shee lived very laudably in religion wherein shee was an honor to her family, an example & comfort to her religious Sisters to whom her life w^ld have been most gratefull as her death was precious in ye sight of our Lord who had bestowed on her great talents both of nature & grace with which shee faithfully cooperating & diligently corresponding to, hath inevited (as we may justly hope) to be of their number of whom it is sayd y^t inter [sanctos] sors illorum est. Shee was a true pattern of prudence zeale & constancy in all ye duties of religion. God grant y^t we who shee has left behind her in y^t miserable world, may imitate her virtues. Requiescat in Pace. Amen. Shee died in ye 35 of her age & 16 of Religion.

On ye 25 of January in ye year 1641 our d^r S^r D. Francisca Lucy departed ys life in ye 20 year of her age & first of her profession, in y^t short time after her entry in religion, shee profited much in ye virtues of humility, patience & resignation, which two last, her much weaking & frequent sickness gave her much occasion to practice, as shee did with true devotion, not permitting ye infirmity of her body to depress her mind, but raising to God by a careful prosecution of prayer & exteriorly comporting herselfe according to a charitable & sweet conversation, thereby meriting ye same from all her religious sisters of whom shee was well beloved, & her death regretted. Requiescat in Pace. Amen.

On ye 6^th day of december in ye year 1641 departed ys life our d^r Sister Isette Angela Mullins, a converse sister. It is credibly reported of her y^t whilst a secular person shee led a very devout life & had a vision of ye soules in Purgatory & of what they suffered, after which shee grew (as ye world calls it) pensive and thougtfull; addicted herselfe to prayer & devotion & having a vocation to dedicate herselfe to God in religion, shee came to this our Convent in which ye short time shee lived a religious woman shee gave good testimonys of a most fervent devotion & much purity of heart truely seeking & intending God, who to make her more pleasing to himselfe permitted her to bear ye crosses of affliction, in particular of a tedious sickness in which & in many occasions shee showed much patience & true resignation, giving us, by her virtue & innocent life, cause to hope her death was but an entry into the true life so earnestly desired by her. Requiescat in Pace. Amen. Shee died in the 25 of her age & first of her profession.

The 21 of December in ye year 1645 departed this life, our R^d Mother Pudentiana Deacon, first religious in ye English monastery at Bruxelles, where shee lived 15 years to ye edification of her Sisters carefully observing regular discipline from whence obedience sent her with two more to begin ys our convent of our B^d Lady of Consolation at Cambray, shee being a woman of a very good witt, judgment & understanding, was thought fitt by her superiors & others to give help in a business of y^{t} consequence as ye beginning of a monastery which shee diligently performed joyning a great zeal of regular observance with a motherly affection to all & care of all, as our H. Rule ordains for ye cellerier which office, as also M^{rs} of ye novices shee laudably performed for divers years togeather after ye beginning of this monastery. And having also executed ye office of Prioresse very religiously & humbly for ten years togeather, at length shee felle into great bodily infirmities which shee suffered with a remarkable patience & also had an unwearied desire of doing good to all & serving ye community to her power which shee did perseverantly to ye very last in ye office of Prioress. Her end was pious & peaceable in ye 64 of her age. Requiescat in Pace. Amen.

On ye 6th of March 1648 Sister Benedicta Roper departed this life in ye 11 month of her Noviceship & in ye 17 of her age, haveing lived allmost two years in this community, an innocent sweet humble life, pleasing to God, with much edification & content of all y^{t} saw her & convers'ed with her. In time of health shee was harmless cheerfull & very regular; in time of sickness she had an unshaken patience, in both, resigned to God & at all times obedient humble & submissive to her superiors: some few days before her pious death shee supplicated to this Holy Community for her profession, which obtained, shee made it conditionally to ye great content of her mind, and as we have just cause to believe to ye great benefit of her soule. And having render'd her vows to God, shee most willingly & resignedly render'd up her soule into his hands, whome shee sought & sighed after. Shee was daughter to a younger brother of ye Ropers of Elltham. Requiescat in Pace. Amen.

On ye 18 of April 1650 died our dearest sister Dame Catherine Sheldon, daughter to M^{r} Sheldon of Beoly in Warwickshire, whose life, even before shee enter'd into religion was very exemplar. Shee seemed to show a disgust of ye vaine pleasures & transitory pastimes of ye world, even in ye midst of them, & her grave sober & discreet comportment, gained her ye love & esteem of all y^{t} convers'd with her. Shee might have had a very considerable portion in ye world if shee would have stayed with her parents, who designed to have settled her in it very advantagiously, but All: God who designed her wholly for himselfe permitted y^{t} all ye treaties made by her parents to engage her in ye world were strangly & sometimes surprisingly broken of, & came to nothing. And at length by the forceable & sweet conduct of ye spirit of God, she enter'd this holy state of religion with great courage. And after her profession shee lived ye life of a true child of our H. Father S^{t} Benedict, humble, obedient, solitary & quiet; her interior solidly settled in God, her exterior modest, sober, pleasing & gratefull to all especially such as knew her more intimely. Shee had always a great love for regular observances, particularly the office of ye quire, & a true & exact observer of 'em as far as her health would permit. And tho' All. God tryed her with many interior conflicts & temptations yet shee constantly adhear'd to him & became victorious by her great confidence in God her maker whom she loved and faithfully served, practising true & solid virtue in her life time, & at her death became a perfect holocaust wholy offer'd up to her beloved to whom shee most peaceably & intirely resignedly render'd up her soule to him whom shee so seriously had sought during her abode in this vaile of tears. Requiescat in Pace.

On ye first of november 1650 our d^r S^r Dame Lucy Magdalene Cary (departed this life,) daughter to ye L^d Henry Vicount Falkland, sometime Vice Roy of Ireland. Shee had been some years brought up & liv'd in heresy during which time she was carried away with the vanities of ye world, but we have reason to believe yt All: God had regard to ye prayers & tears of ye lady her mother, who never ceas'd to implore Heaven for ye conversion of her children, being a woman of an extraordinary piety as will appear in ye relation of her life written by a person who knew her very well. In fine our D. Magdalena cheerfully abjured her heresy after shee had been convinced of her errors by a R^d Father of our Holy Congregation, a great friend of ye Lady her mother and cast herselfe into ye lapp of ye Holy Catholic Church, wherein she liv'd even during her secular state, a very obedient, pious & zealous member, quitting ye vanities of ye world to exercise in her mother's house more than ordinary mortifications & such as indeed were rather to be admired than imitated in such a state. But as for her obedience to her mother after her conversion, shee may be a pattern to all children towards parents which shewes ye efficacy of Divine Grace in her soule, for of an obstinate, haughty disdainfull sneering Lady (her own mother 'scaped not her affronts) she became as soon as a convert to our Holy faith, a dutifull, obedient child to her who was ye best of mothers, & ye most charitable of Ladies to her neighbours. Shee was accustomed to frequent ye Court both of K. James ye first tho' shee was then very young and likewise in ye time of K. Charles ye first shee was much regarded in his court, but immediately after her conversion she retired herselfe from thence to live with ye Lady her mother, where she contemned what ye world might think of her suddain and extraordinary change, & leaving her vaine attire & dressing, about which shee had been accustomed to spend dayly several howers, shee now cloathed herselfe in decent, but very homely dresse, giving herselfe to ye practice of very many virtues. At length All: God very forcibly inviting her to seek & labour for perfection, shee enter'd into religion, wherein for the space of 11 years, shee lived an infirme, sickly & suffring life, God leading her by ye way of ye crosse to ye end of her life, which shee concluded with a most truely, humble & sincere acknowledgment of her own nothing, & of God's infinite goodness & providence to her as also with an abandonement & total resignation of herselfe into ye arms of his fatherly piety, having lead an obedient humble life, all ye time shee had been in religion without any regard to what shee had been or might have been in ye world, which she would never speak of except of such passages as would humble & confound her being in a particular manner very sensible of ye many faults her jeering witt had made her fall into before her conversion, which afterwards shee did endeavour to satisfy for. In fine, worn out with infirmity, patiently supported for ye love of God, by which we have cause to hope shee has through God's mercy purchased a great crown, she peaceably departed this life leaving us her religious sisters a good example of humility, patience & obedience. Requiescat in Pace. Amen.

The 13 of march 1651 departed this life our d^r^ S^r^ Dame Cœcilia Hall, daughter of M^r^ Hall of High Meadow in Gloucestershire. Shee was called very young by All: God to ye holy state of religion, which vocation of hers, she was permitted by her pious parents to comply with, (her honorable mother's dayly prayer & request to All. God was yt shee might not be ye mother of a lost soule) & in order thereto she left her country and parents to whom shee was truly dear, & came to this our monastery; but shee stayed not long because her health was so bad shee could not comply with regular duties which was ye reason why shee returned to England for ye recovery of her strength in her natural ayre, where she remained some years in which time she had a full view as well of ye miseries, as of ye pleasures of ye world, for her abode in England was in ye time of ye civil wars, so y^t^ shee saw much misery, yet being young & her father having a plentifull estate & all things corresponding, shee was in ye occasions of being drawn to vanity, being in a crowd of company where shee wanted not admirers, which to a person less steadfast in devotion, might have shok'd a vocation, but shee had a right judgment of things & considered well how transitory & fading worldly pleasures are & how little content such things as the world calls great, and hunts so much after can give ye soule at ye hour of death. Penetrated with these & ye like considerations & moved with ye love of God & a great desire to please him in ye most perfect manner shee was able, shee took a generous resolution to forsake & bid adieu for ever to friends, relations & country & make an intire sacrifice of herselfe to God her maker who as shee most rationally esteemed had ye justest claim to her: to effect this, having now recovered in some sort her health, she again with much earnestness supplicated to be received into this community. And being admitted, she did with much fervor goe through her noviceship & made her profession, to ye content of ye convent & to her own great comfort, after which shee immediately fell sick & continued in an infirme & suffering condition neere three years which shee made good use of to ye benefit of her soule, still praising God in her corporal infirmities. At length by a violent defluxion shee was cast into her bed & suffered great pains for some weekes; in fine being advertised by ye physicians of her approaching death shee received ye news with great cheerfullness & embraced death with a contented mind which, as we have cause to hope was but a translation into a better world, ye reward of such as have courage to contemn this for ye love of God who never failes to recompense those y^t^ leave father & mother & adhere to him with all their heart.

The 18 of february 1654—[apparently the date upon which the foregoing obituaries were written].

In the year of our Lord 1726, on the 2nd Day of August, in the Monastery of Our Blessed Lady of Consolation, of the English Congregation of Benedictines at Cambray, having previously received all the accustomed rites of the Church, died the Very Rev^{d} Lady Abbess, Dame Scholastica Houghton, of Parke Hall, in the 70th year of her age, 52 of her religious profession, and the 3rd of her jubilee. She was a Lady highly distinguished in the World by her descent from an Antient and good family, but still more highly distinguished by the many virtuous actions which she herself had performed. The exalted qualities, which she had abundantly received from the partial kindness of Nature & grace, it was her constant study and business through every period of her Life to employ in advancing the Interests of religion and the happiness & edification of her Sisters. Under circumstances peculiarly unfavourable & difficult, it was her Lot to discharge the office of Procuratrix for the space of thirteen years, afterwards that of Prioress for the space of 11, & lastly that of Abbess for 8; and she discharged them all with equal integrity and credit. Sinking at length under the continual cares & Labours of her charge, she calmly closed her eyes on this world, and passed into Eternity amidst the supplications & tears of her disconsolate Sisters. We earnestly request the assistance of your charitable sacrifices and prayers for the repose of her soul. R.I.P.

A Register

of such Benefactors as have notably advanced the Spiritual or Temporal Good of this Convent of our B. Lady of Consolation Cambray since the beginning hereof & profession of the 1st Religious which was January 1st 1625.

A.D. 1624 deceased the R^{t} Hon^{ble} Rv^{d} Anthony de Winge Abbot of Liessie (Latiensis) to whom we are obliged not only for his great temporal charity wh. he particularly shewed to the Convent; But also withall devout Christians for his care & expenses he was at in setting forth the Spiritual Works of his Predecessor the Ven^{ble} Abbot Blosius, so useful for all devout people but especially for all Religious persons.

Next followed the 3 Venerable Fathers Leander a S. Martino [Jones, ob. 1635], Bennet Jones [ob. 1639] & Austin Baker but this collection tells more of them than the Register, wh. as to them I let allone. This Father Austin died in 1639 [1641].

A.D. 1635, died the Most Noble Antony Montmorency of the Illustrious family of the Monmorency's France, Abbot of S. Andrew's in Cambresis of the H. O. of S. Bennet, it was he who first gave us the house we live in. He was during his lifetime a good friend & Benefactor. Next comes R. Father Clem^{t} Reyner [ob. 1651], first, because he got from Rome the confirmation of the old Refuge. Secondly, In the time that he was President (I use the words of the Register) was laid the foundation of our Church & Choir, towards the building of wh. he gave us 500£ Sterling. Likewise he gave us a considerable Relic of the Holy Cross, wh. is set in a great silver Crucifix. May God reward him for his Charity.

A.D. 1665. Jan. 13. [Weldon says Jan. 21] died the V. R. F. Will. Walgrave who as well in the time he was Confessor as afterwards, till his Death, did in divers manners very effectually express his Charity & affectionate Zeal for the good of this Convent, not only being ready to suffer inconveniences himself on that account, but also giving many considerable presents for the accommodation of the Infirmary & other places. He discharged considerable debt for the purchase of a house & bought another. In fine he intended us many other charities but that Death prevented him for all wh. we ought to pray for him.

Next follows F. Rudesind [Barlow, ob. 1656] but with no particular but what is related. April 15. 1666. V. R. F. John Meutise departed this life. He was our Confessor in the Year 1633. & continued 8 years to be so, in which time & principally by his care & discipline Our Church & Choir were built & likewise our vital pensions were much by his care & assistance procured & settled, which for many years was our chief subsistance He bore a great affection to our Convent much tendering the good thereof, for wh. & for many friendly offices, we are obliged to have a grateful memory of him, as of a worthy friend & benefactor.

A.D. 1667. Aug. 13. [Weldon says Aug. 6]. V. R. F. Paul Robinson died who had obliged this Convent by many Donations given at several times in rents & ready money, to the value of more than 500£ Sterling, besides the very many more friendly offices of great importance for which he deserves to be gratefully remembered by us.

Dec. 5. [Weldon says Sept. 12] 1667. Very R^d^ F. Goderic Blunt departed this life, being Prior of S^t^ Gregory's in Douay. He did for several years together give us 10£ Sterling, per annum, & in the 1658 he gave to us the sum of 130£ Sterling, according to his Will signified at his profession. He was always ready to do any friendly office, so that we may with just reason place him in this number of our Benefactors.

A.D. 1663. Dec. 24. New Style. [Buried at Dilston, Dec. 18.] Departed this life our Hon^ble^ Benefactor Sir E^d.^ Radcliffe of Diulston in the County of Northumberland Baronet, who, having here in this Convent 2 Daughters Religious, was a very good friend to our house. Likewise on the 28. of Dec. 1668. [Buried at Dilston, Dec. 19] departed this life his Lady, the Hon^ble^ Eliz. Radcliffe wife of the above said Sir Edward. She was a Noble Benefactress to this Convent giving us in her lifetime 900£ Sterling to establish for our Convent a perpetual of 54£ per annum & at her death gave us 50£ Sterling more.

A.D. 1643. M^r^ Morgan of Weston in Warwickshire departed this life, who out of charity gave to this Convent 200£ Sterling. He had a sister professed at the beginning of this house, being one of the first 9, but she died some years before her brother.

This was the gallant Colonel Thomas Morgan, of Weston-under-Wethele, co. Warwick, who raised a regiment of horse for the king at his own expense, and was slain at the first battle of Newbury, Sept. 20, 1643. He married Jane, daughter of Sir Richard Fermor, of Somerton, co. Oxon, Knt., by his first wife Jane, daughter of Rowland Lacon, of Willey, co. Salop, Esq., and his daughter Mary became a Carmelite nun at Antwerp. The colonel was buried with his wife's family at Somerton.

A.D. 1685. Aug. 8. Departed this life M^r Lupine a Low Country man & Canon of S. Gery's in the town of Cambray, who was a most constant friend to this house for above 40 years together. He did for more than 7 years together say our second Mass on all Sundays & H. Days & very frequently on the Week Days when desired. He gave us very considerable things useful both for our Church & Monastery. He went once to Bruxsels to negotiate a business of great importance to our Convent & lived there very sparingly to save us charges & he was in all occasions ready to pleasure us. He left us a this death a legacy of 25£, tho' we have not yet received it, but our obligations are the same to him for charity & good will.

A.D. July 17. Departed this life M^r Edward Thimbelby Prevôt & Canon of S. Gery's in Cambray. He was a good friend to us for many years together on several occasions, in his life he gave us 20£ & at his death 60£ more.

M^rs Prudence Poynts left us at her death 100£ Ster. A.D. 1690, March 17, Sir James Philipps of Stoke-Charity in Hampshire Baronet departed this life. At his death he left us 100£ Sterling & his sister M^rs Charity Philipps left us £50. Their family have been good friends to our Congrat. Anno 1701, Feb. 16, New Style, M^rs Lettuce Tasburgh of Flixton departed this life; She gave us at several times 100£.

Sir James Phelips, 4th and last Bart., of Stoke Charity, co. Southampton, joined the army of James II. in Ireland in Jan. 1688–9, and died at Cork March 18, 1689–90. His sister Charity died unmarried at Stoke Charity, Aug. 29, 1674.

Letitia Tasburgh was one of the seven daughters of Sir John Tasburgh, Knt., of Flixton Abbey, co. Suffolk, by Letitia, dau. and heiress of James Cressye, Esq., and her brother Cressye Tasburgh, of Bodney, co. Norfolk, Esq., married the widow of Sir Thomas Phelips, 2nd Bart., uncle of the 4th Bart.

A. 1698. Jan. 28, New Style, died Sir Tho^s Gascoigne of Barnbow in Yorkshire Baronet he gave to the Monastery at his death 200£ Sterling & had been in his lifetime a good Benefactor giving very often considerable Alms to us. Likewise his Father Old Sir Thomas who died at Lambspring was our good Benefactor, he gave us several charities, & in respect & kindness to his Daughter & niece, he settled upon their lives 10£ yearly for each which we received for many years together during his nieces' life & still receive for his daughter; our Convent has great obligations to that Family, who from 1^st beginning [have] been good Benefactors to us.

Sir Thomas Gascoigne, of Barnbow, Parlington, and Lasingcroft, 3rd Bart., aged 43 at the Visitation of Yorkshire in 1666, married Elizabeth, dau. of William Sheldon, of Beoley, co. Worcester, and Weston, co. Warwick, Esq., by Elizabeth, dau. of William, 2nd Lord Petre, but died s.p., and the title and estates passed to his nephew Thomas, son of his brother George; His father, Sir Thomas, 2nd Bart., died at the Benedictine monastery at Lambspring, of which his brother John was abbot, May 12, 1686, aged 93. his daughter, Dame Frances, died in 1708; and his niece was Dame Mary Eugenia Hoghton, who died in 1701.

An. 1676. March 20. died M^rs Hall of High-Meadows in this our Monastery where she had retired herself 2 years before her death. Her life was very pious wh she concluded with a happy end. She was a good friend & Benefactor to our Convent & lies buried amongst our Religious near her Daughter & Grand Daughter, who had both been examplar Religious in this Monastery & her youngest Daughter who was Abbess when she died, lies buried in the same grave with her with this following Epitaph.

The Ven^ble & Illustrious Arch^bp Francis Vanderburgh deserves a place amongst our Benefactors. He was a man of much sanctity & particularly devoted to the B. V. Mary, indefatigable in his Pastoral functions; being very zealous he much reformed the Pastors of his diocese & purged it from heretics; he called for this end a provincial council in the year 1631 in which he presided in his Archiepiscopal palace; he did many things in his lifetime worthy of eternal memories the adorning the Episcopal chapel in the Metropolitan church enlarging the Episcopal palace with necessary buildings, he gave many things of great worth both to churches in the country & almost to all the churches throughout his whole diocese. But he was especially zealous for the Education of Youth, frequently expressing how much he believed all Pastors are obliged to take care of the instruction of Young Persons, on which he said depended the whole good of Religion. In this view he built & founded the house called "Des Filles de S. Agnes" in this Town of Cambray for 100 poor Girls, natives of the Town who should have their whole maintenance & learning for 7 years together & then sent away well clad. Likewise they are obliged to give instructions to all others who shall come by day indifferently rich & poor.

Also he founded the Dominical School, so called because that poor boys are to be instructed there every Sunday, who have not means to go to Colleges; & to encourage them to come to their Catechisms every such boy as comes on that account receives at his going from the catechism a penny & a loaf of bread He made many more such foundations & at his death he left many pious legacies to a great many monasteries & some considerable alms to every chapel of his Diocese where there was any Image of our B. Lady He was a good friend to this our Monastery of our B. Lady, to which he left 10£ a year at his death, having favoured it all his lifetime.

It was he that admitted this Convent into his Diocese & gave us leave to live subject to our Congregation only he reserved to himself that right of visiting in person which authourity he never made use of neither has any of his Successors ever done it, leaving us entirely to our own Superiors & having on all occasions showed much kindness & civility to this our Convent, in an especial manner this present Archbishop Mgr Fénélon who frequently bestows considerable charities on us & grants us the honour & favour of his protection.

Many more things might be said of the pious life of our Venble Archbishop Vanderburg which are to be seen in his life by Mr Louis Foulon Canon of the Metropolitan Church of Cambray who have written simply of the great & heroical actions of this incomparable Prelate who was the 79th bishop 7th Archbp & 10th Duke of Cambray having been 1st Bp of Gant before his promotion to Cambray.

He died piously in our Lord at Mons in Hainault the 23 of May 1644 aet 77 Archiepiscopatus 28 & was buried with great solemnity in the Church of the V R FF of the S. of J.

NO. II

TWO LISTS OF INFLUENTIAL PERSONS APPARENTLY PREPARED IN THE INTERESTS OF MARY, QUEEN OF SCOTS, 1574 AND 1582

EDITED BY JOHN BANNERMAN WAINEWRIGHT

(Record Office, Dom. Eliz. XCIX, 55, CLVII, 90)

THE transcripts of these lists and the materials for this introductory note have been supplied by the Rev. J. H. Pollen, S.J. For the notes of identification the Editor is solely responsible.

The first list belongs to the year 1574. It is written in a small paper book of twenty leaves endorsed Recusants names; but it actually contains the names of various noblemen, knights, and gentry of England and Wales (together with those of three Scotsmen), roughly grouped as "Catholicks" and "Heretikes."

The second list belongs to the year 1582. It is written on two pages, and is endorsed Memorial the. It contains the names of various noblemen and knights of England divided into Catholic, Indifferent, and Protestant.

On the outside leaf of the first list is written :—

"Sr tyas ot euouk eht etats fo eht eneuq. d.

Ducats 12000
365
60000
72000
36000
4380000 ducados iada anno"

Of this entry no explanation is attempted. On the fly-leaf are the following entries:—

,, miles 50 { from wynkfilde to bukstones—12 mil. to Congleton—12 mil. to latham therle of Darbies house—20 mil to lirpole 6 or 8 mile /.

mi 42 { from chatsworth to congleton—16 mi and so to lirpole as before miles 48 { from Sheffilde over the moores to glossoppe—16 miles to bery 8 miles to blagebourne—12 miles to wyrepole 12 or 14 miles.

The distances seem for the most part singularly underestimated. Lirpole of course is Liverpool, bery Bury, and blagebourne Blackburn. Wyerpool or Wyer Water was in those days, and until Fleetwood was built, an important harbour for vessels of moderate burden. The important thing to remark, however, is that Mary, Queen of Scots, was imprisoned in the Earl of Shrewsbury's manor at South Wingfield, Derbyshire, for some months in 1569, and was removed thence to Tutbury, and thence to Coventry, and thence to Chatsworth, and thence to Lord Shrewsbury's house in Sheffield, where she was in 1574.

It seems, therefore, in the highest degree probable that the first list was drawn up by some adherent of Queen Mary, to be used in her cause.

When we come to the second list, the probability becomes a practical certainty. Its archetype is undoubtedly the paper of 1571, now in the Vatican Archives, which is printed in Prince A. Labanoff's Lettres de Marie Stuart (London, 1844), iii. 251–3. This is a list of English peers, which (as it seems from the confession of Robert Higford, the Duke of Norfolk's secretary) was drawn up by Ridolfi, and submitted by him to the Duke to be annotated. Against certain names the Duke wrote P. for propitius, against others H. for hostis, and against others N. for neuter. In the printed list occasionally N is followed by the sign +, which seems to express a doubt whether the N should not be H.

Father Pollen has found lists similar to the above relating to Scotland, and has published them in the Scottish Historical Society's volume, Papal Negotiations with Mary, Queen of Scots.

Among the "articles to be ministered to [B. Thomas] Cottam, [B. Luke] Kirby, and others, of late * committed to the Tower," is the following:†— "Whether have you not heard of some Catalogues of names of the principal favourers of the Romish religion within this realm have been delivered to the Pope, and what principal persons do you remember to have been contained in the said catalogue?"

Of some such catalogue our first list appears to be a rough draft. As it does not recognise neutrals, it includes under the name of Catholics very many to whom the designation is wholly inapplicable.

In the following notes:—

D.N.B. means The Dictionary of National Biography.

H.S.P. means Harleian Society Publications.

C.R.S. means the publications of this Society.

N. & Q. means Notes and Queries.

(a) See Introduction above, p. 87.

(b) See Cokayne.

(1) William (Somerset), one of the Commissioners for the trial of the Queen of Scots in October 1586, 3rd Earl of Worcester. (D.N.B. liii. 247.)

(2) Henry (Wriothesley), 2nd Earl of Southampton. (D.N.B. lxiii. 152.)

(3) Edward (de Vere), one of the Commissioners for the trial of the Queen of Scots in October 1586, 17th Earl of Oxford. (D.N.B. lviii. 225.)

(4) George (Clifford), one of the Commissioners for the trial of the Queen of Scots in October 1586, 3rd Earl of Cumberland. (D.N.B. xi. 59.)

(5) Henry (Fitzalan), 12th Earl of Arundel. (D.N.B. xix. 88.)

(6) John (Paulet), 2nd Marquess of Winchester.

(7) Anthony (Browne), one of the Commissioners for the trial of the Queen of Scots in October 1586, 1st Viscount Montague. (D.N.B. vii. 40.)

(8) John (Lumley), one of the Commissioners for the trial of the Queen of Scots in October 1586, 6th or 7th Baron Lumley. (D.N.B. xxxiv. 272.)

(9) Lord Giles Paulet, 3rd son of the 1st Marquess of Winchester, was admitted to Gray's Inn 1544; married Mary, d. of Nicholas Trappes, and had one son and two daughters. He lived at Cottles, Wiltshire. (Marshall, 92; Foster, G.I.R. 17.)

(10) Lord Chideock Paulet (4th?), son of the 1st Marquess of Winchester, lived at Wade near Warblington, Hampshire. He was married, and had issue, according to Burke's Peerage, which, (erroneously, if Marshall is to be trusted,) makes him 3rd son. He was Receiver of Hampshire, and Captain of Portsmouth from 1552 to 1562. He retained Elizabeth's confidence to some extent, for on 10 January 1567 he was appointed head of a commission to inquire into concealed lands belonging to suppressed religious houses in Hants and Berks. In 1569 he refused to subscribe the Act of Uniformity; and in 1578 he was a recusant, residing at the Spittle-without-Bishopsgate, London, where mass was being said. (Dasent, iv.–vii.; Cal. Dom. 1547, 207, 287, 348; Cal. Dom. Add. 1566, 550–1.)

It is probable that both Lord Giles and Lord Chideock died not very long after the date of this document.

(11) Thomas (Paget), 3rd Baron Paget. (D.N.B. xliii. 59.)

(12) Edward (Dacre), styling himself Lord Dacre of Gillsland or of the North, is quite ignored by Cokayne. His brother Leonard, who had been receiving 1200 ducats a year from the King of Spain, died at Brussels, 12 Aug. 1573. Up to his brother's death Edward Dacre had been receiving 720 ducats a year, but this allowance was then increased to 1200 ducats. On 1 Dec. 1574 Thomas Wilson, the English Ambassador, formally demanded the expulsion of Edward Dacre and various other English refugees from Spanish territory, and this demand was repeated in a letter from Queen Elizabeth, dated 3 July 1575. He resided at Namur, but afterwards came to Rheims. The date of his death has not been ascertained. (Knox, 157, 161–4, 298; Proost, 284–6; Gachet, xvi. 19–21.)

(13) Edward (Stafford), one of the Commissioners for the trial of the Queen of Scots in October 1586, 3rd Baron Stafford.

(14) Edward (Somerset), 4th Earl of Worcester.

(15) Francis Talbot, 1st s. and h. ap. of George, 6th Earl of Shrewsbury.

(16) Thomas (Wharton), 2nd Baron Wharton. (D.N.B. lx. 416.)

(17) William (Vaux), 3rd Baron Vaux of Harrowden. (D.N.B. lviii. 196.)

(18) William (Stanley), 3rd Baron Monteagle.

(19) Henry (Compton), one of the Commissioners for the trial of the Queen of Scots in October 1586, 1st Baron Compton. (C.R.S. ii. 27, 180, 181.)

(20) John (Stourton), one of the Commissioners for the trial of the Queen of Scots in October 1586, 9th Baron Stourton.

(21) Lord Henry Howard, afterwards 1st Earl of Northampton. (D.N.B. xxviii. 28.)

(22) For Sir John Arundell, called "the great Arundell of Cornwall," son and grandson of knights of the same name, see D.N.B. ii. 141, as corrected and supplemented by N. & Q., 11th Series, iii. 415, 491.

(23) Sir John Throckmorton. (D.N.B. lvi., s.v. Throckmorton, Francis.) He was knighted 21 Aug. 1565. (Shaw, ii. 72.)

(24) Sir Robert Throckmorton, e.s. of John Throckmorton, of Weston Underwood, Warwickshire, by Agnes, d. of Thomas Wilford, of Lenham, Lancashire, was knighted in or before 1564, in which year he was a J.P., and declined to subscribe to the Act of Uniformity in 1569. (Hamilton, 94: Cal. Dom. 1547, 363, 366; Camden Misc. ix. 7.)

(25) Sir Thomas Cornwallis. (D.N.B. xii. 242.) See also Gage.

(26) Sir Henry Bedingfield. (D.N.B. iv. 113.)

(27) Sir John Sulyard, of Wetherden, Suffolk, High Sheriff of Norfolk and Suffolk, 1555–6, knighted 1557; married (1) Elizabeth, d. of Sir Edmund Bedingfield, of Oxborow [Oxburgh]; (2) Elizabeth, d. of Sir John Jerningham, of Somerleyton, by whom he had two sons, Edward and Thomas, both recusants; and (3) Alice, d. of Humphrey Carvell, of Wignall St. Mary's, Norfolk. (Metcalfe, Suffolk, 70, 168; Dasent, v.; Shaw, ii. 76.)

(28) Sir Ralph Chamberlayne, of Gedding, Suffolk, was an officer in the Navy, knighted 2 October 1553. He was Vice-Admiral of the Narrow Seas, 1556–8. (Dasent, vi.; Shaw, ii. 66.)

(29) Sir Thomas Stanley, of Winswick, Derbyshire, 2nd s. of Edward, 3rd Earl of Derby, K.G., was knighted 2 October 1553; married Margaret, d. and co-heir of Sir George Vernon of the Peak; was in the Tower 1572 for a supposed conspiracy on behalf of the Queen of Scots, and died in 1576. (Burke, Peerage; C.R.S. i. 59; Shaw, ii. 66.)

(30) Sir Thomas Gerard, of Bryn, Lancashire, Etwall, Derbyshire, &c., ancestor of the Lords Gerard, was knighted 2 October 1553. In 1558 he was High Sheriff of Lancashire. He was in the Tower 1571–1572 for a supposed conspiracy on behalf of the Queen of Scots, and again 23 August 1586 to 16 October 1588 for supposed complicity in the Babington plot. At the latter date he was removed to the Counter in Wood St. He married Elizabeth, d. and co-h. of Sir John Port of Etwall. He died in September 1601. Both he and Lady Gerard were recusants in 1587. (Strype, A. III. ii. 597; Gillow, ii. 424–6; C.R.S. i. 59, ii. passim; Shaw, ii. 67.)

(31) Sir Warham St. Leger. (D.N.B. l. 167.)

(32) Sir Christopher Heydon, of Baconsthorpe, Norfolk, was knighted in or after 1549, and succeeded his grandfather at Baconsthorpe in 1551. High in the confidence of Queen Mary, he was also a persona grata with Queen Elizabeth. and was appointed a commissioner for the repression of piracy in 1565. He married (1) Anne, d. of Sir William Drury, of Halstead, Suffolk, who died 7 Sept. 1561; (2) Temperance, d. of Sir Wimond Carew, of Antony, Cornwall, who died 9 Oct. 1577; and (3) Agnes, d. of Robert Crane, of Chilton, Suffolk, who survived him, and married Sir Edward Clere. He died 10 Dec. 1579. (Blomefield, vi. 507; Shaw, ii. 64; Dasent, iv.–xi., xxxii. 152; Howard, i. 146.)

(33) Sir John Cotton, of Landwade, Cambridgeshire, was knighted 2 Oct. 1553; married Isabel, d. of Sir William Spencer of Althorp, and died 1593. He signed the Act of Uniformity as a J.P. in 1569. (Shaw, ii. 67; H.S.P. xli. 22; Camden Misc. ix. 24, 25.)

(34) Sir Gervase Clifton, of Clifton, Nottinghamshire, b. about April 1516, was knighted on or before 15 Nov. 1538, and was "generally styled Gentle Sir Gervase." He seems to have been in high favour with Queen Elizabeth. He married (1) Mary, d. of Sir John Neville, of Chete, Yorks; and (2) Winifred, d. and co-h. of William Thwaites, of Oulton, Suffolk, and widow of Sir George Pierrepoint, of Holme. He was a J.P., described by the Protestant bishop as "in religion very cold," in 1564. He died about 20 Jan. 1587/8. (Thoroton, Nottinghamshire (London, 1797), i. 107; Shaw, ii. 51; Camden Misc. ix. 72.)

(35) Sir William Ingilby, of Ripley, Yorks, was knighted 23 Sept. 1545, Treasurer of Berwick, January 1557/8 to July 1562, High Sheriff 1564. As Joint Vice-Steward and Joint Vice-Constable of Knaresburgh Castle with Francis Slingsby under the Earl of Cumberland, he refused to be drawn into participation with the Northern Rising of 1569. He married Anne, d. of Sir William Mallory, of Studley. Their 4th son was the Ven. Francis Ingilby. (Foster, G.V.Y. 283; Shaw, ii. 57; Dasent, vii. 113; Cal. Dom. Add. 1547, 467; Cal. Dom Add. 1566, passim; Pollen, 304; Camden Misc. ix. 72.)

(36) Sir John Southworth, of Samlesbury, near Blackburn, Lancashire, was knighted in September 1547. Two of his sons (respectively the 2nd and 4th), John (C.R.S. vi. 158 n.) and Christopher (C.R.S. i. 74, ii. passim, vi. 158 n.), were priests. In addition to C.R.S. iv. 180, see Baines, i. 535, 538, 539, iii. 354; Shaw, ii. 61; Dasent, xiii.–xv.

(37) Sir Henry Weston, b. 1535 (s. of Sir Francis Weston, K.B., of Sutton Place, Woking, Surrey, who was executed for adultery with Queen Anne Boleyne), was restored in blood 1550, served at the siege of Calais 1557–8, was created K.B. 15 Jan. 1558/9, and twice entertained Queen Elizabeth at Sutton Place. He married Margaret (or Dorothy), d. of Sir Thomas Arundell, K.B., of Dorset, and dying 11 April 1592 was buried in the Church of the Holy Trinity, Guildford. (D.N.B. lx. 360; Brayley, i. 248; Manning and Bray, iii. 123; Shaw, i. 153.)

(38) Sir Edward Bray (e. s. of Sir Edward Bray, sometime Lieutenant of Calais Castle, and M.P. for Surrey, by Beatrice Shirley, his 2nd wife) was knighted 18 July 1560. He was M.P. for Helston, Cornwall, 1570–1, and was in the Queen's Bench prison for debt in 1577. He married (1) Mary, d. of Simon Elvington, of Northton; (2) Elizabeth, d. of William Roper, of Eltham, Kent, who was buried at Eyton Bray in Aug. 1560; (3) Magdalene, d. of Sir Thomas Cotton, who was buried at Shere, 8 March 1563; and (4) Mary, whose parentage is unknown. She survived, and married Edmund Tilney, master of the revels. He was buried at Shere, Surrey, 10 May 1581. (Berry, Surrey, 37; Shaw, ii. 71; Dasent, x. 93.)

(39) Sir William Babthorpe, of Babthorpe, Yorks, e. s. of a knight of the same name, was knighted 18 July 1560, and having married (1) Barbara, d. of Sir Robert Constable, of Everingham, and (2) Frances, d. of Sir Thomas Dawney, of Sezay, was imprisoned in 1580, and died in the spring of 1581. The second Lady Babthorpe was a recusant in 1587. He is described in 1564 as "Justice of Peace and no favourer of religion." (Foster, G.V.Y. 598; Shaw, ii. 71; Simpson, Edmund Campion (edn. 1896), 29, 236; Strype, A. II. ii. 359, III. ii. 597; Camden Misc. ix. 71.)

(40) Sir Marmaduke Constable, of Everingham, Yorks (e. s. of Sir Robert, and brother-in-law of the preceding), was knighted in September 1547. He took the Queen's side in the Northern Rising of 1569, and became a member of the Council of the North in May 1574. He married Jane, d. of Christopher, Lord Conyers, and died before 1582. (Foster, G.V.Y. 198; Shaw, ii. 62; Cal. Dom. Add. 1566.)

(41) Sir John Constable, of Constable Burton, Yorks (e. s. of a knight of the same name), admitted to Gray's Inn 1544, was knighted 2 October 1553. He married (1) Margaret, d. of John, Lord Scrope; and (2) Katharine, d. of Henry, Earl of Westmorland. He seems to have been a Protestant. He died before 1584. (Shaw, ii. 68; Foster, G.I.R. 17; G.V.Y. 57, 58; Camden Misc. ix. 71.)

(42) Sir Rice Griffith of Penrhyn, Sheriff of Carnarvonshire 1567, M.P. for Carnarvon 1555, was knighted Feb. 22 1546/7. (Shaw, ii. 60; Nicholas, 344, 349.)

(43) There is no Sir John Salisbury of Derbyshire to be discovered by such contemporary documents as have been accessible to the present writer. One John Salisbury, knighted 22 Feb. 1546/7, was one of the two Receivers of Wales in 1560. He was of Llewenny, Denbighshire, and died about 1566. He married Katharine Tudor, by whom he had issue. It is possible that the writer of the list here annotated confused Denbighshire and Derbyshire, and had not heard of Sir John's death. (See D.N.B. under Salisbury (Thomas) and Clough (Richard); Shaw, ii. 60.)

(44) Sir Thomas Hanmer, of Hanmer, Flintshire, knighted 22 Feb. 1546/7, by his 2nd wife Catherine, d. of Sir Thomas Mostyn, was father of the first Bart. He died 18 April 1619. (Shaw, ii. 60; Cokayne, B. i. 152.)

(45) Sir Edward Gower, of Stittenham, Yorks, knighted in 1527, who married Margery, d. of Sir Robert Constable, of Flamborough, must have died before or soon after this list was drawn up. (Shaw, ii. 46; Foster, G.V.Y. 226.)

(46) Sir William Fairfax, of Gilling, Yorks, admitted to Gray's Inn 1544, knighted 21 July 1560, married a daughter of Sir [? Richard] Stapleton, of Nottinghamshire. He became a Member of the Council of the North in November 1582. (Shaw, ii. 71; Foster, G.I.R. 17; G.V.Y. 39; Cal. Dom. Add. 1580, 80.)

(47) Sir Richard Cholmeley, of Roxby, Yorks, knighted 11 May 1544, was High Sheriff of Yorkshire 1556–7, and governor of Scarborough Castle from 1557 to his death, which occurred in or just before May 1583. He married (1) Margaret, d. of William, Lord Conyers; and (2) Katharine, d. of Henry, Earl of Westmorland, and widow of John, Lord Scrope. He was in trouble in 1565; but not apparently on account of religion. (Shaw, ii. 55; Foster, G.V.Y. 220; Cal. Dom. 1581, 109; Dasent, vii.)

(48) Sir William Bellasis, or Belasyse, of Newborough, Yorks, father of the first baronet, was knighted in 1557, and was sometime High Sheriff of Yorks. He married Margaret, sister of Sir William Fairfax above (n. 46), and died 13 April 1604, aged 81. (Shaw, ii. 70; s.v. William Bellows; Foster, G.V.Y. 39, 232; Cokayne, i. 43; Cal. Dom. 1598, 530.)

(49) Sir Thomas Danby, of Thorpe Perrow, Yorks, was a brother of Christopher Danby, one of those implicated in the Northern Rising of 1569, and was himself considered "ill-affected in religion." Knighted Sept. 1547, he was at one time High Sheriff of Yorks. He married Margaret, d. of Ralph (Neville), Earl of Westmorland, and was living in 1585. (Shaw, ii. 61; Foster, G.V.Y. 263–4; Cal. Dom. 1595, 530; Cal. Dom. Add. 1566, 181.)

(50) Sir Edward Stradling. (D.N.B. lv. 13.)

(51) Sir Henry Johnes, of Abermarlais, Carmarthenshire, knighted 19 Oct. 1555, Sheriff 1574 and 1584, M.P. 1553, 1554, 1558, 1563; was suspected of Catholic leanings in 1572. He married Elizabeth, d. of Matthew Herbert, of Swansea. (Shaw, ii. 68; Cal. Dom. 1547, 454; Nicholas, 268, 274, 277.)

(52) Sir Thomas Fitzherbert, of Norbury, Derbyshire, is the subject of a notice in Gillow, which however may be briefly supplemented here. He was knighted 22 Feb. 1546–7, and was High Sheriff of Staffordshire 1547 and 1555. Committed to the Fleet in London, 27 Nov. 1561; he was still there inApril 1570. On 2 May 1574 he was released for two months, and on 26 July 1581 he was ordered to be let out on bail for the summer. Being very ill he received leave to remain out of prison 18 June 1582, and again 31 August 1586. In October and November of the previous year he was at Hampstead. In October 1586 he was accused of connexion with the Northern Rising of 1569 (whereas, as we have seen, he appears to have been in the Fleet at the time), of harbouring priests and Jesuits, of complicity with Anthony Babington, and of allowing Fr. Persons to say Mass at Norbury. He was summoned before the Council 26 March 1587, and imprisoned at Wisbech, whence he was released on bail, 29 June 1589. He was imprisoned again at Broughton, March 1589–90, and passed thence into the custody successively of the Archbishop of Canterbury and Sir John Hart, late Lord Mayor of London. Sent to the Tower at his own expense as close prisoner, 10 Jan. 1590–1, he was threatened with paralysis, and allowed to walk about within the confines of the Tower, 9 June, but died 2 Oct. 1591. (Gillow; C.R.S. i. 49; Cal. Dom. 1547, 524; Dasent, viii. xiii.–xxi.; Cal. Dom. 1581; Vict. Hist. Derby, ii. 23 sqq.; Strype, W. i. 529.)

(53) Sir Roland Stanley, of Hooton, Cheshire, knighted 2 Oct. 1553, was High Sheriff of Cheshire in 1576. He married (1) Margaret, d. of Hugh Aldersey, of Cheshire (by whom he was the father of Sir William Stanley, the well-known Catholic adventurer); and (2) Ursula, d. of Sir Thomas Smith. Though a suspect in 1580, he remained on the commission of the peace for Cheshire in 1585, and became in some degree responsible for the martyrdom of Ven. Thomas Holford. He died 1612, aged 96. (D.N.B. liv. 82; H.S.P. xviii. 215; Shaw, ii. 67.)

(54) Sir Charles Somerset, of Troy and Dixton, Monmouthshire, knighted in January 1572/3, M.P. for the county 1571 and 1572, 4th son of Henry, 2nd Earl Worcester; married Mary, d. of Thomas Brayne, of the Forest of Dean. His name occurs in the Concertatio Ecclesiæ. (Shaw, ii. 75; Bradney, i. 23; Nicholas, 765.)

(55) Sir Humphrey Bradborne (or Braidburie), of Ashbourn, Derbyshire, s. of John Bradbourne, and Elizabeth, d. and co-heir of Richard Cotton, of Ridware, Staffordshire, was knighted 18 May 1544. In 1564 he is described as a J.P. and an adversary to religion. He was Sheriff in 1563 and 1574. He married Elizabeth, d. of Sir William Turville, of Newhall, Leicestershire, and died 17 April 1581. (Cox, iii. 389–91; Camden Misc. ix. 43; Shaw, ii. 56.)

(56) Sir John Spencer, of Althorp, Northants, ancestor of the Earls of Sunderland, Dukes of Marlborough, &c., was knighted 2 Oct. 1553. In 1564 he was a J.P. of Northants and a great "letter" of Protestantism, and became a commissioner of musters for Northants in 1569, and High Sheriff in 1584. In the latter capacity he was ordered to arrest "William Parsons, a Jesuit." He married Katharine, d. of Sir Thomas Kitson, of Hengrave, Suffolk, and died 19 June 1608. (Cokayne, i. 69; Metcalfe, 48; Shaw, ii. 67; Cal. Dom. 1581, 207; Camden Misc. ix. 36.)

(57) Sir Anthony Stirley, or Strelley, of Beauchief Abbey, Derbyshire, knighted 3 Oct. 1547; was sometime Governor of Harlech Castle, in co. Merioneth, and died about 1580, leaving a son and heir, Anthony. (Shaw, ii. 63; Cal. Dom. 1581, 577; Cox, i. 79.)

(58) Sir John Bourne, on the accession of Queen Mary became Principal Secretary of State (an office which he resigned just before the close of the reign to Dean Boxall) and a Member of the Privy Council (which post he retained to her death). He was uncle to Gilbert Bourne, the last Catholic Bishop of Bath and Wells, and possessed the manor of Battenhall, in the parish of St. Peter, Worcester, and other property in Worcestershire. He was knighted 2 Oct. 1553. On Elizabeth's accession he retired to Battenhall, and soon after, as High Steward of Worcester Cathedral, embarked on a quarrel with Sandys, the new Protestant Bishop of Worcester, an ancient enemy, which landed him in the Marshalsea 1563, from which he emerged at the cost of his principles and dignity. He died in 1570, leaving at least two sons, Anthony and Thomas, both of whom were recusants. The second is mentioned in the Concertatio Ecclesiæ. It is surprising how little is known of this statesman. This list obviously assumes him to be still alive. (Shaw, ii. 66; Dasent, iv.–vi.; Cal. Dom. 1547, 223; Strype, A. i. ch. xxxv.; Vict. Hist. Worcestershire, ii. 47, sqq.; Nash, i. 593-4.)

(59) Henry Jerningham, e. s. of Sir Henry Jerningham, of Costessy, Norfolk (D.N.B. xxix. 349), and Mary his wife, d. of Sir Edward Baynham, of Bedingfield, Suffolk. Married (1) Eleanor, d. of William, Lord Dacre of Gillsland; and (2) Frances, d. of Sir John Jerningham, and widow of Thomas Bedingfield, Esq. He died 15 June 1619, and was buried at St. Margaret's, Westminster. (Blomefield, ii. 415; but see C.R.S. vii. 431.)

(62) Roger Townshend. (D.N.B. lvii. 130; C.R.S. ii. 239; Cal. Cecil MSS. iv. 267.)

(63) Michael Townshend remains unidentified. Possibly Thomas Townshend, of Braconash, a magistrate suspected in 1587. (Strype, A. III. ii. 460.)

(64) William Paston. (D.N.B. xliv. 8.)

(65) Clement Paston. (D.N.B. xliv. 1.)

(66) Nicholas Browne, of Elsing, Norfolk, is doubtless the e. s. of William Browne (e. s. of Sir Anthony Browne, D.N.B. vii. 38), by Anne, d. and co-heir of John Hastings, Esq., of Elsing. (Blomefield, viii. 201.) Anthony Brown of Elsing was a recusant 1592. (Cal. Cecil MSS. iv. 268.)

(67) Christopher Lovell, if he had any existence, was probably a son of Sir Thomas Lovell, of Harling, Norfolk, by Elizabeth, d. of Sir Philip Paris, of Little Linton, Cambridgeshire. She was a recusant in 1587. [See note 560 post.] The 1st and 3rd sons of the above marriage, Thomas and Robert, were recusants in 1578, and Robert was sent to Wisbech Castle in 1590, and was a recusant described as of Beech Amwell in 1592. (See H.S.P. xxxii. 191; Dasent, x. 312, 333, 342, xix. 10; Cal. Cecil MSS. iv. 268; Strype, A. 460, 497.)

(68) Charles Waldegrave, e. s. of Sir Edward Waldegrave, (as to whom see D.N.B. lix. 13, and The Month for Sept. 1909, "Flotsam and Jetsam"), married Jeronyma, sister of Henry Jerningham (note 59 above), by whom he became ancestor of the Earls Waldegrave, and died 25 January 1580.

(69) Robert Downes, e. s. of John Downes, of Great Melton, Norfolk, admitted to Lincoln's Inn 19 April 1564, was imprisoned in the King's Bench and indicted at the Essex Assizes for hearing Mass in 1561. He was a recusant throughout his life, and got into trouble in 1578, 1580, and 1590, being imprisoned at Norwich in 1580, and at Wisbech Castle in 1590. He married Margaret Kempe, of Essex, and died in 1594 or 1595. (H.S.P. xxxii. 109; Rec. Linc. Inn Adm. 71; Dasent, x. 310, 313, 342, xix. 10; C.R.S. i. 50, 52; Cal. Cecil MSS. iv. 268; Cal. Dom. 1581, 88. 290, 318; Strype, A. II. ii. 342.)

(70) George Downes, 2nd son, brother of the above, was a recusant in 1592. (H.S.P. xxxii. 109; Cal. Cecil MSS. iv. 268.)

(71) John Downes, of Hepworth, Suffolk, and of Boughton, Norfolk, probably the son of Robert (above, n. 69), was a recusant in 1578 and 1586 and 1592. (H.S.P. xxxii. 109; Dasent, x. 310, 312; Cal. Cecil MSS. iv. 268; Cal Dom. 1581, 319; Strype, P. ii. 155.)

(72) One Ralph Downes was mayor of King's Lynn in 1556. Another was admitted to Lincoln's Inn 14 May 1564, and was there in 1580. (Strype, A. II. ii. 343; Rec. Linc. Inn Adm. i. 71.)

(73) Philip Paris, of Little Linton, Cambridgeshire, was e. s. of Sir Philip Paris (knighted 1553), and father of the recusant Ferdinando Paris, of Norton, Norfolk. (H.S.P. xli. 37; Blomefield, vii. 116, 119; Cal. Dom. 1581, v. 319; Dasent, x. 310, xviii. 415.)

(74) Probably Henry Doyly, of Shotesham, Sheriff of Norfolk and Suffolk in 1573, and of Norfolk in 1590. He was suspected of popery in 1587. He married Anne, d. and sole heir of Edmund White, of Shotesham, and died in May 1597. (Blomefield, v. 508; H.S.P. xxxii. 113; Strype, A. III. ii. 460.)

(75) Roger Martin, b. 1537, e. s. of Richard Martin, of Long Melford, Suffolk, by Ann Eden, of London, his first wife, entered Lincoln's Inn 14 March 1545/6. He married (1) Ursula, d. of Sir Thomas Jermyn, of Rushbrooke, Suffolk, who was buried at Melford, 30 April 1562; and (2) Margaret, d. of Walter Bowles, Esq., of Pembrokeshire, who was buried at Melford, 16 April 1578, and himself died 3 August 1615. He was a recusant throughout his long life, and so was his eldest son Richard. He was imprisoned at Ipswich in 1578, and at Wisbech in 1590. In 1586 he agreed to pay 40 marks a year for his recusancy. In 1598 he is, probably by mistake, described as of Northants. (Rec. Linc. Inn Adm. i. 55 ; Parker (Sir W.), Long Melford (London, 1873), 124 ; Metcalfe, Suffolk, 52, 152 ; Strype, A. II. ii. 343, 677, III. ii. 422 ; Dasent, x. 313, xi. 47, xix. 10, xxviii. 589.)

(76) John Daniel, e. s. of Edmund Daniel, of Acton, Suffolk, was imprisoned as a recusant at Bury St. Edmunds in 1578. He married Margaret, d. and co-heir of Edmund Tyrrel, Esq., of "Beches" in Essex. He and his wife each paid £20 a year as a fine for their recusancy. He died without issue 15 Sept. 1597. (Dasent, x. 313, xi. 254 ; Metcalfe, Suffolk, 132 ; C.R.S. i. 118 ; Strype, A. III. ii. 422.)

(77) George Cotton, of Warblington, Hants (who married Mary, sister of William Shelley, of Michelgrove), spent a long time in prison in the Fleet, at Ely, at Banbury Castle, and elsewhere for his religion, and between 1587 and 1607 paid £260 a year in fines for his recusancy. He died 8 Jan. 1609/10. (N. & Q., 10th Series, iv. 56, 114, xi. 382.)

(78) Henry Shelley, e. s. of Thomas Shelley, of Mapledurham, near Petersfield, Hants, entered the Inner Temple November 1559, was imprisoned at the White Lion, Southwark, 14 June 1579 to 11 June 1581, and died in 1585. (N. & Q. 10th S. ii. 155, 457 ; M.I.T. 33.)

(79) Thomas Gawen, e. s. of William Gawen, of Northington in Alvediston, Wilts, entered the Inner Temple Nov. 1559. He married Katharine, sister of Charles Waldegrave (above, n. 68). He was imprisoned at Ely as a recusant, 1589–90. His daughter Mary Frances became a Benedictine nun at Brussels, 1602. (M.I.T. 33 ; Gillow, ii. 407 ; Dasent, xviii. 415.)

(80) Benjamin Tichborne, 1st Baronet, educated at Winchester College. (Cokayne, B. i. 160–161 ; Kirby (T. F.), Winchester Scholars (London, &c., 1888), 131.)

(81) Jerome Tichborne is unknown. Possibly to be identified with Chideock Tichborne (D.N.B. lvi. 374 ; Gillow, v. 544), or with the latter's father, Peter of Porchester, or his uncle, Nicholas of Hartley Maudit, who died after nine years' imprisonment in Winchester gaol in 1589, and was probably father of Ven. Thomas Tichborne.

(82) Probably Henry Finch. (D.N.B. xix. 12.)

(84) Robert Dymoke. (D.N.B. xvi. 295.)

(85) Henry Drury, of Ickworth, Suffolk, a fugitive beyond sea 1576, was imprisoned at Ipswich and Bury St. Edmunds in 1578, and was removed thence by reason of the plague in 1579. He paid £20 a year as a fine for recusancy. He died about 1585. His son Henry imprisoned in London 1586–7, and at Banbury or Broughton 1589–90, died at Antwerp about 1594. (Dasent, x. 313, xi. 47, xviii. 415 ; Cal. Dom. 1581, 218, 232 ; C.R.S. ii. 276 ; Strype, A. II. ii. 596, III. i. 609, ii. 422 ; Cal. Dom. 1591, 533.)

by Anne, widow of John Tyrrell, of Heron, and d. of Sir William Browne, Lord Mayor of London. Lady Petre was a recusant in 1588. He was created first Baron Petre, of Writtle, Essex. (Cokayne ; Strype, A. III. ii. 597.)

(87) Sir Thomas Kitson, of Hengrave, Suffolk, b. 9 Oct. 1539, was knighted 5 August 1578, having twice entertained Queen Elizabeth at Hengrave in that year. He married (1) Jane, d. of William, Lord Paget, who died in 1558; and (2) in 1560 Elizabeth, d. of Sir Thomas Cornwallis, of Brome (above, n. 25). He was suspected of harbouring the priest Hugh Hall in 1583. Lady Kitson was a recusant 1588, and was indicted for recusancy in 1599, but was probably acquitted. Sir Thomas died 28 Jan. 1601/2. (Gage ; Shaw, ii. 79 ; Cal. Dom. 1581, 449 ; Strype, A. III. ii. 597.)

(88) Francis Bastard, of West Winch, Norfolk, and Newington, Middlesex, patron of the living of Bawsey, Norfolk, in 1551, was committed to Newgate, 10 Jan. 1583/4, and found guilty, 20 Jan., of hearing a Mass and not going to church for a whole year. He was in prison in or near London, 30 Sept. 1588. He married Ursula, d. of John Dethick, of Wormegay. (C.R.S. ii. 237, 284 ; Strype, A. III. ii. 600 ; Blomefield, viii. 346 ; H.S.P. xxxii. 20.)

(89) Alexander Dering, of Kent, married Katharine, d. of Richard Hovell, of Stratford Halley, Norfolk, widow of Francis Fisk, of Bisham, Norfolk, and of Edward Mordaunt, of Hempsted, Essex. His house was ordered to be searched for vestments, books, and other "massing tools," 9 June 1576. (H.S.P. xxxii. 161, xlii. 209 ; Cal. Dom. 1547, 524.)

(90) Robert Rockley, of Rockley, Yorks, married Jane, d. of Sir William Fairfax, and died before 1585. (Foster, G.V.Y. 343.)

(91) Martin Anne, of Frickley, Yorks, married (1) Elizabeth, widow of Robert Nevill, of Ragnall, Yorks ; and (2) Frances, d. of Ralph Aungier, of Redness, Yorks, and died before 1585. (Foster, G.V.Y. 360.)

(92) and (93) Thomas and Gamaliel Drax, the 1st and 7th sons, respectively, of Thomas Drax, of Woodhall, Yorks, were both alive in 1585. Thomas married Jane, d. of Sir John Davenport, of Broomhill, Cheshire, and died without issue, him surviving. Gamaliel married Isabel, d. of John Middleton, of Middleton, Westmorland, widow of John Middleton of Stockeld. (Hunter, South Yorkshire (London, 1828–31), ii. 108 ; Foster, G.V.Y. 342.)

(94) William Thornborough, e. s. of Sir William Thornborough, of Hampsfield, Cartmel, Lancashire, and Selside, Westmorland, married Etheldreda, d. of Sir Thomas Carus, of Halton, Justice of the King's Bench, and both were arrested at Limehouse, near London, with the wife of the Justice, and others, including Mrs. Thornborough's brother, at the latter's house, preparing to hear Mass, 4 April 1574. (C.R.S. vi. 251–2 ; Strype, P. ii. 365–6.)

(95) Thomas Wentworth, of Wentworth Woodhouse, Yorks, ancestor of the Earls of Strafford, married Margaret, d. and h. of William Gascoigne, of Gawthorpe, Yorks, was High Sheriff of Yorkshire 1583, and died Feb. 14, 1586/7. (Cokayne, i. 30 ; Foster, G.V.Y. 375.)

(96) Francis Wortley, of Wortley, married (1) Mary, d. of Robert Swyft, of Rotherham ; (2) Frances, d. of Thomas Burdet, of Burthwaite. (Foster, G.V.Y. 59^{2} ; H.S.P. xvi. 302.)

(97) Lancelot Gildridge, of Beddington, Sussex, married Margaret, d. of Henry Shelley, of Mapledurham, near Petersfield, Hants. (H.S.P. liii. 193 ; Berry, Sussex, 155.)

(98) For William Shelley, of Michaelgrove, Clapham, Sussex, see N. & Q., 10th Series, iii. 441, 492; iv. 55, 114, 492. He entered the Inner Temple in November 1555. (M.I.T. 23.)

(99) For John Gage, of Firle, Sussex, see N. & Q. 10th Series, vi. 468, vii. 102, viii. 241, and n. 388 below.

(100) Arden Waferer entered the Inner Temple in Nov. 1554, and in process of time became a counsellor-at-law and utter barrister. In 1569 he appeared before the Star Chamber and confessed that though he "useth to come to the Temple Church and walk about the Roundell there" he had never received the communion since the beginning of the reign. In consequence he was expelled from the Inner Temple and disbarred in 1570. His house in Chancery Lane, London, was searched in August 1584 and August 1586. On the first occasion certain books and papers were found; on the second, three sprigs of palm with crosses bound on them. He had among his pupils John Sherwood, afterwards S.J., a younger brother of B. Thomas Sherwood. From his name, and from the fact that he had a brother named Francis (who was a Member of the Inner Temple and afterwards a priest), it is practically certain that he was a son of Francis Waferer, of London, who married Mary, 4th d. of Thomas Arden, of Park Hall, Crudworth, Worcestershire. In that case he was first cousin to the martyr Edward Arden, one of the Prætermissi. He married Edith, e. d. of Sir Thomas Metham, of Metham, Yorks (by his 2nd wife Edith, d. of Nicholas Palmer, of Naburn), as to whom see the Catholic Encyclopædia, x. 237. (Cal. Inner T. Rec. I. l. to liv.; Cal. Dom. 1581, 198, 282, 345; Cal. Dom. 1547, 655; H.S.P. xii. 181–2; Pollen, 8; Foster, G.V.Y. 253.)

(101) Unidentified. Probably a mistake for George Darrell or Dorrell, J.P. of Cale Hill, who died 2 July 1578. (H.S.P. xlii. 187.)

(102) Thomas Croft, of Ocle Park, 3rd son of Richard Croft, of Croft Castle, Herefordshire, by Katharine, d. of Sir Richard Herbert, of Montgomery, and brother of Sir James Croft, Lord-deputy of Ireland and comptroller of the household to Queen Elizabeth, was a recusant in 1564 and 1592. He was very probably the father of the Thomas and Alexander Croft mentioned in Cal. Dom. 1547, 682, and the ancestor of the Catholic family of Croft of Llanfair Cilgoed, Monmouthshire. (Weaver, Heref. 21; Cal. Cecil MSS. iv. 265; Camden Misc. ix. 19.)

(103) William Lingen, of Thavies Inn, one of the nine Inns of Chancery, was the second son of John Lingen, of Sutton and Stoke Edith, Herefordshire. He was committed to Newgate, 10 January 1583/4, and on the following 20th Jan. was found guilty of having heard Mass, and not having gone to church for a year. He seems to have been liberated on paying a fine, but in August 1586 he was re-arrested by the Constable of Shoreditch, when he was on his way to Cambridge, and was lodged in the Gatehouse, from which he was released 12 Nov. 1586. However, he was in prison again in or near London, 30 Sept. 1588. He married Cecily, sister of Ven. John Ingram. His son Edward, also a recusant, was attainted of treason in 1594, but pardoned 4 May 1604. (C.R.S. ii. 237, 260, 267, 283; Cal. Dom. 1581, 345; N. & Q. 10th Series, iii. 443; Burke, Landed Gentry under "Burton"; Strype, A. III. ii. 600.)

(104) John Fitz, of Fitzford, Devon, born about 1529, a member of the Inner Temple 1551, called to the Bench 1568, M.P. Tavistock 1554, married Mary, d. of Sir John Sydenham, of Brampton, Somersetshire, and died in 1589. (Vivian, Devon, 342; Cal. Inner T. Rec. i. 171, 175; M.I.T. 12.)

(105) Ralph Sheldon, b. 1537, of Beoly, Worcestershire (grandfather of Edward Sheldon, D.N.B. lii. 23), was an intimate friend of Fr. Persons, S.J. (See as to this C.R.S. ii.) Committed to the Marshalsea in August 1580, he was removed on the following 1 November, on account of his health, to the custody of the Dean of Westminster. He conformed 3 January 1580/1, but on 31 Dec. 1583 Hugh Hall, the Marian priest (condemned with Edward Arden), who saved his life by betraying his benefactors, confessed to having said Mass in his house, and in 1587 and 1594 Ralph Sheldon was again in trouble, in the latter year owing to the treachery of his nephew, Richard Williams. He was dropped from the commission of the peace for Worcestershire, though the Protestant bishop commends his wisdom, about 1587. The benefit of his recusancy was granted to one David Drummond, 4 May 1610. He married Anne, d. of Sir Robert Throgmorton, of Coughton, Warwickshire, and died 30 March 1613. (Dasent, xii. 166, 254, 301, xv. 137; Nash, i. 64, 66; Cal. Cecil MSS. iv. 618; Cal. Dom. 1585, 142, 449; Cal. Dom. 1591, passim; Cal. Dom. 1603, 591; Strype, A. III. ii. 458.)

(106) Probably Miles Corbet, e. s. of John Corbet, of Sprouston, Norfolk. He was knighted at Cadiz in 1596, and married (1) Catherine, d. of Sir Christopher Heydon (above, n. 32), and (2) Catherine (née Sanders), widow of John Spilman of Narburgh. He died in 1607. (193) Probably Robert Rokeby, of Marske (living 1584), who married Muriel, d. of Gerard Salvin, of Croxdale, Durham. (Foster, G.V.Y. 199.)

(194) Probably Thomas Fox, of Marderby Grange, who married Clare Pinkeney. (Foster, G.V.Y. 518.)

(195) Christopher Lockwood, of Sowerby, married Clare, d. of Christopher Lascelles of Brackenborough. Their eldest son was the Ven. John Lockwood, and their second son Francis was also a priest. He himself was at one time secretary to the Earl of Westmorland and was indicted; but his name does not appear in the list of attainders. (Foster, G.V.Y. 549; Gillow, iv. 308; Sharp, 81.)

(196) Thomas Lascelles, of Brackenborough, was knighted in January 1599/1600, married Joan, d. of Sir William Mallory, of Studley, and died in May 1619. (Foster, G.V.Y. 61.)

(197) William Lacy, of Sherburn, 2nd s. of Thomas Lacy, of Beverley, married Elizabeth Newby, and was in prison at Hull in 1592 as a recusant. (Foster. G.V.Y. 539; Cal. Cecil MSS. iv. 273.)

(198) George Palmes, of Essington in Holderness, married Anne, d. of —— Lacy, of Folkton. (Foster, G.V.Y. 90.)

(199) Ralph Salvin, of Newbiggin, married Dorothy, d. of Roger Tocketts (n. 191 above). (Foster, G.V.Y. 195.)

(200) Roger Radcliffe, of Mulgrave (living 1584), married Mary, d. of John Ryther, of Ryther, and is said to have entertained priests, 1593. (Foster, G.V.Y. 206; C.R.S. v. 221.)

(201) See n. 181 above.

(202) Probably John Thweng, of Over Helmsley (elder brother of Thomas, n. 181 above), who married Maude, d. of Thomas Grimston (n. 117 above). (Foster, G.V.Y. 230.)

(203) See n. 137 above.

(204) Unidentified. The venerable martyr Robert Dalby, a native of the bishopric of Durham, was a minister before his conversion, and may have lived in Yorkshire. (Pollen, 330; Challoner, Missionary Priests.)

(205) Seth Holme, of Huntington, (living 1584), married Helen, d. of John Seyer (n. 165 above). (Foster, G.V.Y. 224.)

(206) William Thoresby, of Thoresby, married Anne, d. of Henry Scrope, of Spennithorne.

(207) Francis Scrope, of Danby, e. s. of Henry Scrope, of Spennithorne, and Margaret, d. and h. of Simon Conyers, of Danby upon Yore, married Dorothy, d. of Anthony Caterick, of Stanwick. (Burke, Landed Gentry.)

(208) Hector Wentworth, of Clee, died 26 Dec. 1585, leaving a daughter. (H.S.P. lii. 1063.)

of Flamborough. On 24 October 1593, the spy Anthony Atkinson reports "There is one Mr. Craik in Yorkshire, a great harbourer of Preists." In 1592 one Ralph Crag of St. Clements in Westminster was a recusant. (Foster, G.V.Y. 163; C.R.S. v. 222; Cal. Cecil MSS. iv. 267.)

(210) Sir William Ingilby, at Brasenose Coll., Oxford, 1562, sup. B.A. 1564, knighted 17 April 1603, e. s. of Sir William Ingilby (note 35 above), married (1) Anne, d. of Thomas Thwaites, and (2) Katharine, d. and h. of Anthony Smyth or Smethley, of Brantingham, and d. 5 Jan. 1617. (Shaw, ii. 100; Foster, G.V.Y. 283; Brasenose Coll. Reg. 32.)

(211) David Ingilby, the 2nd son, brother of the above, also at B.N.C. in 1562, married Lady Anne Neville, 2nd d. of Charles, 6th Earl of Westmorland. Great efforts were made for his apprehension from 1594 to 1600, but apparently in vain. (C.R.S. v. 221, 222; Cal. Dom. 1591, 544; 1595, 183; 1597, 188, 378, 576; Cal. Border Papers, i. 237, 239, 248, 250, 519, ii. 344; Cal. Cecil MSS. iv. 258, 478; Brasenose Coll. Reg. 31.)

(212) William Plumpton, of Plumpton, e. s. of Robert Plumpton, who died before 1547, and Anne, d. of John Norton, of Norton Conyers, married (1) Mary, d. of Sir William Vavasour, and (2) ——, d. of Griffin, of Dingley, Northants. (Foster, G.V.Y. 386.)

(213) (Sir) William Ardington married Katharine, sister to William and David Ingilby (nn. 210, 211 above). (Foster, G.V.Y. 273.)

(214) William Hawkesworth, of Hawkesworth, (living 1585), married Rosamund, d. of Thomas Lister, of Westby. William Hawkesworth, of Milton, was a recusant in 1592. (Foster, G.V.Y. 299; Cal. Cecil MSS. iv. 273.)

(215) John Trollope, of Thornley, e. s. of Thomas Trollope by his first wife Margaret, d. of Roger Lumley, of Ludworth, married Maud, sister of the confessor Sir Thomas Metham (see n. 131 above.) He was attainted for complicity in the rebellion of 1569 and fled abroad. His expulsion from Spanish territory was demanded by Queen Elizabeth, 3 July 1575. He was eventually pardoned, and returned. He died 14 Feb. 1611. (Foster, G.V.Y. 253; D.V.P. 307; Cal. For. 1569, 269; Surtees, i. 92; Proost, 284–5; C.R.S. v. 193.)

(216) William Smythe, of Eshe, Walworth, Nunstainton, and Woodham, all in co. Durham, e. s. of George Smythe, was a Catholic who took part in the rebellion of 1569, and was attainted, but pardoned. He married Margaret, 2nd d. and co-h. of Anthony Eshe, of Eshe and Barmton, and was great-grandfather of Sir Edward Smythe, 1st Bart. (Surtees, ii. 336, 338; Cal. Dom. Add. 1566, 100, 266, 267, 424.)

(217) Ralph Conyers, of Layton, e. s. of Cuthbert Conyers, was attainted in 1569, but pardoned, and died 12 Jan. 1605. (Surtees, iii. 37.)

(218) William Claxton, of Wynyard, e. s. of Ralph Claxton, was a skilful herald and antiquary. He married Margery, d. of Robert Lambert, of Owlton, and died in 1597. (Surtess, iii. 79.)

(219) Robert Claxton, of Old Park, e. son of Robert Claxton, was attainted in the rebellion of 1569 but pardoned. He married Alice, sister and co-h. of Marmaduke Lambton, and his will is dated 10 Oct. 1587. (Surtees, iii. 299; Cal. Dom. Add. 1566, 262, 266, 271, 280.)

(220) Ralph Conyers, of Cotham Conyers, e. s. of Robert Conyers, was apparently a Protestant, but took part in the Northern Rebellion, and was attainted, but pardoned. He married, 3 June 1572, Janet Thorpe, a widow, and died Jan. 1580/1. (Surtees, iii. 219; Cal. Dom. Add. 1566, 177, 263, 266, 271, 280, 308.)

(221) Anthony Preston, of East Morton, 3rd son of Reynold Preston, of Biggins Hall, married Dorothy, d. of William Witham, of Brettonby, and was a recusant in 1592. (Foster, D.V.P. 263; Cal. Cecil MSS. iv. 265.)

(222) Gerard Salvin, e. s. of Gerard Salvin, of Croxdale, was imprisoned with his father at Durham on the failure of the rebellion of 1569. His father died in Feb. 1570/1. He married Joan, d. of Richard Norton, of Norton Conyers, and died 9 Nov. 1587. (Surtees, IV. ii. 119; Sharp, op. cit. 128.)

(223) Francis Bulmer, of Elmden, Yorks, and Tursdale, co. Durham, son of Sir William Bulmer, was admitted to Lincoln's Inn 11 Feb. 1551/2. He married Catherine, d. of Richard Norton, of Norton Conyers. (Foster, D.V.P. 55; Rec. Linc. Adm. i. 60.)

(224) William Hodgson, of the Manor House, Lanchester, 4th son of James Hodgson, of Newcastle, married Jane, daughter of Sir Christopher Hildyard, and died in 1600. In 1598 the Bishop of Durham mentions him as "an old servant and follower of the earl" of Westmorland. and "a perilous fellow, conformable to all her majesty's proceedings, and farmour to her highness of the whole deanery of Lanchester dissolved, worth, it is said, some 200 ma. or better, above the yearly rent." His son John was "a special recusant," who was, but it seems erroneously, reported to have married Katharine, widow of Sir Thomas Gray, and daughter of the Earl of Westmorland; and in 1592 great efforts had been made to take him. (Surtees, ii. 319; Cal. Cecil MSS. iv. 258; Strype, A. iv. 481.)

(225) Probably Richard Conyers, e. s. of Christopher Conyers, of Horden, who was in prison at Durham in 1569, and married Elizabeth, d. and co-h. of Roger Lumley, of Ludworth, and was living 31 Eliz. (Surtees, I. ii. 28; Sharp, 128.)

(226) Probably Christopher Claxton, 2nd son of William (n. 218 above). He was in prison at Durham in 1569, and died in the lifetime of his father. (Surtees, iii. 79; Sharp, 129.)

(227) Probably Anthony Weldon, J.P., of Swanscombe, Kent, Clerk of the Green Cloth to Queen Elizabeth, who died 16 Eliz. (Hasted, i. 261; Camden Misc. ix. 58.)

(228) John Powell remains unknown, unless he was one of the family of Polhill alias Polley, for whom see H.S.P. xlii. 87–88.

(229) Thomas Thwaytes, of Hardingham, Norfolk, married Bridget, d. of Robert Spring, of Lenham, Suffolk, and died 31 Eliz. His e. son Anthony was a recusant in 1592. (H.S.P. xxxii. 284; Cal. Cecil MSS. iv. 268; Blomefield, i. 226.)

(230) Probably Francis Downes. of Wramplingham, Norfolk, admitted to Lincoln's Inn 19 Feb. 1552/3, who married Elizabeth, d. of William Dyve, of Bromham, Beds., and died before 1591. (H.S.P. xxxii. 110; Rec. Linc. Inn Adm. i. 60; Blomefield, ii. 486.)

(231) Jerome Brett, of Leeds, Kent, afterwards of London, died before 34 Eliz. (Strype A. II. ii. 617; Hasted. ii. 484.)

(232) John Smith is possibly the person of this name who about 1588 was serving Dr. Worthington at Brussels. He is described in the Concertatio as "nobilis exul." (Cal. Dom. 1581, 570.)

(328) Thomas Bodenham, living in 1634, married Mary, d. of Sir Francis Bacon, of Kinlet Hall, Salop. (Burke, Landed Gentry, 1847 edn.)

(329) John Harper, of Amberley in Marden, married Sybell, d. of Thomas Walwyn, of Longford in Lugwardine. (Weaver, Heref. 40.)

(330) Walter Baskerville, 4th son of the Sir James Baskerville who died 1546, and brother of the Sir James Baskerville who died 1573, married Jane, d. of Richard Grevill, and widow of Thomas Tame, of Stowell, Gloucestershire. (Weaver, Heref. 8; Fenwick and Metcalfe, Visitation of Gloucester, 79.)

(331) Richard Walwyn, son of the Sir Richard Walwyn knighted at Queen Mary's coronation (below, n. 546), was High Sheriff of Herefordshire in 1582.

(332) Richard Lingen, of Dormington, a recusant in 1581 and 1592, is probably to be identified with Richard Lingen of Stoke Edith (5th son of John Lingen) who married (1) Ann, d. of Thomas Havard (n. 318 above), and (2) Elizabeth Spenser, widow, and died 1631. (Burke, Landed Gentry, under Burton of Longner Hall; Cal. Cecil MSS. lv. 265; Dasent, xiii. 192, 292.)

(333) Walter Lingen (3rd son), brother of the above, entered the Inner Temple 1550, married Elizabeth, d. of Philip Baker, and died 1577. (Burke, loc. cit.)

(334) Thomas Lingen (4th son), brother of the above.

(335) i.e. Lygon, of Cowarne. Unidentified.

(336) Richard Harford, of Bosbury, was in 1564 "no justice, but the Quenes majesties generall surveior . . . of all Hereford shere, and receivor to her majestie of Soche landes as belonged lately to the bishop of Hereford," and was considered unfavourable to Protestantism. He married Katharine, d. of William Purfoy, of Northants, and died 1578. (Camden Misc. ix. 13, 19; Weaver, Heref. 38.)

(337) Richard Willison, of Sugwas in Eaton Bishop, married Anne, d. of William Elton, of Ledbury, and died 25 Feb. 1574. (Weaver, Heref. 77.)

(338) John Breynton, of Stratton, married Elizabeth, d. of Thomas Smyth, of Credenhill. (Weaver, Heref. 13.)

(339) Probably John Scudamore, 3rd son of the John Scudamore first mentioned n. 309 above, who married Joan, d. and h. of Edmund Payne, of Fownhope.

(340) Probably Philip Scudamore, 4th son, who married Joan, d. of Richard Warncombe, and widow of Walter Kerle.

(341) James Scudamore was very likely the e. s. of John Scudamore (n. 310 above). He was a recusant in 1592. (Cal. Cecil MSS. iv. 265.)

(342) John Parry, of Morehampton. Possibly the John Parry sent to the Gatehouse 15 August 1585, for hearing Mass, and still there 7 Dec. 1586. (C.R.S. ii. 245, 271.)

(343) James Parry a prisoner in the Fleet. (Cal. Cecil MSS. iv. 413; N. & Q., 10th S., iv. 492.)

(351) Anthony Washborne, of Bosbury, married Anne, d. of Thomas Leyland. (Weaver, op. cit. 73.)

(352) Thomas Wigmore, of Shobdon, married Mary, d. of Ellis Evans, alias Bithill, of Northop, Flintshire. (Weaver, Heref. 71.)

(353) William Capell, illegitimate son of Thomas Capell, of Howe Capell, d.s.p. 10 Nov. 1577. (Weaver, Heref. 17.)

(354) Richard Capell, e. s. of Edward Capell, married, 1568, Mylborough, d. of Anthony Washborne (n. 351 above), and was buried at Ledbury, 4 May 1601.

(355) Thomas Smyth, of Credenhill, or Thomas Smyth, of Weston. See Weaver, Heref. 96.

(356) George Crompe, probably father of Adam Crompe, of Holgate, a recusant in 1604. (C.R.S. ii. 295.)

(357) Unidentified.

(358) James Gomond, e. s. of John Gomond, of Byford, married Margaret, d. of Nicholas Walwyn, of Longward. His eldest son John was a recusant in 1581, and in prison 1592. (Weaver, Heref. 34; Dasent, xiii. 192, 292; Cal. Cecil MSS. iv. 265.)

(359) William Gomond, (3rd son), brother of the above, married Anne, d. of Richard Stevens. (Weaver, Heref. 34.)

(360) John Seborne, of Sutton, e. s. of Richard Seborne (n. 321 above), married Sibyl Mornington, of Sarnesfield, and was a recusant in 1592. Both he and his wife were recusants in 1604. (Weaver, Heref. 64; Cal. Cecil MSS. iv. 265; C.R.S. ii. 294.)

(361) James Barrow, of Ballingham, married Margaret, d. of Richard Warnecombe, of Hereford, and was a recusant in 1592. (Weaver, Heref. 6; Cal. Cecil MSS. iv. 265.)

(363) Gregory Havard, of Pipley (a son of Thomas Havard, n. 318 above), and Sibyl his wife were recusants in 1604. (C.R.S. ii. 296. Cf. the two letters of Edward Havard at Cal. Dom. Add. 1566, p. 544.)

(364) Charles (Neville), 6th Earl of Westmorland. (D.N.B. xl. 245.)

(365) Anne, widow of Sir Thomas (Percy), 7th Earl of Northumberland. (Gillow, v. 266.)

(366) Henry (Parker), 11th Baron Morley. (D.N.B. xliii. 240; Cokayne.)

(367) Edward (Windsor), 3rd Baron Windsor (Cokayne). He died at Venice, 24 Jan. 1574/5.

(368) Edward Dacre. See note 12 above.

(369) Sir Francis Englefield. (D.N.B. xvii. 372.)

(370) Sir John Neville, of Leversege and Billingley and Leeds, married (1) Dorothy, d. of Sir Christopher Danby, of Thorpe, by whom he had a son and heir, and a daughter, and (2) Beatrice, d. of Henry Brome, of Wrenthorpe, by whom he had ten children. A Protestant under King Edward VI., he was reconciled to the Church by Dr. Thomas Robertson, Dean of Durham, under Queen Mary. Possibly the person of this name admitted to Gray's Inn 1534. He was knighted 8 May 1544. He took part in the Rebellion of 1569, and was attainted, but managed to escape to Scotland, and thence to Paris. From Paris he went to Flanders. He left Flanders for Rome 1571/2. He arrived in Madrid from Rome in Nov. 1572, and received 200 ducats with a promise of 30 ducats a month. He left Madrid 10 May 1573, and in 1574 he was receiving a pension of 60 ducats a month from the King. In 1575 he was at Brussels. In both 1574 and 1575 the English Government demanded his expulsion from Spanish territory. He and his son Robert died abroad before 1588 as the Concertatio records. (Sharp; Knox, 299; Gachet; Proost; Cal. Dom. Add. 1566; Foster; G.I.R. 10; Cal. For. 1569; H.S.P. xvi. 229.)

(371) This should be Sir Thomas Stukeley, as to whom see D.N.B. lv. 123. It does not appear when he was knighted, but that he was a knight is clear from the Calendars of State Papers. He was made Marquess of Ireland by the Pope. (C.R.S. ii. 161.)

(372) For Christopher Neville (? admitted to Gray's Inn 1531), who does not appear to have been a knight, see D.N.B. xl. 246.

(373) For Sir Richard Shelley, Knight of St. John, see D.N.B. lii. 40, as corrected by N. & Q., 9th Series, xii. 426, and 11th Series, ii. 336.

(374) Sir James Shelley, Knight of St. John, was a brother of the above, and went abroad soon after the accession of Queen Elizabeth. On 29 May 1573 the Grand Master and Venerable Council granted him 50 scudi a year besides his table money and pay. (Berry, Sussex; Cal. For. 1563, 625; Strype, A. II. ii. 597; N. & Q., 1st S., viii. 192, x. 201.)

(375) Sir Oliver Starkey, Knight of St. John, natural son of Hugh Starkey, of Oulton Lowe, Cheshire, was in Malta in 1565, and was reported as being ready to conform, if allowed to return to England. Ormerod states that he became Grand Prior of England. He is not in the Concertatio list. He was buried in St. John's Church, Malta. (Ormerod, Cheshire, ii. 188; Cal. For. 1564, 330; N. & Q., 1st S., viii. 192.)

(376) Sir Christopher Markenfield is not mentioned either in the Concertatio or in the pedigree in H.S.P.

(377) Richard Norton. (D.N.B. xli. 27.)

(378) Francis Norton, e. s. of the above. (Gillow, v. 197.)

(379) John Swinburne, of Chopwell, co. Durham, took part in the rebellion of 1569 and was attainted. He fled to Scotland, where he was imprisoned, but he was liberated in 1572. He arrived in Madrid Nov. 1573, and received a pension from the King of Spain. He was living at Namur in 1577. On 3 July 1575 Queen Elizabeth had by letter demanded his expulsion from Spanish territory. He married Anne, sister to William Smythe (n. 216 above). He and one of his sons were living in Paris in 1580, and both died abroad before 1588 according to the Concertatio. (Sharp, 33, 264; Proost, 286; Cal. Dom. Add. 1566; Cal. For. 1569, 1572, 1579; Surtees, ii. 277–8.)

(380) Christopher Danby, of Beeston, Leeds, (2nd son), brother of Sir Thomas (n. 49 above), admitted to Gray's Inn 1544, was attainted for his share in the rebellion of 1569. He arrived in Paris Oct. 1570. In 1574 he was in Spain, and in 1575 at Brussels, in receipt of a pension of 30 ducats a month from the King. His expulsion from Spanish territory was demanded by Queen Elizabeth in 1574 or 1575. In 1580 he was living in Paris. He married Margaret, d. of Sir William Calverley, and widow of Sir Robert Beeston, of Beeston. (Foster, G.V.Y. 264; G.I.R. 17; Cal. For. 1569; Strype, A. II. i. 495; Knox, 299; Proost, 284–6.)

(381) Anthony Bulmer, e. s. of Francis (n. 223 above), was imprisoned in Durham gaol 1 Jan. 1569/70, and in 1574 was in Spain, receiving a pension of 30 ducats a month. In 1575 he was a student at Louvain. (Strype, loc. cit.; Sharp, 129; Knox, 300.)

(382) John Thweng was probably the person of this name, e. s. of Edmund Thweng, of Rotsey, Yorks, and the Thweng successively in the service of the Earl and Countess of Northumberland, who in 1574 was receiving a pension of 30 ducats a month from the King of Spain, and in 1575 was at Brussels with a pension of 20 crowns. His expulsion from Spanish territory was demanded by the English Ambassador, Thomas Wilson, 1 Dec. 1574. He died before 1588, according to the Concertatio. (Proost, 284–5; Strype, loc. cit.; Knox, 299; Cal. Dom. Add. 1566, 345; Cal. For. 1572, 582.)

(383) Michael Tempest, e. s. of Robert Tempest, J.U.D., of Holmside, co. Durham, entered the Inner Temple in Nov. 1558. He married Dorothy Dymoke. He and his father were both attainted in 1569, but having escaped to Scotland embarked from Aberdeen, 23 Aug. 1570. They were at Louvain in 1571. Robert died at Brussels. Michael afterwards went to Spain with one of his sons. They were in Madrid May to July 1574, and received 300 ducats, with the promise of 35 ducats a month or 40 ducats a month in Flanders. Michael's banishment from the Low Countries was demanded, 1 Dec. 1574, and 3 July 1575. Michael died abroad before 1588 leaving three sons. The Robert Tempest who was in Rome in 1586 was undoubtedly the nephew of the first-mentioned Robert, and was afterwards a priest and doctor of divinity. No doubt this latter was the licentiate of civil law who was in Paris in 1580. (M.I.T. 32; Cal. Dom. Add. 1566; Sharp, 33, 264; Knox, 299; Proost, loc. cit.; Strype, loc. cit.; Concertatio; Cal. For. 1579.)

(384) Francis More, of Yorkshire, was probably a son of John More, of More Place, Herts, a son of B. Thomas More, and Anne, d. and h. of Edward Cresacre, of Barnborough, Yorks. He probably took part in the rebellion of 1569, and with George More, probably his brother, had gone to Spain in 1574. The expulsion of one More from the Low Countries was demanded by the English Ambassador, 1 Dec. 1574. (Cal. Dom. Add. 1566, 413; Proost, loc. cit.; Strype, A. I. ii. 54; II. i. 495; ii. 596.)

(385) This is too vague to identify with any certainty. One Marmaduke Redman, of Thornton, nephew to Sir Richard Cholmeley, of Roxby, was in prison at Durham in 1569. (Sharp, 129). So was one Thomas Redman. The Concertatio, which does not mention Marmaduke, mentions both Robert and Thomas Redman as exiled gentlemen, and one John Redshaw as a deprived priest. The last appears to have been known also as John Redman. Robert Redman married Bridget, d. of John Clement, M.D., of Louvain, and Margaret (Giggs) his wife, adopted d. of B. Thomas More.

(386) Sir Richard Markenfield is unknown to the Markenfield pedigree and to the Concertatio. The latter mentions a Thomas Markenfield, Knight of St. John, but this should be Knight of the Holy Sepulchre. Thomas Markenfield, e. s. of Thomas Markenfield, of Markenfield, Yorks, married Isobel, d. of Sir William Ingilby (n. 35 above). He and his brother John, (3rd son), then under twenty, and probably his brother William, (2nd son), alive in 1584, were attainted in 1570. He probably with William escaped to Scotland, and thence to Antwerp, where he received a pension of 432 ducats a year from the King of Spain, but was so poor that he had but scant garment to wear. His banishment from Spanish territory was demanded by the English Ambassador, 1 Dec. 1574, and by a letter from the Queen, dated 3 July 1575. John, who was attainted only to bring his title to his eldest brother's lands, if he had any such title, to the Queen, was not meant to die, as he had no lands, and was eventually pardoned on the score of his youth. (Strype, loc. cit.; Cal. Dom. Add. 1566; Cal. For. 1572; H.S.P. xvi. 197; Proost, 281, 284-6; Gachet, loc. cit.)

(387) Robert Giles, gent., of Kent, married a daughter of Sir Thomas Stradling, of St. Donat's, Glamorganshire, and died at Louvain in 1578, aged 44, and was buried in the Church of St. Michael there. He is described as "legum Angliæ professor egregius." (N. & Q., 10th S., i. 48.)

(388) John Gage, of Firle, Sussex (identical with n. 99 above), e. s. of Sir Edward Gage, K.B. He married (1) Elizabeth Littleton, of Frankley, who died about 1560, and (2) Margaret, d. of Sir Roger Copley, of Gatton. He and his second wife were living at Antwerp at the date of this list. They returned to England in 1576, and from that date onward to his death without issue, 10 October 1595, John Gage was constantly being fined and imprisoned for his religion. See N. & Q., 10th S., viii. 241, and Gage, 237.

(389) Probably Thomas Gage, 3rd son of Sir Edward Gage, K.B. Born 27 Jan. 1542, he entered Winchester College second on the roll for 1553, probably as founder's kin. He was a magistrate of Sussex, suspected of popery in 1576, and died 1590. He married Elizabeth, d. of Sir Thomas Guldeford of Hemstead, Kent, by whom he was the father of John Gage, who became first baronet. (N. & Q. loc. cit.; Gage, 238.)

(390) Probably John Gage, of Wormley, Herts, a younger son of James Gage, of Bentley, Framfield, Sussex. (N. & Q., 10th S., vii. 102-3.)

(391) Thomas Shelley, of Mapledurham, Petersfield, Hants, a brother of Sir Richard and Sir James (nn. 373 and 374 above), married Mary, d. of Sir Roger Copley, of Gatton. He was a J.P. for Hampshire, and went abroad in or before 1570. Three Shelleys of Hampshire were in Paris 27 April 1580. These are probably Thomas Shelley and the two sons next mentioned. (N. & Q., 9th S., xii. 426; 10th S., ii. 155, 457.)

(392) Anthony Shelley, one of the younger sons of the above, was elected a Winchester Scholar in 1563, and is believed to have become a Carthusian.

(393) John Shelley, brother of the above Anthony, was elected a Winchester Scholar in 1567. He may be the person of this name who was a Knight of St. John at Malta in 1582. He was living in Hampshire in 1596. One of this name arrived at the English College, Rheims, 4 Dec. 1583, and left 13 May 1586, returning 11 Oct. 1588, and leaving 23 August 1589. In a letter from Anthony Copley, attributed by Strype to the year 1596, which however by internal evidence cannot be later than 1588, John Shelley is said to be serving in the Spanish Armada. (N. & Q., 1st S., viii. 192; 10th S., ii. 155, 457; Strype, A. iv. 388; Knox, 199, 210, 221, 225.)

(394) Possibly Henry Copley, e. s. of Sir Thomas Copley of Gatton, Baron de Welles, who was knighted by the King of France and died at Rheims, 10 May 1580. (Knox, 164, 165.)

(395) John Leeds, of Steyning, Sussex, married Elizabeth, d. of Sir Thomas Palmer, of Parham, Sussex, and fled abroad. On his return he was a recusant, and was in prison at Wisbech in 1588, but was at liberty in 1592. (H.S.P. liii. 25; Dasent, x. 50; Strype, W. i. 529; Cal. Cecil MSS. iv. 263.)

(396) Thomas Vachell, of Berkshire, e. s. of Thomas Vachell, of Ipsden, Oxon, married Katharine, d. of Thomas Reade, of Barton, near Abingdon, Berks, was living at Lire (Lille?) in 1575, and was a recusant in 1585. He is mentioned as an exile in the Concertatio. (H.S.P. lvii. 205; Knox, 300; Cal. Dom. 1581, 275.)

(397) Humphrey Shelton, of London, (? and of Belhouse Manor, North Tudenham, Norfolk), went abroad early in Queen Elizabeth's reign and lived at Rouen as a merchant, receiving also a pension from the King of Spain. He was alive in 1602. (Strype, A. II. ii. 596; Cal. For. 1579; Cal. Dom. 1591; Cal. Dom. Add. 1580; Blomefield, x. 266.)

(398) Gilbert Tichborne, 2nd s. of Nicholas Tichborne, of Tichborne, Hants, a Bencher of the Inner Temple, brother of Benjamin above (n. 80), entered the Inner Temple Nov. 1572. He arrived in Spain from Flanders, December 1573. In 1574 he was receiving a pension of 30 ducats. He was in prison in the Gatehouse in 1581, described as a "soldier" and of "Tichborne besides Portsmouth," in 1582 he was in Flanders. In 1592 he was in prison for recusancy, and in 1594 he was in Winchester Castle, and died at Winchester in 1636, aged 96. (Berry, Hampshire; Cal. Cecil MSS. iv. 271; Cal. For. 1572; Cal. Dom. 1591, 463; Cal. Dom. Add. 1580; C.R.S. ii. 220; Strype, A. II. i. 495; M.I.T. 71.)

(399) William Cotton arrived in Madrid from Flanders and obtained a pension from the King of Spain. He was at Dunkirk and at Antwerp in 1575, and is sometimes called Sir William. (Cal. Dom. 1547; Cal. Dom. Add. 1566; Cal. For. 1572.)

(400) David Stradling, of Glamorganshire, was probably a brother of Sir Edward Stradling (n. 50 above). He was at one time of the Inner Temple. In Nov. 1573 he arrived at Madrid from Flanders and obtained a pension from the King. (Cal. For. 1572; Cal. Dom. Add. 1566; Cal. Inner T. Rec. I. lv.)

(401) George Tyrrell, 4th s. of Sir Thomas Tyrrell, of Heron, Essex, and Constance, d. of John Blount, Lord Mountjoy, was a servant of Queen Mary, one of the ushers of the presence-chamber, who, soon after the accession of Queen Elizabeth, went abroad with his wife and family. He arrived at Madrid in Nov. 1573, and received a pension of 30 ducats a month from the King of Spain. In July 1578 he was living at Louvain. He was the father of Anthony Tyrrell. (D.N.B. lvii. 437; Knox, 300; Cal. Dom. 1547, 427; Cal. Dom. Add. 1569, 468; Cal. For. 1572, 451; Strype, A. II. i. 495; H.S.P. xiii. 16, 302.)

(402) Robert Tyrrell was probably the eldest son of the above.

(403) William Griffith, son of Hugh Griffith, of London, who entered the Inner Temple in Nov. 1571, is probably the John Griffin of Essex noted as being abroad in 1576, and is doubtless the "Greffy" who arrived at Madrid in Nov. 1573 to get a pension, and the Mr. Griffith who was at Padua in Sept. 1579 and in Venice about 1591. (Cal. Dom. 1547, 633; 1591, 161; Cal. Dom. Add. 468; Strype, A. II. ii. 596; M.I.T. 69.)

(404) Thomas Daniell is probably the Thomas Daniell slain in the wars in Flanders, 2nd s. of Edward Daniell mentioned C.R.S. i. 118.

(405) George Chamberlain, 2nd s. of Sir Leonard Chamberlain, brother of John (n. 155 above), was arrested in 1562 and lodged in the Tower. He was at Louvain in April 1570, and had 6 crowns a month pension. He arrived at Madrid 10 Dec. 1571, and received 300 ducats with entertainment for Flanders, and left 29 Feb. 1572. He returned to Madrid in Sept. 1573, leaving again in Dec., having received another 300 ducats. In Flanders he got 60 ducats a month. He married Mary Pring, of Ghent, and was the father of George Chamberlain, Bishop of Ypres. (Gillow, i. 457; C.R.S. i. 56; Cal. Dom. Add. 1566; Cal. Spain, 1558, 241; Proost, 281; Gachet, iii. 9–13, xvi. 19–21.)

(406) Hugh Owen, a kinsman of Barbara, wife of Sir Robert Sidney, and d. and h. of John Gamage (n. 293 above), entered Lincoln's Inn 21 April 1556. He arrived at Madrid 26 Nov. 1572, and received 150 ducats, with the promise of 20 ducats a month in Flanders. In 1574 he was getting 40 ducats a month. In 1575 he proposed going to Rome and Naples. In the same year his servant Parry was arrested, and several people in North Wales got into trouble for supposed dealings with him. He lived mainly in Brussels. In a letter which cannot be later than 1588 (though dated in Strype 1596), Anthony Copley reports to the Privy Council that no one can be preferred in the Court of Flanders without Hugh Owen's favour, as he was "in credit with the prince's secretary, none more." He was certainly there 1591 to 1603, a zealous servant of the King of Spain. It appears he was for some time under arrest there (together with Fr. William Baldwin, S.J., and Sir William Stanley) for supposed complicity in the Gunpowder Plot. (Rec. of Linc. Inn, Adm. i. 62; the Calendars of State Papers passim; Gachet; Strype, A. iv. 390.)

(407) Robert Owen arrived at the English College, Douay, 1570, and was in Rome in 1580. (Cal. Dom. 1547, 651.) He became a priest in France (Knox, 5). He was probably a brother of the above. On 1 Dec. 1574 Thomas Wilson, the English Ambassador, demanded that "Owen and his brother" should be banished from the Low Countries. (Proost, 284–5.)

(408) For Anthony Standen, see N. & Q., 11th Series, i. 389, 469.

(409) Anthony Nolloth, of Suffolk, arrived at Madrid 13 Jan. 1571/2, and left 31 March 1572, after receiving 150 ducats with entertainment for Flanders. He got back to Flanders before 7 May. In 1574 and 1575 he was drawing 40 ducats or 20 crowns a month. (Cal. Dom. Add. 1566, 394, 497; Strype, A. II. i. 495, ii. 500; Knox, 299; Gachet.)

(410) Francis Powell is doubtless the Mr. Powell, an English priest conversant with the rebels resident at Louvain in 1571/2, who in 1574 was about to receive a pension of 16 ducats a month. (Cal. Dom. Add. 1566, 385; Strype, loc. cit.)

(411) Henry Carew, e. s. of Henry Carew, of Ham, Dorsetshire, in 1574 is reported as having gone to Spain to get a pension. In Feb. 1574/5 he had returned to Flanders with a pension of 20 crowns a month. (Cal. Dom. 1581, 586; Cal. Dom. Add. 1566, 478; Strype, loc. cit.)

(412) William Pollard entered the Inner Temple in November 1562 from Horwood, Devon, and again in November 1567, and is described as the eldest son of Roger Pollard, and as having succeeded to the estates. It appears, however, that he was the 2nd son of Sir Richard Pollard, of Waye and Horwood, and being suspected of popery had gone abroad before 1577. A Richard Pollard, of Devon, not mentioned in the pedigree, occurs in the Douay Diaries, pp. 220, 225, 232. (M.I.T. 50 and 62; Cal. Inner T. Rec. liv.; Vivian, Devon, 597.)

(413) Francis Peto is doubtless the Peto who had come out of Italy and was with the King of Spain in May 1574. He died in exile before 1588, according to the Concertatio. (Cal. Dom. Add. 1566, 462.)

(414) John Parratt, who was serving as a soldier at Antwerp, 5 July 1571, arrived at Madrid 1 March 1571/2, received 100 ducats with entertainment for Milan, and left 31 May 1572. In 1575 he had gone to Spain again. (Cal. Dom. Add. 1566, 467; Knox, 300.)

(415) John Sacheverell (of Buxton, Derbyshire) was imprisoned in the Counter in Wood St. in 1562 for his religion, as we know from the list in Cal. Dom. Add. 1547, which must be later than June 1562, as one of the prisoners in the Fleet therein mentioned is Thomas Somerset, who, as we know from Dasent, vii. 108, was committed 27 June 1562. Later on Sacheverell fled abroad. (Strype, A. II. ii. 596.)

(416) Probably John Talbot, of Grafton, Worcestershire, only s. and h. of Sir John Talbot, and father, by Katharine, d. of Sir William Petre, of George Talbot, 9th Earl of Shrewsbury, who was a priest. He was admitted to Lincoln's Inn 10 Feb. 1555/6. It was when passing through Smithfield in the company of Mr. and Mrs. Talbot that B. Robert Johnson was recognised by Sledd the informer in July 1580. Indeed, Fr. Persons calls him "Mr. Talbot's priest," though it appears he was rather Lady Petre's. Talbot was committed to the custody of the Dean of Westminster, 24 August 1580, and afterwards removed to the house of his brother-in-law, Sir John Petre, in Aldersgate St. On 1 Oct. 1581, the plague being rife in the City, he was moved to some other house within ten or twelve miles of London. In 1583 the priest Hugh Hall confessed that he had in past years been entertained by him. Later Talbot was restricted to one Henry Whitney's house at Mitcham in Surrey, and two miles round it. In 1588 he was in prison at Wisbech Castle for having heard Mass, contrary to the provisions of 23 Eliz. c. i. From 9 Dec. 1588 to about 13 May 1589 he was liberated on bail, owing to his own and his wife's health. He then seems to have been restricted to his house in Clerkenwell, but on 19 May 1589 he was given leave to go anywhere within six miles of it. From 2 Aug. to 20 Oct. 1589 he was allowed, on giving bail, to go down to Worcestershire. On 12 March 1589/90 he was ordered into confinement at the house of Richard Fiennes, at Broughton in Oxfordshire, whence he was released on bail, 24 May 1590, for a fortnight. He was again allowed out on bail, 20 Dec. 1590, and 22 July 1591. In 1592 he was at Bickslie (? Bexley or Bickley), Kent. On 7 Aug. 1592 the recusants formerly imprisoned at Ely, Banbury, and Broughton were ordered back to their prisons, but an exception was made, 17 Sept. 1592, in favour of John Talbot. However, next year we find him in Ely gaol. Thence he was liberated for a considerable period on bail to act as umpire in a family dispute. Later on he was allowed to take "the Bathes," presumably at Bath, on account of his health. Between Michaelmas 1593 and the 11th March following he paid £120 in fines for recusancy. Afterwards he was imprisoned in Banbury Castle, whence he was released on bail for two months, 27 Feb. 1596/7, his leave being subsequently extended, 29 April 1597 and 6 Nov. 1597. In 1601 he was living in Worcestershire, and pressure was brought to bear on him to secure his influence to promote the candidature of Sir Thomas Leighton as one of the parliamentary representatives of the shire. In 1604 he was paying £20 a month in fines for his recusancy, the benefit whereof was on 26 Aug. granted to Sir William Anstruther, who on 13 Oct. in the same year obtained his pardon. On the following 8 Dec. a warrant was issued for release to him of £160 due from him to the Crown in fines for recusancy. In 1605 he was suspected of complicity with the conspirators of the Gunpowder Plot, one of whom, Richard Winter, of Huddington, near Droitwich, had married his daughter Gertrude. Robert Winter, however, declared that he had said nothing on the subject to his father-in-law, knowing that he would not join the plot under any circumstances. Indeed, he had actually driven the fugitive conspirators from his door. Talbot was, nevertheless, arrested, and on the 4th Dec. 1605 examined. On 26 Sept. 1606 the value of his recusancy was granted to Lord Hay. His second son John, the father of the 10th Earl of Shrewsbury, died in London in 1607. He himself probably died about the same year, but the date of his death is unknown. (Dasent; Cal. Dom. 1581; Strype, W. i. 529; A. iv. 276; Hamilton, 182, 183; *Cal. (420) Christopher Thomson was ordained acolyte at Chester in 1557, and subsequently received Anglican orders. On 19 March 1568/9 he was instituted to the living of Winwick in Lancashire, on the presentation of the Queen. In 1576 he was at the English College at Douay, and left 30 April for Louvain and England. On 27 March 1577 he returned to Douay, and was ordained priest at Cambrai on Holy Saturday, 6 April, by the Archbishop, Mgr. Louis de Berlaymont, leaving on the following 24th for Louvain and England. In 1578 he was arrested by the Earl of Derby and imprisoned. By command of the Privy Council, dated 23 August, he was sent to London by the end of September, and on or about 3 November 1578 was committed to the Marshalsea. About the end of December 1580 he was removed to the Tower, where he was racked on the following 3 January. He remained in prison till 21 Jan. 1584/5, when with nineteen other priests and one layman he was put on board the Mary Martin of Colchester, at Tower Wharf. On 2 Feb. they were landed at Boulogne. Two years later he was in Paris. (N. & Q., 10th S., x. 170.)

(421) Edward Cratford, a native of Herefordshire, was a Fellow of All Souls' College, Oxford, and B.A. in 1540. He became M.A. in 1544, and migrated to Christ Church, Oxford, in 1547. He was second-master at St. Peter's College, Westminster, in 1551, received the tonsure in London in Dec. 1554, became a Royal Chaplain in 1555, and was Vicar of North Petherton, Somerset, 1554–7. He subsequently was given the prebend of Yatton in the Cathedral Church of Wells, and the rectory of Lydeard St. Lawrence, of which two preferments he was deprived in 1561. He was living abroad in 1576, and died before 1588, probably in Spain. (Foster, Alumni Oxonienses; Gee (H.), Elizabethan Clergy (Oxford, 1898), 227, 233, 255, 272; Frere (W. (422) The account of Richard Hopkins in D.N.B. xxvii. 337 is not quite satisfactory. It may therefore be noted: (1) that he was son and heir of Richard

Hopkins; (2) that he was admitted to the Middle Temple 24 May 1561, and is possibly the Richard Hopkins, a commoner of Magdalen College 1564/5, whom Wood apparently confuses with the commoner of St. Alban's Hall, 1573/4; (3) that he went to Flanders by licence of the then Lord Treasurer, i.e. either Richard Sackville or Sir William Mildmay; (4) that he was living in Antwerp 7 May 1575, and in Rome 11 August 1582, at which latter date he sent a copy of his book, Of Prayer and Meditation, to Sir Francis Walsyngham; (5) that he was in Brussels 1587, and in Paris in Oct. 1590; (6) and that in 1593 and January 1593/4 he was living at Sieur Vandersteen's house, near the English Exchange, Antwerp. (Hutchinson, Notable Middle Templars, 125; Strype, A. II. ii. 597, iv. 203; Cal. Dom. 1581, 66; Dom. 1591, 415; Dom. Add. 1566, 484; Dom. Add. 1580, 313, 314: C.R.S. v. 149, 261, 262.)

(423) Gabriel Dennis, 5th son of Sir Thomas Dennis, of Holcombe Burnell, Devon, admitted to the Inner Temple 1544, was in Brussels 1574, and his expulsion from the Low Countries was formally demanded by the English Ambassador, Thomas Wilson, 1 Dec. 1574. He is mentioned in the Concertatio as living in exile with his wife. In Sept. 1586 he was suspected of being concerned in the Babington plot. In 1593 and 1594 Gabriel Dennis was at Brussels. (Vivian, Devon, 279–80: Proost; C.R.S. ii. 268, v. 248; M.I.T. 19; Knox, 301, 403, 406.)

(424) Thomas Hoghton. See C.R.S. iv. 175, 193.

(425) William Clyborne, of Clyborne, Westmorland, entered the Inner Temple in Nov. 1564. He is probably the Cleburne, a Lancashire man, at Vigo about 1578, and related to the priest Gerard Cleburne, of Chester dio., mentioned in the Douay Diaries. (M.I.T. 54; Cal. Dom. Add. 1566, 543.)

(426) Hugh Charnock, of Chester dio., after imprisonment at London and fifteen years' exile for the faith, arrived at the English College at Rheims, 3 August 1584, and received the first tonsure, minor orders, and the subdiaconate in the chapel of the Holy Cross in Rheims Cathedral on Holy Saturday, 20 April 1585. On the following 21 Sept. he was ordained deacon in the same place by Mgr. Louis de Brezé, Bishop of Meaux, and died 10 April 1586, aged nearly 60. (Knox, 13, 201, 206, 207, 210.)

(427) Thomas Layton or Leighton, son of Anthony, of Lancashire, was supposed to be an agent of Mary, Queen of Scots, and to have piloted various political emissaries into Scotland in the spring of 1584. In the following summer he was taken at sea on board the Hopewell of Poole, by William Arnwood, a pirate. On 27 May 1585 we find him in the Tower, where he still was 18 June 1586. In November 1586 he was in the Clink, having been sent there the previous 28 August. In 1587 he was regarded as a seminary priest. On Sept. 30, 1588, he was still in prison. In 1593 one Layton was at Seville. (Cal. Dom. Add. 1580, 117; Cal Dom. 1581, 184, 186; C.R.S. ii. 238, 251, 261, 264, 268, 283, v. 247; Strype, A. III. ii. 600.)

(428) There was a Middleton in Paris in 1580, and the Concertatio mentions one as living in exile in 1588, and one, a brother to Captain Middleton, R.N., was at Antwerp in 1594. There were numerous Middletons in Yorkshire, Lancashire, and Westmorland, and it has proved impossible to identify the Middleton here mentioned.

(429) Ingram Thweng, 3rd son of George Thweng, of Over Helmsley, Yorks, was in the service of the Earl of Northumberland, and was attainted in 1571. In April of that year he was at Antwerp in attendance on the Countess. In 1574 he was getting a pension of 30 ducats a month from the King of Spain. At the end of February 1581/2 he left Rheims for Rome. He was admitted to the Hospice of the English College there as servant to Mr. Charles Basset, 14 April 1582, and remained for eight days as a poor pilgrim. On 20 Feb. 1597/8 he was again admitted to the same Hospice at Rome, and remained for fifty-eight days. (Foster, G.V.Y. 230; Cal. Dom. Add. 1566, 345; Cal. Dom. 1581, 364; 1591, 207, 211, 246; Strype, A. II. i. 495; Knox, 185; Foley, Records English Province, S.J. (London, 1877), vi. 552, 569.)

(430) Timothy Mockett arrived at Madrid, 16 Dec. 1571, and received a gift of 150 ducats with entertainment for Flanders, and left 31 March 1572. In 1574 he was receiving 20 or 30 ducats a month. In 1575 he was at Brussels receiving 16 crowns a month. He had married a widow with £120 a year. His banishment from the Low Countries was formally demanded 1 Dec. 1574. On 27 July 1580 he left Paris for Spain. He was subsequently knighted by the King of Spain, and his pension was increased to 40 crowns a month. He was at Antwerp in July 1594 desirous to return to England, if he could do so without changing his religion. He was still living abroad in 1596. (Proost; Gachet; Cal. Dom. Add. 1566, 467; 1580, 11; Cal. Dom. 1591, 478, 525; Strype, A. II. i. 495, iv. 390; Knox, 299, 468.)

(431) Gerard Maryn, of Southampton, entered the Inner Temple in November 1559, and was expelled for recusancy in 1572. (M.I.T. 34; Cal. I. T. Rec. I. liv. 267.)

(432) Brian Palmes, of Morton, co. Durham, was attainted 1571, but managed to escape to Flanders. Queen Elizabeth demanded his expulsion from Spanish dominions, 3 July 1575. He married Margaret, only d. of Ralph Ratcliffe, of Tunstall. (Sharp, 265; Proost; Foster, D.V.P. 267; Cal. Dom. Add. 1566, 358.)

(433) John Gower, of Richmond, Yorks, b. 1557, attainted 1571, son of Ralph Gower, of Picton, escaped to Scotland, and thence returned to Yorkshire, but afterwards went abroad. On 6 Feb. 1575/6 he arrived at the English College, Douay, from Anchin College, a student of theology, and on 6 Oct. left for Rome. On 16 Oct. 1580 he arrived at Rheims a priest, having been ordained in Rome. The Queen asked for his expulsion from Spanish territory, 3 July 1575. On 4 August 1581 he set out for Paris, where he was imprisoned, 31 May 1582, as a heretic. He was indeed ready to become a Protestant if his pardon could be secured. However, he was soon after reconciled to the Church. He was back at Rheims 21 April 1586, and left 21 May. In 1598 he was a lunatic. (C.R.S. ii.; Proost, 286; Foster, G.V.Y. 267; Strype, A. III. i. 192; Cal. Dom. Add. 1566; Knox.)

(434) Marmaduke Blakiston, of Morden, 3rd s. of Thomas Blakiston, of Blakiston, co. Durham, entered the Inner Temple Nov. 1555. He was attainted 1571, but pardoned 16 May 1574. Nevertheless, 1 Dec. 1574 and 3 July 1575, his expulsion from Spanish territory was demanded. He died in 1611. (Sharp; Foster, D.V.P. 19; M.I.T. 25; Surtees, iii. 162; Proost, 284–6.)

(435) George Smith, of the bishopric of Durham, was in the Low Countries about 1575. Possibly the musician who arrived at the English College, Rheims, 4 April 1584, and left for the English College, Rome, 2 Sept. 1587. He died in exile before 1588, according to the Concertatio. (Knox, 201, 217; Proost, 286 n.)

(436) George Stafford's banishment from the Low Countries was demanded in a letter from Queen Elizabeth, dated 3 July 1575. (Proost, 286.) He died in exile before 1588, according to the Concertatio.

(437) Paul Latham died in prison for his religion in York Castle, 1 June 1583. (C.R.S. v. 192, 193.)

(438) Robert Heighington, of Richmond, Yorks, secretary to the Earl of Northumberland, was attainted in 1571, but escaped abroad with two of his sons, and remained in attendance on the Countess in Flanders. Queen Elizabeth demanded his banishment from Spanish territory, 3 July 1575. He had lately been at Namur, Feb. 1576/7, but had then left. He died abroad in or just before 1590. His eldest son William was a priest. (Sharp, 271 ; Proost, 286 ; Knox, 298.)

(439) Thomas Nelson, a brother of B. John Nelson, b. at Skelton, Yorks, arrived at Douay 1575, was ordained priest and sent on the mission in 1577, and died at Antwerp in June 1625. (Camm, ii. 224.)

(440) William Seaborne, of Sutton St. Nicholas, Herefordshire, became a Member of the Inner Temple Nov. 1554. He arrived at the English College at Rheims, 11 June 1583. He was ordained deacon by Mgr. Claude d'Angenne, Bishop of Noyon, 25 Sept., in the chapel of St. Rémy's monastery, and priest on 29 Sept. 1583 in the same place by Louis, Cardinal de Guise, the Archbishop of Rheims. He went away from Rheims, but returned 3 June 1588. On 17 April 1590 he left for Spa, and in 1596 was in Spain. (Knox ; Cal. Inner T. Rec. I. lv. ; M.I.T. 19.)

(441) Alban Langdale. (D.N.B. xxxii. 94.)

(442) Thomas Stapleton. (D.N.B. liv. 101.)

(443) Thomas Wotton died in exile before 1588, according to the Concertatio. Probably the lawyer named Wotton, who arrived at Rheims from Douay, 31 July 1580. (Knox, 168.)

(444) James Hamilton, of Bothwellhaugh. (D.N.B. xxiv. 170 ; Strype, A. II. i. 495 ; Knox, 300 ; Gachet.)

(446) Adam Gordon, of Auchindoun, occupies some space in The Register of the Privy Council of Scotland (Barton and Masson), ii. and iii. passim.

(447) Ralph Lygon, 3rd s. of William Lygon, ancestor of the Earls Beauchamp, and Eleanor, his wife, d. of Sir William Dennis, was in 1574 receiving 40 crowns a month from the King of Spain. His banishment from Spanish territory was demanded, 1 Dec. 1574. In 1575 he was in Brussels receiving £100 a year. He paid short visits to England in 1577 and 1579. In 1584 he was still living in Flanders. His brother Hugh, the 4th son, was a Worcestershire recusant in 1585. (H.S.P. xxvii. 91 ; Proost ; Knox ; Strype, A. II. i. 279 ; Cal. Dom. 1549, 700 ; 1581, 279 ; Add. 1580, 155, 246.)

(448) Thomas Prideaux, s. of Humphrey Prideaux, of Theuborough, Devon, by Edith, his 2nd wife, d. of William Hatch, of Aller, was at Antwerp in 1573. By 1 Sept. 1574 he had moved to Ghent, and had sent his wife and daughter on a visit to his half-brother Richard at Theuborough. Later on in the same month he went to Spain to obtain a pension. In 1587 and 1591 he is spoken of as a follower of Sir Francis Englefield. (Vivian, Devon, 618 ; Strype, A. II. i. 495 ; Cal. Dom 1547, 486 ; 1591, 40 ; Add. 1566, 446, 447, 450 ; Add. 1580, 226.)

(456) Thomas Darbyshire. (D.N.B. xiv. 49.)
(457) Dr. William Nicholson, miscalled Richard Nicholson in Dodd, was of Chester diocese, and entering the English College, Douay, in 1573, was ordained priest on Holy Saturday, 6 April 1577, at Cambrai. He returned to Douay, 9 August 1577, and left again 19th August, but soon returned. On 13 Feb. 1577/8 he left Douay for Cambrai, and on the following 14 March arrived back at Douay from Paris. On 5 April 1578 he arrived at Rheims, but returned almost at once, and again arrived at Rheims 6 June, departing about 15 June for Namur. Thence he returned to Rheims and went to Paris 1 Aug., returning again 19 Aug. Then again he went to Douay, where he appears to have received the degree of D.D. He returned to Rheims, 7 Jan. 1578/9, and 30 March 1579 left for Paris. On 4 Sept. 1579 he left Rheims for England, returning 25 Jan. 1579/80 for two days. He again left 29 Jan. 1579/80 for Paris on the way to England, but apparently got no farther, as he was in Paris in 1580 and 1581. On 9 June 1583 he arrived at Rheims from Rome, and left again 25 June. (Knox; Cal. For. 1579, 251.)
(458) Cuthbert Vaux, according to the Concertatio, was a Licentiate in Theology, who died in exile before 1588. He was M.A. and Fellow of Queen's College, Oxford, in 1559, expelled 1560. (Foster, Alumni Oxonienses.)
(459) John Duche, one of the "gard in Q. Marie.s tyme," was an exile at "Lire" (probably Lille) in Flanders about 1585. He was mace-bearer to Cardinal Allen in 1588. (Knox, 300; Strype, A. III. ii. 47, 48, 551, 552.)
(460) William Grene, described as a lawyer and a schoolmaster, was in the Marshalsea in 1579. He was still there in June 1582, but was discharged before 30 Nov. 1586. It seems, however, that he was merely sent from the Marshalsea to the Fleet, whence he was transferred to Newgate. He was still in prison 30 Sept. 1588. (Strype, A. II. ii. 661; C.R.S. ii.)
(461) John Price, one of the sons of Robert Price, of Newport Pagnall, Bucks, was a scholar at the English College, Rome, in 1581, and arrived at the English College, Rheims, 3 Nov. 1582. On the following 14 April Dr. Barret wrote to Fr. Aggazario, S.J., that John Price would never be a theologian. According to the Concertatio he died in exile before 1588. He left Rheims 12 Sept. 1583. (Knox.)

(500) Henry Cassey was a Gloucestershire recusant living in London in 1585. He was son of Robert Cassey, of Stratton, Cassey Compton, and Wightfield in Derhurst, and died 38 Eliz. (Cal. Dom. 1581, 278, 285; Rudder, 404, 709, 726, 839.)

(501) Thomas Dutton, of Sherbourn, Gloucestershire, who married (1) Mary Maney; (2) Anne, d. of Stephen Kyston, of London, Alderman, and widow of Sir Thomas Withers, Knt.; and (3) [? Elizabeth], d. of [? Robert] Taylor, of Gloucestershire, and died 24 Oct. 1581, aged 74. (H.S.P. xxxi. 54; Rudder, 650; Strype, A. II. i. 159.)

(502) Nicholas Sankey, utter barrister of the Inner Temple, had been induced before 1577 to come to church occasionally. (Cal. Inner T. Rec. I. liv.)

(503) George Catchmaid, or Catchmay, e. s. of William Catchmaid, of Bickswear in St. Briavel's. (H.S.P. xxi. 242.)

(504) Thomas Wilton, s. and h. of John Wilton, of Dymock, by Eleanor, his 1st wife, d. of Guy Cassey. (H.S.P. xxi. 270.)

(505) Unidentified.

(506) Sir John Whiddon. (D.N.B. lxi. 5.)

(507) William Whiddon, of Chagford, Devon, e. s. of the above, admitted to the Inner Temple 1553, was twice married, but died s.p. before the death of his father, which occurred 27 Jan. 1575/6. (Vivian, Devon, 781; M.I.T. 15.)

(508) Hugh Wyatt, of Shillingford, Barrister-at-law of the Inner Temple, 2nd son of Philip Wyatt, Steward and Town Clerk of Barnstaple, entered the Inner Temple Nov. 1560. Married, 28 Nov. 1566 at Braunton, Lady Mary Bourchier, d. of John, 2nd Earl of Bath, who died without issue; and secondly, in 1614, Mary, d. of John Hill, of Ide. He was expelled from the Inner Temple for recusancy in 1572, but conformed, and was readmitted in 1577. (Vivian, Devon, 823; M.I.T. 39; Cal. Inner T. Rec. i. 267, 291.)

(509) One of the Northleighs, of Northleigh. (Vivian, Devon, 584.) William Northleigh, (of Ingarley), e. s. of Raymond, entered the Inner Temple Feb. 1546/7. Richard Northleigh, (of Ingarley), 2nd son, entered the Inner Temple in Nov. 1558; and Leonard, (of Ockington), the 4th son, in Nov. 1564. (M.I.T. 2, 30, 55.)

(510) Christopher George, e. s. of John George, of Baunton near Cirencester, married Anne, d. of Robert Strange, of Cirencester, and was buried 15 March 1598. (H.S.P. xxi. 247–9.)

(511) Probably either the last above-mentioned Robert Strange, or his eldest son Roger. (Ibid. 222.)

(512) Possibly Robert Higford, secretary to the late Thomas, Duke of Norfolk, whom he betrayed.

(513) Thomas Parker, of Northlatch, married Jane, d. and co-h. of John Moore, of "Donklin" [? Dunclent], Worcestershire, and widow of James Dingley and William Ashfield. (H.S.P. xxi. 257.)

(514) William Morwent, of Hartpury, Gloucester, a member of the Inner Temple 1552, married Elizabeth, d. of William Wyrrall, of English Bicknor. (H.S.P. xxi. 189; M.I.T. 12.)

(515) James Braybroke, of Sutton Courtney, and Brightwalton, Berks, was born at Abingdon, and was e. s. of Thomas Braybrooke, of Abingdon. He married Martha, d. of John Yate, of Lyford, and widow of Humphrey Cheyney. Admitted to the Inner Temple Nov. 1553 he became an utter barrister, and was expulsed for recusancy in 1572. He was in prison in the Gatehouse in 1581, and was released on bail 26 June in that year, but was soon sent back again, and remained there till he was again released on bail on the score of illness, 13 Nov. 1586. Described as of "Kinston," we find him out on bail in 1592. (H.S.P. lvii. 82, 83; Cal. Inner T. Rec. I. liv. 276; M.I.T. 17; C.R.S. ii. 221, 225, 230, 234; Dasent, xiii. 106, xiv. 249; Cal. Cecil MSS. iv. 270.)

(516) Francis Yate, of Lyford, e. s. of Thomas Yate, of Lyford, and grandson of John Yate (mentioned n. 515 above), a member of the Inner Temple 1554, married Jane, sister of Sir Benjamin Tichborne, 1st baronet. When the Bridgittine nuns of Syon left England, 13 July 1559, nine of their sisters remained behind. Of these, two, Prioress Margaret Daly and Sister Clementia Tresham, died in or about 1561. The others, including Sister Elizabeth Yate, a daughter of the above-mentioned Thomas Yate's half-brother James, found a refuge in Mr. Francis Yate's house, and were in a sense the cause of B. Edmund Campion's capture. Francis Yate was in prison in London when B. Edmund was taken at his house, 17 July 1581. Mrs. Yate was at once sent to the common gaol at Reading with the nuns. What eventually happened to them all does not appear. Francis Yate was probably liberated before 1587, when his house was raided and many "popish" relics and books found therein. Described as of "Kencot," he was a recusant "at liberty upon bonds" in 1592. (H.S.P. lvi. 148–150; Downside Review, xxvii. 141–2; Cal. Dom. 1581, 61, 384, 385; Dasent, xiii. 136, 145; Cal. Cecil MSS. iv. 270; M.I.T. 20.)

(517) Either Edward Yate, 3rd son, brother of the above, who was arrested with B. Edmund Campion and sent to the Gatehouse, where he was 8 April 1584, and died without issue. (H.S.P. lvi. 150; C.R.S. ii. 225, 230, 235.) Or else John Yate, of Buckland, brother of Sister Elizabeth the nun, who married Mary, d. and h. of William Justice, merchant of Reading, and died before 1584, a Catholic, either in prison or released on bail. One of the sons of John and Mary Yate, John, took the name of Vincent, and was a missionary in Brazil in 1593. The eldest son Edward (called Edward Hare by Berry) married Jane, one of the sisters of William Gifford, Archbishop of Rheims, and had a son Edward, created a baronet 30 July 1622. The youngest son Thomas lived for a long time abroad, but had returned to England before 1584. (H.S.P. lvi. 149; Cal. Dom. 1591, 355; Berry, Hants, 285; Cokayne, i. 205.)

(518) Possibly the Clement Burdett, late of Bath, an unlearned priest, who in the latter part of 1562 (see n. 415 above) was restricted to Crondall, Hants, or Sonning, Berks. (Cal. Dom. Add. 1547, 523.)

(519) For Edmund Plowden, see D.N.B. xlv. 428, and Gillow, v. 325.

(520) Robert Atkinson, of Oxfordshire, admitted to the Inner Temple Nov. 1554, became an utter barrister, and in 1569 was brought before the Star Chamber on the ground of recusancy, and confessed that he had not been to church much in term-time since he began to practice, and had only twice received the communion, once at the beginning of the reign, and once in 1568 at "Ethrop," i.e. doubtless Tythrop, in Oxfordshire. He was accordingly disbarred, and expelled from the Temple in 1570. It appears likely he was the Atkinson living as a student in Paris in 1580. In 1586 it was reported that Robert Atkinson was determined to come into England between Whitsuntide and Midsummer. Possibly he is the Robert Atkinson, of Borstall, Bucks, a musician, in trouble in August 1586. (Cal. Inner T. Rec. i. l.–liv. 266; Cal. For. 1579, 251; Cal. Dom. 1581, 324; Dasent, xiv. 210, 214.)

(521) Thomas Greenwood, of Oxford, Counsellor-at-law of the Inner Temple, was in trouble at the same time as the above, gave very similar answers, and met with the same fate. He married Joan, d. of Edward Napper, of Holywell, Oxford. He is probably the Thomas "Grimwell," of Oxford, a recusant at liberty in 1592. (H.S.P. v. 256; Cal. Inner T. Rec. I. l.–liii. 266; Cal. Cecil MSS. iv. 270.)

(522) William Napper, of Holywell, Oxford, brother of Joan mentioned in the note above, married Isabel, d. of Edmund Powell, of Sandford, and was a recusant at liberty in 1592. (H.S.P. v. 254; Cal. Cecil MSS. iv. 270.)

(523) Probably Thomas Folliott, e. brother of the next, who married Katharine, d. of William Lygon, of Madresfield.

(524) Francis Folliott, of Pirton, Worcestershire, was 2nd son of John Folliott, by Elizabeth Ellenor, d. of John More, of "Donklen" [? Dunclent]. He entered the Inner Temple in Nov. 1557 and became an utter barrister, sometime suspected of recusancy, but reduced to occasional conformity before 1577. In 1580 a Folliott of Worcestershire was in Paris. (H.S.P. xxvii. 55; Cal. Inner T. Rec. I. liv.; Cal. For. 1579, 250.)

(525) Robert Withe, 2nd s. of John Withe, of Droitwich, b. 1523; M.P. Droitwich 1554–71; admitted to the Inner Temple 1549, called to the Bench, Reader 1572, Treasurer 1576. Died at Droitwich, 1586. (H.S.P. xxvii. 150; M.I.T. 7.)

(526) Alexander Whitehead entered the Inner Temple in Feb. 1546/7 from Tewkesbury, was a counsellor-at-law of the Inner Temple, reported as a recusant in 1585. (Cal. Dom. 1581, 284; Cal. Inner T. Rec. I.)

(527) See n. 98 above.

(528) Probably Richard Shelley, "late of Warminghurst," Sussex, who was one of those suspected of popery in 1576. He was 2nd son of Edward Shelley, of Warminghurst, and brother of Ven. Edward Shelley. He was of Alcanning, Wilts, and married Katharine, d. of Thomas Devenish, of Kelinglye, Sussex. (Berry, Sussex, 67; Strype, A. II. ii. 22.) He is still called Richard Shelley, of Warminghurst, and Findon, when he was committed to the Marshalsea, 13 August 1580 (Dasent, xii. 253), and indeed it was through him that the plaintiff in "Shelley's case" claimed. On 24 August 1582 Mass was being said in his chamber by the venerable martyr William Hartley. He was still there 8 April 1584, but appears to have been liberated soon afterwards. (C.R.S. ii. 221, 231, 233, 235.) He was, it appears, again in prison in 1592. (Cal. Cecil MSS. ix. 264.) It is important to distinguish him from the Richard Shelley who in the list of the Prætermissi is called Robert (Cath. Encyl. v. 478), and who was committed to the Marshalsea, 15 March 1584/5. This was the 3rd son of John Shelley, of Michaelgrove, Clapham, Sussex (Berry, Sussex, 62), and brother of William Shelley (n. 98 above). He was for some time abroad with his uncle, Sir Richard Shelley, but was given permission to return in May 1583. (Strype, A. III. i. 188.) The story of the petition presented to Parliament is told in Strype (A. III. i. 432 to 434, and cf. Cal. Dom. 1581, 231), and differs from that told by Challoner, inasmuch as, according to Strype, it was presented to Parliament, and not to the Queen. He seems to have seen the petition, and his account is therefore to be preferred to that of Peter Penkevill. (Pollen, 283–4.)

This Richard Shelley was still in the Marshalsea 21 Oct. 1585 (Cal. Dom. 1581, 276), where he died soon after the beginning of February 1585/6.

(529) John Shelley, 2nd s. of John Shelley, of Michaelgrove, and brother of the Richard Shelley last above mentioned, was of Hawford Darcy, Huntingdonshire, and married Eleanor, d. of Sir Thomas Lovell, of Harling, Norfolk, by whom he was the father of Sir John Shelley, one of the first eighteen baronets. (Berry, Sussex, 62.)

(530) Edward Caryll, of Harting, Sussex, who was knighted 11 May 1603, and died 12 Jan. 1609, aged 72. His 2nd wife was Philippe, d. of James Gage, of Bentley in Framfield, Sussex. (Berry, Sussex, 359.)

(531) See n. 99 above. Another George Cotton, cousin of the one noted above, was a Hampshire recusant in 1592. (Cal. Cecil MSS. iv. 271.)

(532) Anthony Hungerford, of Down Ampney, Sheriff of Gloucester in 1585, married Bridget, sister of John Shelley (n. 366 above). (H.S.P. xxi. 89; Cal. Dom. 1581.)

(533) For the Whites of Southwarnborough, see Berry, Hants, 295, and for the Whites of Southwick, see ibid. 194, and Notes and Queries, 10th S., vi.

(534) See n. 77 above.

(535) Probably John Norton, of Norwood, Kent, who married Eleanor, sister to William, Richard, and John Shelley, of Michaelgrove (nn. 98, 528, 529).

(536) Gilbert Wells, of Twyford and Brambridge, eldest of the five sons of Thomas Wells by Mary, daughter of John Mompesson, of whom the Ven. Swithun Wells was the youngest, was sent to Newgate as a recusant in 1582, and transferred to the Marshalsea 21 Dec. 1583. In 1588 we find him imprisoned at Wisbech. In 1592 he was a recusant at liberty. In March 1593/4 he was ordered to be confined at Ely, but it is not clear that he actually went. On 19 Dec. 1596 order was made that as he could not come to London with the other recusants to be committed to Banbury and Ely without danger of life, owing to his age and weakness, he was to be confined to his house. He was still living in July 1598. He married (1) Alice, d. of Sir Thomas Delalind; (2) Isabel, d. of Nicholas Demaryne; and (3) Elizabeth, d. of Robert Coker, of Mapowder, Dorset. (Berry, Hants, 110; C.R.S. ii. 221, 233, 235; Cal. Cecil MSS. iv. 270; Strype, W. i. 529; Dasent, xxvi. 372, xxviii. 589; Cal. Dom. Add. 1591, 463.)

(537) Michael Nash, of Old Woodstock, s. and h. of John Nash, married a daughter of —— Huband, of Ipsley, Warwickshire. (H.S.P. v. 218.)

(538) Weston Browne, of Rookwood Hall, or Colvile Hall, Essex, entered the Inner Temple Nov. 1553, was Sheriff of Essex in 1577, and suspected of recusancy in 1578, though he denied it. He married (1) Mary, d. of Sir Edward Capel, of Hadham, Hants, and (2) 1578, Elizabeth, d. of Lord Giles Paulet (n. 9 above). He seems to have died in 1591. (H.S.P. xiii. 167; Dasent, x. passim; M.I.T. 16; Cal. Dom. 1591, 186.)

(539) Sir Robert Oxenbridge, of Hurstbourne, Hants, knighted 1549, a son of Sir Godard Oxenbridge, K.B., by his 2nd wife, married Alice, d. of Sir Thomas Fog, of Ash, Kent, and widow of Edward Scott. He was Constable of the Tower, and died 17 Nov. 1574. (Berry, Hants, 214–5).

(540) His son Robert entered the Inner Temple Nov. 1561, and married Barbara d. of Sir Thomas White, Master of the Requests. (M.I.T. 44.)

(541) Walter Sydenham, 3rd s. of Sir John Sydenham, of Brimpton, entered the Inner Temple November 1559. In 1587 Lady Sydenham and her eldest son's wife were recusants. (Weaver, Somerset, 77 ; Strype, A. III. ii. 462 ; M.I.T. 32).

(542) John Sydenham, of Langford Budville, married Katharine, d. of Thomas Newton, of Swell. (Weaver, Somerset, 78.)

(543) Possibly the "Mr. Franklin, of Yorkshire, a gentleman of £500 a year," mentioned Cal. Dom. 1591, 485 ; cf. also 451, 536, 542.

(544) Sir Thomas Baskerville, 3rd son of Sir James Baskerville, was knighted 19 Oct. 1553. He married Eleanor, d. of Richard Abington, of Brockhampton, and widow of John Dantsey, and probably died soon after the list was drawn up. (Shaw, ii. 68 ; Weaver, Heref. 2, 7, 8.)

(545) Sir James Baskerville, eldest brother of the above, was knighted 24 Nov. 1547. He married Elizabeth, d. of Walter, Viscount Hereford. In 1564 he was a justice of peace, deemed neuter in religion, and he died s.p. in 1573. (Shaw ii. 63 ; Weaver, Heref. 7, 8 ; Camden Misc. ix. 13.)

(546) Sir Rickard Walwyn, of Llantrithyd, Glamorganshire, was knighted 20 Oct. 1553, and was High Sheriff of Glamorganshire 1559. (See n. 331 above.) (Shaw, 269 ; Nicholas; ii. 598.)

(547) Sir Henry Sidney. (D.N.B. lii. 210.) There seems to be no ground for supposing he had Catholic sympathies.

(548) Sir James Croft. (D.N.B. xiii. 110.)

(549) Sir Christopher Alleyn, eldest son of Sir John Alleyn (Alderman of London for the Vintry and Lime Street Wards, Lord Mayor in 1525 and 1535, Privy Councillor, and Founder of the Mercers' Chapel in Cheapside, destroyed in the Great Fire), was knighted 2 October 1553. He was M.P. for New Romney in 1562. He married Etheldreda, one of the daughters of the first Lord Paget of Beaudesert, and died towards the end of 1585, in which year his house, Ightham Mote, in Kent, was searched for relics and priests. By his father's will, dated 3 Aug. 1545 and proved 15 Jan. 1545/6, he had succeeded to various lands and manors in Nottinghamshire and Yorkshire. His widow was a recusant in 1587, and may possibly be the "uxor cujusdam Allani ordinis equestris atque civis Eboracensis" of C.R.S. v. 193. (Shaw, ii. 66 ; Strype, A. III. ii. 597 ; Archæologia Cantiana, xxiv. 197 ; Surtees Soc. Publ. cvi. 289 ; Banks, Extinct Peerage, ii. 410.)

(550) For Sir William Dormer, see Burke's Peerage.

(551) Unidentified.

(552) See n. 539 above.

(553) Sir James Dyer. (D.N.B. xvi. 286.)

(554) Sir Peter Legh, of Lyme, knighted 11 May 1544, married Margaret, d. of Sir Thomas Gerard, of Bryn, and died 6 Dec. 1589. (Shaw, ii. 54 ; Lancashire and Cheshire Rec. Soc. lviii. 142.)

(560) No Kent Lovells appear as recusants; but in 1587 Thomas Lovel was a magistrate of Norfolk suspected and "reckoned to be backward in religion" (Strype, A. III. ii. 460), and in 1592 Robert Lovell, of Beech Amwell, Norfolk, Esquire, was a recusant at liberty (Cal. Cecil MSS. iv. 268). They were the first and third sons respectively of Sir Thomas Lovell, of East Harling, who died in 1567. (Blomefield, i. 323.) Robert was admitted to Lincoln's Inn, 19 Dec. 1564 (Rec. of Linc. Inn, Adm. i. 72). Cf. note 67 above.

(561) William Lottisham, of London, was admitted to the Inner Temple in November 1554, and is frequently mentioned in the Records. (M.I.T. 20; Cal. Rec. I.T. i. 244, 260, 261, 263, 269.)

(562) Andrew Gray, of Albury, Herts, entered the Inner Temple in Feb. 1552/3, and was a recusant in 1569, but eventually conformed. He was called to the Bench 1574, was Autumn Reader the same year, Double Reader in Lent 1583, and Treasurer 1585. He died 13 January 1614/5, aged 85, and was buried at Hinxworth. (M.I.T. 16; Cal. Rec. I. T. I. passim; Cussans, Hertfordshire, Hundred of Odsey, 12.)

(563) Perhaps John Gray, of Bisley, Herefordshire, who entered the Inner Temple in Nov. 1564, became a barrister, and was disbarred for recusancy in 1572. (M.I.T. 53; Cal. Rec. I.T. I. passim.) One John Gray, of Preston, in Suffolk, was sent to the Marshalsea, 2 January 1577/8, where he was in 1577, 1579, 1584, 1585, and 1588, and in 1593 had been in prison for nearly twenty years. (C.R.S. ii. 232, 235, 240, 283; Strype, A. II. ii. 661, III. ii. 600, IV. 261.) Another of this name, described of St. Saviour's in Southwark, was a recusant at liberty in 1592. (*Cal. NO. III

A NARRATIVE OF THE MARTYRDOM OF THE VEN. THOMAS HOLLAND, S.J., 1642

CONTRIBUTED BY THE REV. EDWARD ROBERT JAMES

THE following account of the martyrdom of Father Thomas Holland, priest of the Society of Jesus, is a translation from a very rare Portuguese pamphlet, written by an English Catholic who was present at the execution, and published at Lisbon on June 10, 1643, that is within six months of the martyr's death. It is most probably the first printed account of the martyrdom of Father Holland.

The copy, perhaps the only copy extant, from which this translation is made, is in the possession of His Majesty, Don Manuel II., King of Portugal. (Real Bibliotheca d'Ajudà, 55, ii. 26, Papeis Varios, No. 13. As this library is strictly private, I have to thank Sr. Ramalho Ortigão, His Portuguese Majesty's Librarian, for permission to translate it, and also Sr. Cardoso de Bethencourt, member of the Royal Academy of Sciences, Lisbon, for assistance in translation.) Owing to the clumsy way in which this pamphlet was bound with other printed matter, part of the last line of the first three pages, and the whole of the last line of page 4, have been cut off. My searches for an integral copy in several libraries, public and private, of Lisbon, have been unsuccessful. As this narrative will be seen on perusal to differ in some details from Dr. Challoner's notice,* which was based on the Latin life of Fr. Holland,† published at Antwerp in 1645, a few notes have been added, calling attention to the chief differences.

Relaçaõ da Ditosa morte do Padre Thomas Hollanda, sacerdote de Companhia de Jesus, Ingres de naçaõ, e natural da Provincia de Lencestre no Reyno de Inglaterra. Escrivoa hũ Inglez Catholico, que se achou presente.

Foy prezo o Padre Thomas Hollanda na cidade de Londres, corte dos Reys de Inglaterra, e metropoli daquelle Reyno (menor theatro naõ bastava pera as façanhas de taõ illustre cavalleiro de Christo). Esteve preso seis somanas: chegou o tempo de huma das quatro audiencias geraes do anno: foi levado a juizo, entre ladrões e malfeitores, pera que nem esta gloria de padecer por Christo lhe faltasse; com valor gazoso aparaceo diante dos Juizos: fizeraõ lhe varias perguntas, entre outras, se era sacerdote? respondeo, que quem por tal o acusava, que lho provasse, que elle estaria pellos autos, e leys do Reyno, porem os acusadores, que eraõ quatro, juraraõ somente, que o haviaõ visto estudar em Castella pera sacerdote, mas que naõ sabiaõ si o era. Porẽ q̃ sabiaõ que prometiaõ os que estudavaõ en taes casas collegios de o serem pella doutrina e estudo, que nelles recebiaõ. Com tudo os juizes por estas sospeitas somente fulminaraõ sentença de morte contra o valeroso soldado de Christo, nem esperaraõ replica, nẽ treplica, nẽ embargos, ne admittarão defesa alguma contras as leys do Reyno. A forma da sentença foy a sequinte.

Por quanto a este tribunal lhe consta serdas sacerdote, mandamos que morrais por traidor, conforme as leys do Reyno. Tornareis ao lugar donde viestes, que he a cadea de Neugate, e de la saireis a arrastar por traidor ao rabo de cavallos, pellas ruas publicas, ate o lugar de Tiborne, e ahi sereis enforcado e meyo vivo vos lançarão abaixo . . . arancarão o coração e o mostrar ao povo e entranhas com elle serão lançadas no fogo, e vosso corpo esquartejado e os quartos pendurados pellas portas de Londres.

Pronunciada a sentença, levantou o servo de Deos os olhos e as mãos ao Ceo, e deo graças a divina Magestade pella merce que lhe fazia de dar a vida pela confissão de sua Fè Romana e Apostolica: e logo com sembrante de vencedor disse pera os juizes, "liberalmente vos perdoo tão injusta sentença, dada somente por sospeitas e leves indicios, contra as leys do Reyno, e tambem perdoo as testemunhas, que jurarão contra mim, porem não permitta Deos que no tremendo tribunal de dia do Juizo não clame meu sangue contra vos." daqui o levarão outrà ves à cadea, em hum sabado dez de Setembro de 1642. Passou o restante deste dia, e o Domingo seguinte com visitas de Religiosos e outras pessoas de grande calidade, q̃ por sua devoçaõ o hião visitar. A segunda feira dose do dito mes dissa missa na prisão a comungou a muytas pessoas devotas q̃ concorrerão pera o ver, e ouvir sua practica e doutrina. Pellas oito horas da mesma manhãã chegou a Justiça, com grande estrondo e estrepito criminal, e o tirarão de cadea, e deitarão em hum carrinho baixo de altura de hum palmo de chão, sobre huma pouca de palha e depois de o amarrarem bem, o forão arrastando por dous cavallos pellas ruas publicas, ate o lugar onde padecem os malfeitores; chegou a Tiborne, lugar de seus triumphos, e posto que muyto enlameado, a lama lhe parecia gala: o algoz o desamarrou do carro, que verdadeiramente pera o servo de Deos foy carro triumphal, deste subio a outro mais alto, prevenido ja pella justiça, donde com cortès alegria fez suas continencias aos senhores e senhoras Catolicas, e aos mais que erão muytas, e povo sem conto. Logo pedia licença aos ministros da justiça pera mostrar em publico a sem rasão comque o matavão, contra as leys do Reyno, e pera se despedir daquelle povo. Tanto que hum dos ministros lhe acenou com a licença, elle em alto voz pedio attençaõ e começou huma practica admiravel. "Comecemus (disse elle) pello sinal da Crus, que os Calvenistas entranhavelmente aborrecem e . . . esta nossa gloriosa acção pera que tenha o fim que desejamos. Em nome do Padre e do Filho, e do Spirito Santo, tres pessoas e hum só Deos verdadeiro. Ha neste auditorio quem se escandalise deste sinal?" aqui parou hum pouco, e tanto que vio que ninguem lhe respondia, proseguio seu arresoado, e provou com textos e pontos do direito concludentemente, como fora condendado sem algum genero do prova. E logo tornou de novo a pedir attençaõ e a perguntar: "Ha neste auditorio alguem que me visse obrar cousa mal feita, ou contra Deos, ou contra el-Rey?" Depois de parar e ver que ninguem respondia, disse: "aqui tem logar o nosso vulgar proverbio quem calle consente; todos logo confessais que morro innocente e contra direyto, sem prova juridica? Pois agora, quero eu declarar quem sou, meu estado, minha profissão, e minha ventura.

"Eu sou sacerdote, posto que indigno de Companhia de Jesus, Religião que he coluna de Fè Romana e Apostolica, em que somente ha salvação. Eu sou o Padre Thomas Hollanda, deste illustre nação: sou natural da Provincia de Lencester, bem conhecido nella pellos Catolicos Romanos, porque de meu nascimento fuy sempre Catolico Romano; nesta vivi sempre, nella espero morrer, porque assi como não ha mais que hum sò Deos, assi não ha mais que huma sò Fè, em que ha salvação, esta he somente a Romana, que nossos antepassados por tantos annos professarão, com huma prodigiosa e continua successão de espantosas e milagrosos successos, como testemunhão tantos annaes anglicanos. Neste me cor; robor—ei [sic=corroborei] mais em Espanha, Allemanha, França, Flandres e outras provincias onde estudei muyto de vesas todos os fundamentos da verdadeira religião, e sempre achei que os das contrarias erão falsos, e so os da Romana verdadeiros, e que so nella podia haver salvação."

Aqui desfez algums dos fundamentos da falsa ceita de Calvino, mas hum ministro della lhe interrompeo o discurso, e bradou: "Senhor Hollanda, pare vossa merce, pera que são tantas rasões? Cuidarão os rudes, que ouvem esse sua doutrina, que verdadeira;" e logo entendeo com os ladrões que morrião en companhia do servo de Deos e os perverteo ainda mais . . . -stas ao impio pregador, e sua doutrina, e levantando as mãos e rosto pera o Oriente, esteve immobil por um quarto em profunda contemplação: depois se tournou a virar, e em alta e sonora voz disse: "Senhor meu e Deos meu, vos me criastes e remistes com vosso precioso sangue, eu vos dou infinitas graças por todos os merces que me fizestes, e agora particularmente por esta de dar a vida pella profissão e confissão da vossa Fè Romana e Apostolica; eu vos torno a vida e alma que me destes. Oh! quem tivera muytas mais pera vos sacrificar! quem por vosso amor padecera todos quantos tormentos padecarão vossos invictos martyres!"

E porque o algoz hia facendo seu officio, meteo a mão na algibeira, e tirou humas moedas embrulhadas en hum papel, e lhas meteo na mão, dizendo que perdoasse, que não tinha mais, que sempre vivera como pobre de Christo. O algos lhas aceitou com o chapeo na mão. Logo o defendor da Fè Romana se pos de joelhos no carro, emque ultimamente havia de triumphar, com os olhos no norte, e em alta voz fez a Deos a ultima recommendação da sua alma, e lhe pedio perdão pera seus inimigos, e lhe encomendou com notavel affeito, e força de espirito a reducção da Inglaterra. Depois de rogar a Deos por todos, se tornou alevantar em pè, sitto e postura de capitão triumphante na morte gloriosa. Logo os algoses darão hum açouta nos cavallos, que partindo, ficou o servo de Deos pendurado no ar, com as maos postas no Ceo, sem fazer no rosto esgar algum, antes vestio hum sembrante ainda mais sereno e alegre.

Meyo vivo o cortarão abaixo e o despirão nu, e o abrirão pellas peitos, e lhe arrancarão o coração, que vinha palpitando, e como triumphando. O algoz o mostrou ao povo com a custumada ceremonia e solemes palavras, dizendo "vedes aqui o coraçaõ de hum traidor, e Deos guarde o el-Rey," e o deitaraõ no meyo de huma fogueira, que preparado tinhaõ, com os entranhas juntamente, e depois fizeraõ o corpo em quatro quartos que dependuraraõ pellas portas mais principaes da cidade, pera que aquelles tropheos da Fè Romana, fossem de todos mais vistos e taõ alto os levantaraõ. . . .

Foy este cruel execuçaõ sentida dos Hereges: e com ella grãgeraõ os Juizos pera si odio e malevolencia e pera o cavalleiro de Christo gloria, e eterna fama. Foraõ comigo presentes tres sacerdotes, fóra outras muytas pessoas Catolicas en Londres a 12 de Dezembro de 1642.

Esta relaçaõ confirmáraõ de pois en este Reyno algũas pessoas, que assistáraõ nesta fermosa acçaõ do servo de Deos, Thomas Hollanda, que na verdade foy hum aspectaculo de honra pera Deos, de esforça pera os Catolicos, e de pasmo pera os hereges. Na divina bondade esperamos que seu sangue vertido pellas praças de Londres, por testemunha da Fè Romana, torne a consegrar aquelle grande cidade, e todo aquelle Reyno na verdadeira crença e Religiaõ, que seus mayores outro tempo patentemente professaraõ.

Account of the happy death of Father Thomas Holland, priest of the Society of Jesus, Englishman by birth, and a native of the Province of Lancashire, in the kingdom of England. Written by an English Catholic who was present.

Father Thomas Holland was arrested in the city of London, court of the Kings of England, and metropolis of that kingdom. (A lesser theatre [than London] was not sufficient for the prowess of so famous a knight of Christ.) He was in prison six weeks.* When the time of one of the general quarter sessions came round, he was taken to the judge between thieves and malefactors, in order that not even this glory of suffering for Christ should be wanting to him. He appeared with courage and pleasure before the judges, who put to him various questions, among others, if he was a priest? He answered that he who accused him of such must prove it against him; that he would submit to the acts and laws of the kingdom; but his accusers (who were four) swore only that they had seen him studying for a priest in Castile,† but did not know if he was one; moreover, they knew that they who studied in these houses and colleges, engaged to be priests in return for the science and study which they received there. On these suspicions only the judges passed sentence of death on the brave soldier of Christ, without waiting for a reply, or sur-rebut, or legal

* Challoner says he was apprehended on October 4, i.e. nearly ten weeks before his death. Perhaps the date assigned by Challoner is a misprint for November 4.

† Valladolid is probably referred to.

exception, or admitting any defence, against the laws of the kingdom. The form of the sentence was as follows:—

Whereas at this court it has been proved against you that you are a priest, we command that you shall die as a traitor conformably to the laws of the kingdom. You shall return to the place whence you came (which is the prison of Newgate), and you shall be taken out to be dragged as a traitor at the tails of horses through the public streets to the place of Tiborne, and here you shall be hanged, and they shall cut you down while half alive, . . . they shall tear out your heart and show it to the people; your entrails shall be cast with it into the fire, and your body quartered, and the quarters hung on the gates of London.*

The sentence being pronounced, the servant of God raised his eyes and hands to heaven, and gave thanks to the Divine Majesty for the grace bestowed on him, of laying down his life in confession of the Roman and Apostolic Faith; and presently with the countenance of a conqueror, he said frankly to the judges: "I pardon you so unjust a sentence, given only on suspicions and slight evidences, against the laws of the kingdom; and I also pardon the witnesses who have sworn against me; and may God permit not my blood to cry out against you in the tremendous tribunal of the day of judgment." From here they took him again to the prison, on a Saturday, the tenth of September † of 1642. He passed the rest of this day and the Sunday following in visits from Religious and other persons of high quality, who out of devotion ‡ came to visit him. On Monday, the twelfth of the said month, he said Mass in prison, and communicated many devout persons who had come to see him and to listen to his discourse and instruction. At eight o'clock of the same morning the officers of justice arrived with great noise and criminal uproar, and took him from prison and put him in a low hurdle of the height of a palm from the ground, on a little straw; and after fastening him well, they began to drag him by two horses through the public streets to the place where malefactors suffer; he arrived at Tiborne, the scene of his triumphs, and although he was covered with mud, the mud seemed to him an ornament. The executioner took him from the car, which certainly for the servant of God was a triumphal car; from this he mounted a higher triumphal car, the judges being already there assembled; and from there he bowed politely and cheerfully to the Catholic men and women, and to the rest, who were many, and an innumerable people. Then he asked the ministers of justice for permission to set forth to the people the unreason of their putting him to death against the laws of the realm, and to take his leave of the people. As soon as one of the ministers nodded permission, he called in a loud voice for attention, and commenced an admirable discourse. "Let us begin (he said) with the sign of the cross, which the Calvinists heartily detest,

* Four or five words are here cut off.

† This is evidently a misprint for December. The trial was held at the Old Bailey on December 7, and it was not until the 10th that the recorder pronounced sentence of death against him.—Challoner.

and . . .* this our glorious action, that it may attain the end which we all desire. In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost, three persons and one only true God. Is there any one in this audience who is scandalised at this sign?" Here he paused, and seeing that no one answered him, he continued his speech in his defence, and proved conclusively with texts and points of law that he had been condemned without any kind of proof. Then he called again for attention and asked: "Is there any one in this assembly who has seen me do any evil deed, either against God or against the king?" After waiting, and seeing that no one answered, he said: "Here our common proverb is exemplified, 'Silence gives consent'; then all of you confess that I die innocent and against the law, without juridical proof. Now, then, I wish to declare who I am, my state, my profession, and the course of my life.

"I am a priest, though unworthy, of the Company of Jesus, a religious order which is a column of the Roman and Apostolic Faith, in which alone is salvation. I am Father Thomas Holland, of this illustrious nation; I am a native of the province of Lancashire, well known there by the Roman Catholics, since from my birth I have always been a Roman Catholic. In this (faith) I have always lived, in it I hope to die; because as there is one only God, so there is one only faith, in which is salvation; this is the Roman Faith which our forefathers for so many years professed, with a wonderful and continuous succession of marvellous and miraculous events, as so many English annals testify. I have been confirmed in this (my faith) in Spain, Germany, France, Flanders, and other lands, where I have studied very seriously all the fundamental principles of true religion; and I have always found that the fundamental principles of contrary [religions] were false, that those of the Roman Faith were the only true ones, and that in it alone could salvation be had."

Here he confuted some of the principles of the false sect of Calvin, but a Calvinist minister interrupted his discourse and bawled out: "Mr. Holland, hold your peace! to what purpose is all this reason? Ignorant people who hear your doctrine will believe that it is the truth;" and then he spoke with the thieves who were to die in company with the servant of God, and perverted them still more with † . . . [and Father Holland . . .] to the impious preacher and his doctrine; and raising his hands and (turning) his face towards the East, he stood immovable for a quarter (of an hour) in deep contemplation; then he turned round and in a high and sonorous voice said: "My Lord and my God, you created me and redeemed me with your precious blood. I give you infinite thanks for all the graces you have bestowed on me, and now especially for this grace of laying down my life in profession and confession of your Roman and Apostolic Faith. I return to you the life and soul which you gave me. O would that I had many more lives to sacrifice to you! Would that, for love of you, I could suffer all the torments which your invincible martyrs have suffered!"

† Probably "with psalms"; the prison chaplain, says Challoner, sang psalms with the two malefactors who were to die that day. About nine words are cut off.

As the executioner was about to do his duty, [the servant of God] put his hand into his pocket and drew out some coins wrapped up in paper, and put them into the (executioner's) hand, saying that he pardoned him, that he had no more, that he had always lived as a poor man of Christ. The executioner received them with hat in hand. Then the defender of the Roman Faith knelt down in the cart, in which he was at last to triumph, with his eyes turned to the North, and in a loud voice made the last commendation of his soul to God, and asked pardon for his enemies; and with remarkable affection and with all his soul he prayed for the return of England [to the faith]. After praying to God for all he rose on his feet, like a captain triumphing in a glorious death. Then the executioners whipped the horses, which, in going away, left the servant of God suspended in the air, with his hands lifted up to heaven,* and his face showing no sign of contortion, but on the contrary his countenance was more serene and joyful.

They cut him down while half alive,† and stripped him and cut open his breast and tore out his heart, which came forth palpitating and, as it were, triumphing. The executioner showed it to the people with the usual ceremonial and solemn words, saying, "See here the heart of a traitor, and God save the king," and then flung it, together with the entrails, into the middle of a fire which had been prepared, and then they cut the body into four quarters, which they hung on the principal gates of the city, in order that these trophies of the Roman Faith might be seen by everybody; and they placed them so high . . .‡

This cruel execution grieved even the heretics, and brought hatred and malevolence on the judges, and glory and eternal fame to the knight of Christ. There were present with me three priests, besides many other Catholics, in London on the twelfth § of December 1642.

This account has since been confirmed here in this country by several persons who assisted at this beautiful action of the servant of God, Thomas Holland, which in very truth was a spectacle of honour to God, of encouragement to the Catholics, and admiration to the heretics. We hope through the Divine goodness that his blood, spilt in the public squares of London, in testimony of the Roman Faith, may consecrate that great city, and the whole of that kingdom in the true creed and religion which its ancestors in other times openly professed.

PAPERS FROM THE COURTFIELD MUNIMENTS

CONTRIBUTED BY JOHN HOBSON MATTHEWS

I HAVE lately concluded the laborious but interesting task of examining and calendaring the large and important collection of ancient muniments preserved at Courtfield, near Ross, in the county of Hereford. Courtfield has been, since the reign of Elizabeth, the seat of the Vaughan family, one of the elder branches of the great Herbert sept. The present head of this branch is Colonel Francis Baynham Vaughan, J.P., K.C.P., to whom I am indebted for permission to print the following papers.

In 1721 John Vaughan of Courtfield, lord of Welsh Bicknor, inherited the adjoining manor of Ruardean, co. Glouc., together with the manor of Abenhall, one-third of Mitcheldean, and other lands in Gloucestershire; as also the manor of Cleiro and lands in Radnorshire. This inheritance was from the family of Vaughan of Ruardean, who, though staunch Catholics and near neighbours, were of Breconshire origin, and an entirely distinct race from their namesakes of Courtfield.* Most of the documents here presented for the first time to the public relate to the Ruardean Vaughans. They are arranged as follows :—

A. A series of papers concerning the indictment in 1641 of Dame Joan Vaughan of Ruardean (widow of John Vaughan of Kinnersley, co. Heref., who was jure uxoris of Ruardean), for the treason-felony of harbouring a priest. The priest was John† Broughton, who was chaplain to Dame Joan, and also acted as her Steward. We have a few particulars about him from the Ruardean Court Rolls, followed by a Petition of John Vaughan on behalf of his mother, the accused lady. Then, after sundry minor items, comes Case for Counsel's Opinion, with learned counsel's opinion duly set out. The Instructions for Pleadings to the Indictment follow, and afterwards the Chief Justice's reversal of his warrant to arrest the defendant. The set of documents concludes with the King's mandate (Nolle exequi) under the Royal sign manual, to stay execution of sentence in case the accused lady was found guilty.

B. Letter from John Jones of Dingastow, co. Monm., esq., to Richard Vaughan of Courtfield, esq. (whose sister, Mary Vaughan, was married to Mr. Jones), dated in 1642. It gives warning that a new Commission is to be held in Monmouthshire for laying fresh burdens upon the Catholics.

C. Two receipts, dated in 1684–5, for legacies bequeathed by John Vaughan of Courtfield to the Benedictines of Douai and to the Franciscans.

D. A letter, dated in 1813, from John Brydges to Mr. William Vaughan of Courtfield, claiming kinship in a female line and making reference to well-known Catholic families. The writer was evidently not a Catholic. His anxiety to show himself worthy of recognition as a kinsman is almost pathetic.

* See The Vaughans of Courtfield, by the present writer. Sands & Co., London, 1912.

† Not Thomas as stated by Sir John Maclean (History of the Manors of Dene Magna and Abenhall).

I. PAPERS IN THE CASE OF DAME JOAN VAUGHAN AND FATHER JOHN BROUGHTON

Dame Joan Vaughan was imprisoned in Gloucester Castle on the above charge. It is, however, clear that her friends were able to bring sufficient influence to bear upon the King to secure her liberation. Indeed, Charles the First and Charles the Second were always glad to save the life of a Catholic—even of a priest—if the political situation allowed them to ignore Puritan pressure.

The reader will observe the King's autograph signature at the head of the Royal mandate, reproduced here in facsimile.

"Dame Joan," as she is traditionally styled, was a daughter of Thomas Baynham of Clowerwal (now Clearwell) in the parish of Newland, co. Glouc., esq., lord of the manors of Ruardean, Mitcheldean and Abenhall in that county, by his wife Mary, daughter of Sir William Winter, knt. The said Thomas was a younger son of Sir George Baynham of Clowerwal, knt., by his wife Cecily, daughter of Sir John Gage, knt. (Visit. Glouc., 1623, ed. Harl. Soc. xxi. 14, 15.) Cecily was Sir George's 2nd wife. Her father, Sir John Gage, was of Firle, co. Sussex, and was a K.G.; her mother was Philippa, daughter of Sir Richard Guldeford or Guildford, another Knight of the Garter. The Gage family was Catholic, but lapsed soon after attaining to peerage rank. They represent the old Catholic family of Hall of Highmeadow in Newland. The surname Baynham is a corruption of the Welsh Ab Einion.

John Broughton (vere Crowther) was born in co. Salop, 1589, eldest son of Arthur Crowther by his wife Mary Broughton. (Visit. Shrops., 1623; ed. Harl. Soc. xxviii.) He was professed a Benedictine at St. Gregory's, Douay, in 1609, was sent to St. Lawrence's, Dieulouwart, and thence to the mission in the South Province. He suffered imprisonment in London, and on his release laboured in Gloucestershire. He was Provincial of Canterbury, 1625–9. In his old age he retired to the Abbey of Lambspring, and died there 14 Mar. 1658. In religion he bore the additional name Mark. (Snow, Necrology O.S.B.) John Crowther had two brothers, Thomas and Arthur, and four sisters. Arthur was born in Montgomeryshire, and became a Benedictine priest (ibid.). Their paternal grandfather was Thomas Crowther, whose wife's maiden surname was Baldwin. (Visit. Shrops., p. 22.)

Mary Broughton was dau. of Geoffrey Broughton by his wife Alice, dau. of John Stevenson. Geoffrey was 7th son of Thomas Broughton by his wife Katherine, dau. and heir of Edmund Hodnett. The last-named Thomas was son of Walter Broughton of Broughton. (Visit. Shrops., pp. 83–84. See also Gillow, Dict. Engl. Cath., i. 603.)

The Middlesex Records, vol. iii., contain a list of 1430 persons against whom proceedings were to be taken for recusancy in 1640. Among them are many residents of St. Clement Danes, and four of these are stated to have proffered a writ of Certiorari in the King's Bench, returnable at Christmas in the year above mentioned. Of these four, the first two are Edward, Lord Harberte, and John Vaughan, gentleman. There can be little doubt that the lastnamed was Dame Joan Vaughan's son, whom in the following papers we find forwarding the cause of his mother's defence with so much energy and success.

John Broughton witnesses several deeds (now among the Courtfield muniments) executed by and for Dame Joan Vaughan at Ruardean. That he was a resiant in the manor of Ruardean appears from an entry on the Court Roll of 1633, when the Homage present that John Broughton, gent., ought to have a wain way for the fetching of his hay, to a place called the Cinderhill.

On a blank space in the Court Roll of 1636 is an obscure memorandum: "query Mr. Broughton about the bootes."

In 1638 the Homage say as follows:—

"We doe p^rsent M^r John Braughton for tackinge in to his howse one M^r ganseford, * and did not first geue securitie to saue the p^rish harmles according To a standinge paine of this Corte of fortie shilinges.

"We doe order and apoynt that the s^d M^r John Braughton shall pvt away the s^d M^r Ganseford or to geue securiti to saue The parish harmles be fore the first Day of May next vpon payn of xl^s."

Probably Mr. Gainsford was a youth residing with the priest for purposes of education. His family were then of Grosmont in Monmouthshire, but had come from Sussex in Elizabeth's reign. The removal was doubtless on religious accounts, this branch having remained Catholic. Its present representative is W. D. Gainsford, esq., of Skendleby, co. Linc., a member of this Society. J. H. London. Bring up John Broughton, late of London, clerk, otherwise Sir John Crowder, late of London, clerk, to answer unto the King for high treasons, in the Octave of Easter Term; wherefor he was on the 6th day of November in the 16th year of the reign of King Charles outlawed. Monday next before the feast of Saint Scholastica, virgin (Feb. 10) in the 16th year of King Charles (1641). By writs. Hilary, 16 Car. I. Ex^{d} by Offley.

3. CASE WITH COUNSEL'S OPINION

[Written in a fine hand on one side of a doubled foolscap sheet of paper. The Opinion is written on the left margin, in a rapid legal hand identical with that of the first document.]

A being about 9 yeares since indicted for a Preist and in Hillary terme last was outlaw'd B after indictm^{t} but before outlawry lodgeth A not knowing him to be a preist.

B is indicted for lodging A and that indictm^{t} is found by y^{e} grand Jury to w^{ch} indictm^{t} B appeares.

Quest. whether they that indict B for lodging of A must not prove B lodged A after A was outlaw'd and that B had notice thereof by shewing B y^{e} record or whether a verball notice to B is sufficient notice to bring B within the statute or not or if C being the prosequutor desiring D to give B notice thereof w^{ch} C sweares D accordingly did and told C he had so done be sufficient notice to bring B within y^{e} statute or whither D must not personally appeare and depose he gaue B notice of the outlawry and if D shall whither this shalbe sufficient notice for B or not.

I understand that the outlawr' was in another Countie then where the lodging was of A

To p^{r}ve B guiltie, it must be p^{r}ved that hee lodged A af^{r} the outlawrie & knowledg of the outlawrie it being in anoth^{r} Countie, vnlesse it be p^{r}ved that B knew him to be a priest when hee lodged A

But I thinke notice of the outlawr' may be given by word w^{t}hout shewinge the Record, & that wilbe a sufficient notice to bring B w^{t}hin the cõpas of the stat' if hee ent^{r}taine A after

And if D at the request of C did give notice of it to B it wilbe sufficient to bring B w^{t}hin the stat' if hee entertained A aft^{r} that

But the saying of D to C that hee had given notice of it to B is not sufficient, vnles it be p^{r}ved vpon oathe that hee did it

4. COUNSEL'S INSTRUCTIONS FOR PLEADING TO INDICTMENT

The following document is written in a bold roundhand on one side of four folios of foolscap paper. Curiously, it appears that a reprieve had already been obtained, before the trial, but was not to be produced unless sentence was pronounced.

The text of the document contains no mention of the accused's name, nor of his or her place of abode. A pencil note on the back, written probably at the end of the 18th century, is as follows :—

"For Dame Catherine Pembroke * Vaughan of Rhuardeane."

(1.)—They must Proue Broughton to be a Priest. If they shall sweare they knowe him to be a Priest, quest: Howe: If they answeare, he is outlawd, and soe Conuicted, and shewe not the Record, it is noethinge. If they shewe the Recorde, Answ: I hope under ffauor my Lord, they must nowe viua voce, prooue him to be a Priest; for his nowe Conuiction is only for wante of appearance, and not by Euydence at tryall, and thus anie man may be Conuicted, and yett be noe Priest; and therefore excepte they fully prooue him nowe to be a Prieste, I hope it shall not Preiudice me.

If they shall sweare they fownde his orders aboute him, Quest: wheather those they call his orders weare not in Lattine, if yea, if they Can Reade, and understand Latine, if no, howe can they tell those weare his orders. If they Answeare they tooke them a way, and an other Read them, to them, and by that they knew they wear his orders, Answ: that he that Read them, must vyua voce, testifie this, or ells it is noethinge. If they shall answeare, that uppon his Cuminge to seartch for him in my house, he fownd an Alter, and manie Such Lyke Ceremonies, which they beinge acquaynted with businesses of that nature, knewe a Priest had bin excersiseinge his ffunction in the house, Quest: when this was, Answeare must be made a boute, tenn, or twelue, years since. Answ: they ought to haue enformed within, 3. yeares after the knoweledge of the offence, or ells the Information is voyde; And that this is noethinge; if the time be admitted [fo. 2.] excepte they Sweare, Mass was Sayed in the house, I beinge Presente, and that by Broughton beinge a Priest, I knoweinge him to be soe.

(2.)—They must prooue him to be borne in the Kings dominions (Scottland excepted) for this act was made 27. Elyzabeth, and then Scottland was not in her dominions; and soe he must be a Priest borne in the Kings dominions. It is not suffitiente to sweare this at Large, but quest: howe they knowe this, and where he was, and when he was borne, and what his friends weare.

(3.)—They must Proue him to be at Lybertie, and out of howld. And soe he must be a Priest borne in the Kings dominions, and at Lybertie, and oute of howlde.

If they Answ: he was at Large,

Answ: Soe are manie Prysoners that enter securetie, for theyr Cuminge in agayne, and soe myghte he.

Admitt these 3. to be ffully Proued, as that they must all be, or ells

* This word "Pembroke" is interlineated in the same hand.

we are not faultie though we harboured him; for if they fayle to proue anie of them fully, they Proue noethinge.

(4.)—They must Proue that I wittingly, and willingly Receaued him, knoweinge him to be such a Priest; and that I knewe him to be at Lybertie, borne in the Kings dominions, and out of howlde when I soe Receaued him.

M^d^ if they shall Proue I knewe him to be a Priest, and harboured him, yett if they doe not Proue I harburd him, knoweinge him to be Such a Priest as aboaue, they Proue noethinge; this the uery words of the Statute makes good.

[fo. 3.] If he shall Sweare that he gaue me notice that he was indicted for a Priest; or that he Sente me Such word, and the same parties did giue me notice, and tould him afterwards they had soe done, these parties must Cum in, (viua voce) and testefy this agaynst me, otherwise his euidence is not suffitiente.

If both these Shall be deposed.

Question, when he, or they gaue me this notice, for if it weare anie time before the Sixth of ffebruary Last, we are Safe, for untill he be outlawd he is not Conuicted, and we in noe daynger, unless notice be after outlawry.

Quest: farther (this beinge a mayne poynte) if they would not haue indicted me for this at Last Michellmas Sessions, and wheather they haue nowe anie other euidence agaynst me then they had then; if they Confess this we are Cleere (if they fall uppon matter of notice) by theyr owne testimonie for it Cleerly appeares Broughton was not outlawd untill the sixth of ffebruary Last, beinge a Longe time after they would haue Indicted me.

If all these shall be deposed, and the Jury bringe in a Billa Vera,

Then bespeake an arrest of Judgemente and desire that the Indictment and the Statute may be Compared togeather, for if it be not Layed thus in the indictmente, that he beinge a Priest, borne in the Kings dominions and at Lybertie and out of houlde, that I wittingly and willingly harboured him, knoweinge him to be such a Priest as aforesayde; these or anie one of these Lefte out are suffitiente to quash the Indictmente, and then they must Indict a gayne, and all things [fo. 4.] must be agayne agitated.

If none of these hold, after Sentence produce the Repriue, and that will Saue your Lyfe, and doubtless we shall afterwards procure a Pardon to haue your estat.

LETTER FROM JOHN BRYDGES IN LONDON TO WILLIAM VAUGHAN OF COURTFIELD

Queen Ann S^{t} Cav^{h} Sq^{r}
Nov^{r} 22nd 1813.

Sir,

Being quite unknown to you, it is not without considerable hesitation that I intrude myself upon your notice; but I am impelled to it by the desire of a venerable Mother now living with me & which will I trust plead my excuse & intitle me to the favor of your Answer upon the information I have to require; & especially when you will perceive by the following sketch of pedigree that I am not without some portion of the Blood of the Vaughans in my veins.

* Vide vol. ii. p. 303. † Vide vol. ii. p. 301.

My mother imagines that her grandmother, the wife of Edward Brydges, must have been also one of your family, from the Circumstances of her having been a Catholic and having brought up her daughters (my Mother's Aunts) in the same Religion, & their being in habits of Intimacy with former possessors of Courtfield, whom my Mother in early life visited as a Relation. My Mother is now in her 81st year. Her Father died when she was quite young, & she has remained in ignorance as to the name of the family of her Grandmother; but she thinks it not unlikely that the pedigrees, Registers or records, belonging to Courtfield & its family, might afford some light upon the Subject. She joins with me therefore in requesting the favor of you, Sir, to inform us, if you have observed or can find out any thing in them connected with the object of her enquiry. Three of her Aunts, whose names were Gaynford, Trotter, & E. Brydges (the two former widows) resided, she says, for many Years near Courtfield; but it is about 60 Years since the last of them died.

I had the honor of being particularly well known to your late Mother, by my former name of Munn, about fifteen years ago, when I was with Mr Thomas Phillips of Monmouth, whose family are my particular friends—as are also your neighbours the Haselriggs, Evans's, Underwoods, Symonds, Jones's, Cliffords &c. &c. In short, I am well known to all the respectable families in Herefordshire, most of whom Mrs Brydges and I visited in a tour from Cheltenham to Monmouth, thence to the Black Mountains, the Summer before last, when we brought my Mother to Town with us; and although my rank in Society is not higher than that of a Solicitor, my Situation and Acquaintance in Town and County are of the best sort—which I mention merely to convince you of your being addressed by a respectable person.

* As in my transcripts from the Courtfield muniments, fo. 215.—J.H.M.

Entreating your pardon for the nature and length of this Letter & the favor of a reply

I remn Sir

Your Most Obdt humble Servt

John Brydges.

ADDRESSES OF THE STATIONS IN ENGLAND SERVED BY THE JESUIT FATHERS, 1727–1734

CONTRIBUTED BY RICHARD TRAPPES-LOMAX

DURING the times of persecution no secrets were kept more religiously than the addresses of the missionary priests. Even when the persecution of blood had ceased, something of the old reticence remained, and it is very hard to tell with certainty where priests used to live. The following list of the addresses of the Jesuit missionaries is the earliest of the sort with which we are acquainted. Most of these fathers were chaplains at gentlemen's houses. An inspection of the addresses will show this in some cases, and also that many, perhaps more than might have been expected, were living independently. The number of different residences is also remarkable. At the present time, owing to the possibility of communities living together, the Jesuits have thirty-seven residences for priests on the mission in England, less than a quarter of what they had during the period covered by the lists.

The volume from which the list is taken is preserved in the library of the Provincial of the English Jesuits. Its size is octavo; it is bound in white pigskin, and numbers 376 pages. The first page is dated "1° Jan: An: 1727," evidently the date at which the book was commenced. Brother Henry Foley has used it freely in his Records, and he has written on the outside (not quite accurately), "Province Note and Address Book, Provincial's Book, about 1724 to 1773." In reality it was begun in 1727, and the last entry is July 27, 1772.

Pages 13 to 20 are for the addresses of the Vicars Apostolic and the extent of the Vicariates. The addresses are worth copying.

"To M[r] Gifford,[1] at Stafford house,[2] on ye backside of S. James's Park London.'

[Midland District.] "To John Talbot Stoner[3] Esq[r]—(At Heythrope[4] by Enstone bagg Oxfordshire can.) at Stonor, Nettlebed, Oxfordshire."

"M[r] Hornyold[5] (Joann: Philumen: Coadj[tr], at Longbirch, Wolverhampton, Staffordshire."

[1] Bishop Bonaventure Giffard, son of Andrew Giffard of the Chillington family, co. Stafford; born 1642; educated at Douai; consecrated Bishop of Madura 1687; appointed President of Magdalen College, Oxford, 1688; died 12 March 1733.

[2] Not the present Stafford House, but the residence of the Stafford-Howards, Earls of Stafford, situated near what is now Stafford Street, between Bond Street and Dover Street.

[3] Son of John Stonor, of Stonor, by Lady Mary Talbot; educated at Douai; consecrated Bishop of Thespiæ 1716, and appointed V.A. of the Midland District in succession to Bishop George Witham. He died 1756, aged 77.

[4] A seat of the Talbots, Earls of Shrewsbury.

[5] Second son of John Hornyold of Blackmore, co. Worcester, by Mary Mostyn; became chaplain to Mrs. Giffard (née Thimelby) at Longbirch in 1739; consecrated Bishop of Philomelia 1752, as coadjutor to Bishop Stonor; died 1778, aged 72. Longbirch continued to be the residence of the Vicars Apostolic of the Midland District till 1804.

[Western District.] "To M^rs [sic] Powell at Perthier[1] near Monmouth (to M^rs [sic] Harris at ye Pitt near Lhenarth can.)."

[Northern District.] "To M^r (Williams[2] at Ralph Brandling's[3] Esq^r at Middleton near Leeds, Yorkshire can.) Eaton[4] at Wycliff[5] near Greeta bridge, Yorkshire."

"To F^r: Petre[6] Esq^re (at Wycliff near Richmond p. Greatabridge, Yorkshire, can.) at Shoalley near [Blackburn] Lancashire."

Then come (p. 25) a List of "Provincials" (1719–1770); pp. 27–50, "Colleges" at home and abroad, with Rectors, Superiors, &c.; pp. 53–104, "Names of ours with their directions by the following numbers"; pp. 109–138, "Directions"—this is now copied in full. Pp. 139 to end contain lists of admissions, deaths, dismissals, dates of vows, &c.—many of the pages being blank. The obits seem to have been strictly kept up to date; the other lists are less regular. The addresses do not seem to have been entered at all after 1734.

(1) When the original address has been cancelled, it has been printed here in brackets, and the note can. has been added after it. (2) When a new name or address is inserted it is printed in brackets, and the note ins. has been added after it. (3) By referring to pp. 53–104 it has been possible to ascertain a little more about the persons who lived at the various addresses, especially their Christian names: these are inserted in square brackets. (4) The names in italics are derived from the lists in other parts of the book.

It may be as well to give a table of the "Districts" or "Colleges."

(1) The London District, or "College of St. Ignatius," comprised London, Middlesex, Surrey, Kent, Berkshire, and Hertfordshire.

(2) The Suffolk District, or "College of the Holy Apostles," comprised Suffolk, Cambridgeshire, Norfolk, and Essex.

(3) The Lancashire District, or "College of St. Aloysius," comprised Lancashire, Cheshire, Westmoreland.

(4) The Staffordshire District, or "College of St. Chad," comprised that county.

(5) The Derbyshire District, or "College of the Immaculate Conception of the Blessed Virgin Mary," comprised Derbyshire, Leicestershire, Nottinghamshire, and Rutland.

(6) The Wales and Hereford District, or "College of St. Francis Xavier," comprised Wales, Monmouthshire, Herefordshire, Gloucestershire, and Somersetshire. In 1666/7 North Wales became a district by itself, "The Residence of St. Winefrid."

[1] Perthir, the seat of the Powells, and later of the Lorymers, to whom it passed by marriage, is in the Parish of Rockfield, about three miles from Monmouth. It was given up as a mission in 1818, and merged in that of Monmouth. See C.R.S. vol. i. p. 271.

[2] A native of Monmouthshire; joined the Dominicans at Bornheim in 1664; consecrated Bishop of Tiberiopolis 1725, and appointed to succeed Bishop Witham as V.A. of the Northern District. He died 1740, aged 73.

[3] A native of Morpeth, who acquired Middleton by his marriage with Helen, dau. and heiress of John Legh. (Waugh, The Leeds Mission, 1904.)

[4] The alias of Bishop Edward Dicconson, son of Hugh Dicconson, of Wrightington, by Agnes Kirby. He was appointed V.A. of the Northern District 1740, and was consecrated Bishop of Malla 1741. He died 1752, aged 82.

[5] The seat of the Tunstalls, and inherited by them from the family of the same name.

[6] Third son of Joseph Petre, of Fithlers, co. Essex, by Cath. Andrews; consecrated Bishop of Amoria 1750; and succeeded Bishop Dicconson as V.A. of the Northern District 1752; died at Showley, near Blackburn, 1775, aged 84, and was buried at Stydd, near Richester.

(7) The Yorkshire District, "Residence of St. Michael," comprised the three Ridings of that county.

(8) The Durham District, or "College of St. John the Evangelist," comprised Durham, Cumberland, and Northumberland.

(9) The Lincolnshire District, or "College of St. Hugh," consisted of that county.

(10) The Worcestershire District, or "Residence of St. George," consisted of Warwickshire and Worcestershire.

(11) The Oxfordshire District, or "Residence of St. Mary," comprised Oxfordshire, Bucks, Bedfordshire, and Northamptonshire.

(12) The Hampshire District, or "Residence of St. Thomas of Canterbury," comprised Hants, Wilts, Sussex, and Dorset.

(13) The Devon District, or "Residence of St. Stanislaus," consisted of Devon and Cornwall.

Since the completion of the Annotation of the Addresses of 1727–1734, later addresses for 1767, 1768, 1769, and 1772 have been found in different lists, bound together in the volume at Farm Street, entitled Catalogi varii Provinciæ Angliæ, pp. 621, &c. References to them have therefore been added.

From these it will be seen that a large proportion of the missions served by Jesuits in 1727, &c., as given in the earlier lists, were also served by them in 1767 and onwards, while others had dropped out. On the other hand, there are numerous new missions served by Jesuits in 1767 and onwards which were not so served before, or which at any rate do not appear in the earlier lists. Unless otherwise stated, the dates at which they occur are 1767 to 1772. Among these were Alnwick; Aldenham, co. Salop; Brook Green, Hammersmith; Bury St. Edmunds; Bodney, co. Suffolk, the seat of the Tasburgs; Barlborough, co. Derby; Brandsby, co. York (1767); Berrington, near Berwick; Besley, near Henley-in-Arden; Britwell, co. Oxon, the seat of the Simeons and Welds; Beckford, co. Gloucester (1769, 1772); Chiswick (1767); Crondon Park, co. Essex (1767–9); Cowley hill, near Prescot, Lancs; Croxteth, Lancashire (1772); Carleton, co. York, the seat of the Stapletons; Dam House, Pontefract (1767–9); Dorchester, co. Dorset (1769–1772); Everingham, co. York, the seat of the Constables (1767–9); Exeter; Formby, co. Lanc.; Fazackerley, near Liverpool (1767–8); Furness, co. Lanc.; Husbands Bosworth, co. [1] He entered the Society 1680; was Missioner at Worcester 1702–3; was Provincial 1721–24, and died at St. Omer's 1732, aged 72. Foley, vii. 47.

[2] This is probably the alias of Richard Plowden.

[3] He entered the Society 1679; was Rector of Liège 1704, of St. Omer's 1708, and in the same year of the Eng. Coll., Rome. He became Provincial 1715; again Rector of Liège, 1719; Rector of St. Omer's, 1725. He died at Watten (the Novitiate), 1729, aged 66. Foley, vii. 104.

[4] The only Beaugrand mentioned by Foley (vii. 43) is stated to have died in 1716.

[5] He entered the Soc. 1667; was sent to the Durham District 1675. He served that mission until the Revolution, when the mission and college were destroyed. He died 1732, aged 86, probably at Durham. Foley, vii. 578.

[6] He entered the Soc. 1690. In 1725 he was declared Rector of Ghent, and died 1727, aged 53. Foley, vii. 795.

[7] Probably Fr. Henry Hays, who entered the Soc. 1698. He served the missions of Lincolnshire for some years, and became Rector of St. Hugh's College, residing at Driby, near Horncastle. He became Rector of Ghent in 1731—later he returned to England, and was at Scotney Castle, co. Kent, and died 1739, aged 63. Foley, vii. 348.

[8] He entered the Soc. 1681. He was a Professor at Liège for some years. In 1704 and 1714 he was Procurator of the Province in London. He died at Paris 1728, aged 68. Foley, vii. 413.

[9] He entered the Soc. 1702, and died at Ghent 1742, aged 60. Foley, vii. 8, 55.

[10] He entered the Soc. 1693. In 1731 he was appointed Rector of the Eng. Coll., Rome, and in 1739 of St. Omer's. He died at Watten 1745, aged 73. Foley, vii. 604.

[11] He entered the Soc. 1700. In 1728 he was Minister at Liège Coll., and in 1730 Procurator for the Province at Antwerp. He died 1741, aged 60. Foley, vii. 706.

[12] He entered the Soc. 1691; in 1708 he was a Missioner in Hampshire. In 1709 he was in Durham, and in 1711 in London. He died in England 1721, aged 47. Foley, vii. 721.

[13] i.e. the English College, Rome, for which Hilton was a common alias or code name. It had been founded by Pope Gregory XIII. in 1578 for the education of the English Secular Clergy. The management of the College was soon afterwards entrusted to the Jesuits, under whom it continued till their suppression in 1773.

[14] He entered the Soc. 1698. From 1723 to 1731 he was Rector of the Eng. Coll., Rome, and then became Rector of Watten and Master of Novices. In 1733 he was declared Provincial, and in 1737 Rector of Liège. He died at St. Omer's (after the expulsion of the S.J.) in 1764, aged 94. At one time he was Missioner at Ladyholt, co. Sussex, a seat of the Carylls. Foley, vii. 94.

[7] He was educated at St. Omer's, and entered the Soc. 1670. In 1685 he was appointed Chaplain to K. James II. In 1708 he was declared Provincial of the Eng. Province, and in 1712 he was appointed Rector of St. Omer's. He died there in 1732, aged 80. Foley, vii. 676.

[8] Foley, vii. 694.

[9] He entered the Soc. 1720, and died at St. Omer's 1754, aged 68. Foley, vii. 724.

[10] Foley, vii. 738.

[11] Of the two Frs. John Tempest mentioned by Foley this is probably the younger, though distinguished by Foley as No. 1. He entered the Soc. 1712. Some time after 1730 he was Chaplain to the 8th Lord Petre at Ingatestone and Thorndon, where he died 1737, aged 43. The other Fr. John Tempest (alias Hardesty) entered the Soc. 1699. He served the mission at Liverpool for many years, and was there in 1718. He began to serve Lydiate from Liverpool in 1722, and built the first chapel in Liverpool in 1736. After this he served in Hampshire, and in 1741 was at Lord Aston's at Tixall, co. Stafford. He died 1752, aged 71. Foley, vii. 765 and 766.

[12] He entered the Soc. 1712. In 1728 he was Minister of the Eng. Coll., Rome. In 1730 he was in the "Residence" of St. Winefred (N. Wales), and died at Holywell 1761, aged 70. Foley, vii. 846.

[13] According to a pencil note in Foley's hand in the MS. this is an alias for Liège, where the Society had a College for Philosophy and Theology. It had been founded in 1614 by Fr. John Gerard. In 1773 the school for boys at Bruges (previously at St. Omer's) was transferred to Liège, and through the good offices of the Prince Bishop was placed under the charge of the ex-Jesuits, who continued it under the name of "The Academy" as a Seminary for English laymen and ecclesiastics. In 1794 it was transferred to Stonyhurst.

[14] He entered the Soc. in 1726; served the missions at Hanley Castle and Worcester, where he died in 1777, aged 69. Foley, vii. 37.

[15] He entered the Soc. in 1718, and for many years was Missioner in Devon and Cornwall, and at Bonham and Lulworth in Dorsetshire; also at Cowley Hill, near St. Helens, Lancashire, where he died in 1764, aged 85. Foley, vii. 44.

[16] He entered the Soc. 1732, and was also known as Poyntz and Price. For many years he was Procurator of the Province in London. He died at Liège in 1789, aged 80. Foley, vii. 629.

[17] He entered the Soc. in 1723, and was for many years Superior of the Lancashire District. He was Missioner at Cowley Hill, St. Helens, and died there in 1773, aged 71. Foley, vii. 44.

[18] Foley, vii. 48.

[19] Foley, vii. 56.

[20] He entered the Soc. in 1713; was sent to the English Mission 1744, and served at Crondon Park, Essex. He died at Liège 1759, aged 66. Foley, vii. 63.

[21] He entered the Soc. 1724, and after serving as Missioner in England, became English Penitentiary at Loreto. He became Rector of the Eng. Coll., Rome, 1762/3. From 1769 to 1779 he was Chaplain at Burton, near Petworth, the seat of the Gorings. In 1779 he went to Wardour, the seat of the Arundells, where he died 1797, aged 90. Foley, vii. 72.

NO. VI

ACCOUNT BOOK OF MR. RALPH CLAVERING, 1763–1764

CONTRIBUTED BY RICHARD TRAPPES-LOMAX

THIS consists of an 8vo pocket-book in white parchment containing 50 folios. It is inscribed outside "Journal of expences in 1773 and 1774 at Paris & returning to Callaly." These dates are an evident error, and should read 1763–1764.

The writer of these accounts was Ralph Peter Clavering, of Callaly, Northumberland. He was the eldest son of Ralph Clavering, of the same, by Mary, daughter of Nicholas Stapleton (formerly Errington), of Carlton, co. York, and Ponteland, Northumberland. He was born 27 June 1727, and married, (1) Eliza, daughter of James Egan, who died s.p. 1762, and was buried at Whittingham; (2) Frances, daughter of John Lynch, by whom he had a son, John Aloysius, born 1765; succeeded his father 1788, died 1826 s.p., buried at Whittingham. His mother died 24 Nov. 1765, and was buried at Douay; (3) Mary, daughter of D. Walsh (married 1767), by whom he had, with seven daughters, a son, Edward, who succeeded his half-brother, John Aloysius (see Cath. Rec. Soc. iv. 252). Edward Clavering's son, Edward John, had an only child, Augusta, who married Sir H. G. Bedingfeld, Bart., of Oxburgh, whose son, Sir Henry P. Bedingfeld, is the owner of the Account Book.

After the French tour come other entries connected with the birth of the writer's son, John Aloysius, "filioli mei primogeniti," 22 July 1765, on which day he sent for his "brother Francis & sister from Alnwick"—9s., cards 3s.—to doctors, midwife etc. 10 guineas (July 26th)—"to M^{r} Twenty-man curate for registering y^{e} birth of my son John Aloysius & y^{t} of our marriage and where we were married £2. 2s.—Aug. 5. To D^{r} Foster and D^{r} Gore, sent for in y^{e} night for y^{e} Child £3. 3s.—To M^{r} Pless[ington], a present on Christening my son £1. 1s.—To the poor 8s.—Aug. 6. To the fiddler 4s.," &c.

Then follow many miscellaneous entries—"Pomfret cakes 1s."—"visiting Lichfield Church," &c., on the way to Bristol. The chaplain, Mr. Joseph Walmersley, alias Plessington, seems to have returned from Bath, his travelling expenses to Callaly being £5, 5s., and after this the entries were "carried to marble-covered Book."

The reason why they were carried over is not hard to imagine. His wife never recovered, and died ere their baby was four months old. Thus this little book, dry and commonplace as it may seem to us, contains entries which doubtless recalled many a sad and tender memory to Ralph Clavering. They brought back all the details of his wooing Frances Lynch, of his exultation for his son and heir, of his tears over "her whom I love best in the world."—No wonder the rest of the book was left blank, and the accounts "carried to marble-covered book."

At the end are notes of money received, and of an agreement made April 13, 1764, when "I was at Pontoise," for the increase of an annuity of £3 a year to his sister Anne, up to £5 (with the extinction of other debts), on condition of prayers, &c.

There is a good article in the Ushaw Magazine for July 1905 on Callaly and the Claverings. R. T.-L.

* The Seminary of the English Secular Clergy in Paris was founded by Dr. Richard Smith (afterwards Bishop of Chalcedon) in 1611, near Porte St. Victoire. It was removed under Dr. Betham to Rue des Postes, Faubourg St. Marceaux, and opened as St. Gregory's Seminary in 1701.

† The Convent of English Benedictine Nuns at Pontoise was a branch from that at Ghent. They established themselves at Boulogne in 1652, but removed to Pontoise in 1658. Anne Clavering was the last Abbess, for the Convent became greatly impoverished, and in 1784 the Abbess and six nuns retired to the English Benedictine Convent at Dunkirk. Anne or Mary Anne Clavering was professed in 1751, and was elected Abbess 24 Oct. 1765. She died at Hammersmith 8 Nov. 1795.

‡ The name Howard is omitted. Dr. Charles Howard was 4th son of Bernard Howard, of Glossop, who was son of Bernard Howard, a younger son of Henry, Earl of Arundel, father of Thomas, 5th Duke of Norfolk. He was ordained in 1742, and was appointed Superior of St. Gregory's in 1756. He died in 1792, aged 74.

* The English Canonesses of St. Austin at Bruges were an offshoot from the convent at Louvain, and were established in 1629. They came to England in 1794, but returned to Bruges after the Peace of Amiens, and still flourish there.

† The Convent of English Franciscan Nuns (Poor Clares) was established at Gravelines in 1609. They came to England in 1794, and eventually joined the Franciscan Community at Catterick, Yorkshire.

NO. VII

BOYS AT LIÈGE ACADEMY, 1773–91

With the names and addresses of their parents or guardians, and the pensions paid through the Procurator in London.

CONTRIBUTED BY RICHARD TRAPPES-LOMAX

THE English College at Liège was founded by Fr. John Gerard, S.J., in 1616 for the training of the "Scholastics" of the Society in Philosophy and Theology. It was saved from suppression in 1773 by the Prince Bishop of Liège, and the School at Bruges (formerly at St. Omer's) was then transferred to it. The new College was formally sanctioned by the Bishop under the title of the "Academy." In 1794 it migrated to Stonyhurst. A list of the masters and students at Liège on 1 October 1776 is printed in Foley's Records, S.J., vol. vii. Part I. p. l. This list is compiled from the alphabetical reference-table which is inserted at the beginning of the ledger, "Liège No. 3," among the Farm St. M.S.S. (outside in Foley's hand : "Coll. of Liège : School Ledger"). This gives a name and a reference—e.g. "P. 1." Turning to page 1 you find—"Entered &c." Generally there is more than this, i.e. the accounts for three or four years. The details of these accounts are here omitted. The beginning and end only of the account are noted. The payments are on the whole very uniform: some details of extra payments will be found at the end. R. T.-L.

* Apparently sons of Thomas Clifford, of Tixall, by Barbara Aston. Walter is not mentioned in Burke. James was born 1774, and George in 1779. When Liège migrated to Stonyhurst, George Clifford was the first boy to effect an entrance. He married Mary Coyney, and was father of Sir Charles Clifford, Baronet.

† William Dalton is probably the eldest son of Robert Dalton, of Thurnham, co. Lancaster, by his 2nd wife, Bridget More.

‡ James Dormer was eldest son of James, 3rd son of John, 7th Lord Dormer. He was born in 1765; married in 1792 Lucy, dau. of Thomas Fitzherbert, of Swynnerton. Lady Shrewsbury was his father's sister, Elizabeth, and wife of the 14th Earl of Shrewsbury. The Hon. Francis Talbot was a younger brother of the 14th Earl.

§ Robert Dormer was a brother of James. Longford (near Newport, Salop) was then the property of the Earls of Shrewsbury.

‖ Francis and James were the sons of Francis Eyre, of Warkworth, co. Northampton, and Hassop, co. Derby, &c., by Mary Radcliffe, daughter of Charles Radcliffe (brother of James, 3rd Earl of Derwentwater), by Charlotte Maria, Countess of Newburgh. * Probably Robert Edward and George, sons of Robert Edward, 9th Lord Petre, by Anne Howard. Robert became 10th Lord Petre, and George was ancestor of the Petres of Dunkenhalgh, co. Lancaster.

† Woodbine Parish was the 2nd son of the Rev. Henry Parish, chaplain to Lord Townshend, by Sarah Woodbine. He remained at Liège till 1783. In letters to his parents he speaks of his masters as "persons of piety, and exemplary in their Conduct, who obtained the affection and respect of their scholars," and to the end of his life he remembered with pleasure the beautiful services in the College Chapel. In another letter he writes that "the reigning Prince of Liège attended their great annual festival at which the scholars gave a display of Musick, Fencing & Dancing, while the Competitors for nobler prizes in Literature sought for greater distinction, the highest scholars publickly disputing in Philosophy, with the Professors & Tutors, who on such occasions were invited to attend from other seminaries." His son became Sir Woodbine Parish, K.C.H., and rose to distinction as a diplomatist. (Information from the Hon. N. L. Kay-Shuttleworth.)

NO. VIII

THE MINUTE BOOK OF THE ROMAN CATHOLIC CLUB, 1793–8

CONTRIBUTED BY JOSEPH S. HANSOM

THE Roman Catholic Club, set up to counteract the evil action of the Cisalpine Club in its schismatical attempt to ignore the authority of the Holy See, had but a brief existence. The universality and unity of the Church under its Roman Headship being asserted, the reason for the Club's existence terminated. The slight glimpses of its work and the names of those acting with the Right Rev. John Douglass, Bishop of Centuria, Vicar-General of the London District, must be of interest. The reader is referred to the works of Bishop Milner and Charles Butler, Gillow's Dict. Eng. Caths., under those headings, &c.

Judging from the portly size of the book (14×9 inches, of about 560 pages), and its fine red-leather, gilded binding and edges, a much longer existence of the Club had been anticipated. The writing is a beautiful specimen of penmanship, presumably by the Secretary, Mr. William Havers. It has been handed down in that family and is now the property of Mr. Thomas Gerald Havers, gt.-gt.-grandson of the Secretary. Mrs. Stanislaus Havers kindly secured me a loan of it some years back, when I made a transcript which has since been awaiting its turn in one of our Miscellanea volumes. J. S. H.

William Sheldon Esqr in the Chair.

It was resolved

First. That a General Club of Roman Catholic Nobility and Gentry, may be conducive to the Body at large; and as their chief Object must always be to promote Unanimity, they think that End may be better obtained by a more numerous Attendance. It is therefore resolved to adjourn this Meeting to the second Thursday after Easter 1794.

Secondly. That this Resolution be communicated to all the Catholic Nobility and Gentry by Letter.

In consequence of the above Resolutions, Letters were sent to all the Roman Catholic Nobility and Gentry, requesting their Attendance on the 1st of May 1794.

(2) At a Meeting (by Adjournment) held at the Crown and Anchor in the Strand on the 1st of May 1794.

The Right Honorable Lord Stourton in the Chair.

In pursuance of the Resolutions entered into at the Meeting held the 3rd of June 1793, the undersigned Roman Catholics unanimously adopted the following Resolutions for establishing General Meetings of the Roman Catholic Nobility and Gentry in each Year.

Resolved 1. That such of the Roman Catholic Nobility and Gentry, who wish to become Subscribers to these Meetings, shall send their Name and Place of Abode to the Secretary, and immediately pay the Sum of One Guinea, and the same Sum annually in advance.

2. That the Vicars Apostolic be invited by Letter always to attend the Meetings.

3. That every Nobleman and Gentleman be at Liberty to introduce any one Clergyman as his Guest, on giving previous Notice to the Secretary, that he means to introduce a Friend.

4. That there shall be two Meetings in each year; the first, on the first Thursday after the 18th day of January; and the other, on the first Thursday in May, and that the Expence of the Ordinary on those days be paid by the Secretary out of the Sum subscribed.

5. That the Nobility and Gentry present at these Meetings shall have Power to call a Meeting on any intermediate day or days paying the Expences.

(3) 6. That any Proposal made at a future Meeting shall be admitted or rejected by the Majority, but if admitted, shall not be binding unless confirmed at a subsequent Meeting, which shall not be held in less than Fourteen days after such first Meeting, and that none of the present or any future Resolutions shall be expunged or altered, but by the Majority of a greater Number of Subscribers than were present when they were first voted.

7. That a Secretary be appointed annually.

8. That the Secretary shall inform the absent Subscribers what has been done at the preceding Meeting.

9. That each Subscriber may send in writing any Remark or Proposal he may think for the Advantage of the Body to the Secretary, to be by him communicated to the Nobility and Gentry who shall be assembled at the next Meeting.

10. That if it shall be judged expedient to call an extraordinary Meeting, the Secretary shall give Notice thereof to the Subscribers.

11. That no Person shall be entitled to receive Information from the Secretary, except those who shall have paid their Annual Subscription previous to the Meeting in January.

12. That Dinner be on Table at halfpast five precisely.

13. That the Chairman for the next Meeting be now named, and that at every future Meeting the Chairman be named for the succeeding one.

14. That the Secretary do call for the Bill at Eight o Clock precisely.

15. That these and all future Regulations shall be entered by the Secretary in a Book, in which shall also be (4) entered the Names of the Subscribers, the Book to be at all times open for the inspection of any of the Roman Catholic Nobility or Gentry who may afterwards wish to become Subscribers.

16. That the Secretary be directed to send circular Letters to all the Roman Catholic Nobility and Gentry with a Copy of the Resolutions and Regulations adopted at this Meeting, and the List of the Gentlemen present.

17. That the Right Honorable Lord Clifford be Chairman of the next Meeting.

18. That M^{r} W^{m} Havers be appointed Secretary.

The Thanks of the Meeting were voted unanimously to the Chairman for his candid and impartial Conduct.

(16) AT A MEETING held at the Crown and Anchor Tavern on Thursday the 22^d of January 1795.

The Right Honorable Lord Clifford in the Chair.

IT WAS RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY

That the Roman Catholic Peers be requested to wait on M^r Pitt, with it was understood they had a Negociation last year, and that they state the increasing Difficulty of the Situation of the Roman Catholics in the present alarming State of the Country.

That an extraordinary Meeting be called to meet at this Place on Thursday the fifth of February to receive the Report of the Peers and to consider on the most eligible manner of applying for further Relief.

That the Thanks of the Meeting be given to Lord Clifford and that his Lordship be requested to take the Chair at the next Meeting.

* In pencil. † "Sir" inserted later.

At the Adjourned Meeting held at the Crown and Anchor Tavern on Thursday the fifth of February 1795

The Right Honorable Lord Clifford in the Chair.

The Peers present reported that they had not yet had an Interview with Mr Pitt owing as they conceived to the great Pressure of public Business.

The following Resolution was then unanimously adopted.

Resolved

That in the present Moment it appears inexpedient to (17) call a General Meeting of the Roman Catholic Body: That therefore those Noblemen and Gentlemen present, who may have it in their Power to procure Information be requested to digest such Plans and pursue such Measures as they conceive best calculated to obtain further Relief for the Body at large.

That the next adjourned Meeting be held at the Crown and Anchor on the 5th of March.

The Thanks of the Meeting were unanimously voted to the Chairman.

At an Adjourned Meeting held at the Crown and Anchor on the 5th of March 1795.

Francis Eyre Esqr in the Chair.

This Meeting was adjourned to Thursday the 16th of April 1795.

An Adjourned Meeting was held at the Crown and Anchor on the 16th of April 1795.

The Right Honorable the Earl of Newburgh in the Chair.

At a General Meeting held at the Crown and Anchor on Thursday the 7th of May 1795

Sir Carnaby Haggerston Bart in the Chair.

Resolved

That a General Call of the Roman Catholic Body, in the present Moment, would be highly improper.

Mr. W. Havers was rechosen Secretary for the ensuing year.

(18) At a General Meeting held at the Crown and Anchor on the 21st of January 1796

Sir Walter Blount Bart in the Chair

Mr W. Weston was appointed Chairman for the next Meeting.

At a General Meeting held at the Crown and Anchor on the 5th of May 1796

John Webbe Weston Esqr in the Chair.

The following Resolution moved by Mr Sheldon & seconded by Mr Needham was unanimously adopted.

Resolved, That the Secretary do call for the Bill at Nine instead of Eight oClock as expressed in Rule 14th.

The Thanks of the Meeting were unanimously voted to the Chairman—Mr Geo: Cary was appointed Chairman for the next General Meeting. & Mr Wm Havers Secretary for the ensuing year.

At a General Meeting held at the Crown and Anchor on the 19th of January 1797.

The Honble Robert Clifford (in the absence of Mr Geo: Cary) in the Chair.

The following Resolution moved by Mr Webbe Weston & seconded by Mr Hutton was unanimously adopted

NO. IX

REGISTERS OF FR. THOMAS WORTHINGTON, O.P. KEPT IN LANCASHIRE, 1713–17

CONTRIBUTED BY JOSEPH S. HANSOM

THESE registers are amongst those belonging to St. Mary's, Leeds, now at Somerset House (Yorkshire non-parochial, No. 237); but as they refer entirely to Lancashire, they are here extracted from their position.

Fr. Thomas Worthington, O.P., seems to have been acting as chaplain to William Molyneux, fourth Viscount Molyneux of Maryborough in the peerage of Ireland, of Croxteth Park, near Liverpool, at or near which all the marriages and baptisms took place, except the last at Bardsea in the north of Lancashire, where Lord Molyneux had a smaller seat or hunting place. The registers afford a partial itinerary of Fr. Worthington, unknown to the late Fr. Raymund Palmer, O.P., as the misplaced letter (really belonging to the Middleton or Leeds registers) is, at a later date.

The registers were evidently put together at a later period and at one time from memory or old notes, perhaps both defective, the blanks emphasizing this view. In one case he writes over his own dots. J. S. H.

NO. X

CATHOLIC REGISTERS OF DANBY, WEST WITTON, AND LEYBURN, YORKSHIRE, 1742–1840, WITH NOTES OF THE SCROPE FAMILY, 1663–1754.

CONTRIBUTED BY JOSEPH S. HANSOM, WITH THE HISTORY OF THE MISSIONS BY JOSEPH GILLOW

THE five books, lately increased to six as mentioned below, are properly described in the certificate and above, and not as of Danby alone. Amongst the non-parochial registers at Somerset House they are numbered "Yorkshire 76." I am indebted to the Registrar-General for facilities to transcribe them, and to Mr. A. R. Bellingham, Superintendent of Records at Somerset House, and his staff, for kindly attention to my convenience.

The earliest entries are relating to the family of Scrope of Danby. The Danby general registers commence in 1742, followed by a lapse after 1788, which, as regards deaths, is made up by an insertion down to 1794, and then continued to the closing of the mission in 1806. The lapse in the baptisms is shorter, and the resumption takes place in 1790. A foot-note gives a probable explanation for omissions from 1754–58. From 1806 they are continued as West Witton registers to 1835.

The Leyburn registers commence in 1793 and continue to 1838, the last three years being an amalgamation of West Witton and Leyburn. This accounts for all these registers being in the hands of the Rev. Richard Bolton at Leyburn, when he forwarded them to Somerset House in 1840.

The books have had numbers given to them with some relation to the dates and convenience. For the sake of continuity and comprehensiveness, I have here rearranged the order, giving the present numbers in parentheses; and incidentally I have suggested to the Registrar-General that the books should be altered in the same way. A short description of the several books seems advisable.

I (VI). A new dummy volume, $10\frac{3}{4} \times 8\frac{1}{8}$ inches, made up for the purpose of accommodating the old sheet of paper, now divided into two by wear and partly illegible. It contains notes and registers of the Scrope family of Danby, formerly fastened in the Leyburn registers, VI (IV). They date from 1663 to 1754, and are produced in photogravure. The certificate from II (I), which refers to the whole series, is more appropriately placed here.

II (I). It contains copies of the oldest general registers, viz.,—(a) Oakley's, 1742–54, the originals of which are not at Somerset House; (b) Wappeler's, 1758–64, the originals being in III (II); (c) Boone's, 1764–71, the originals also being in III (II); (d) the original continuation of Boone's and other registers to 1788, with two lists of confirmations in 1773 and 1804 at the reverse end. The certificate in it is, for our purpose, in I (VI). It is an ordinary pocket-book with pockets, covered in green vellum with a common clasp. Size, $6\frac{1}{8} \times 4$ inches.

III (II). The original registers by Wappeler, 1758–64, and Boone, 1764–71. The copies being in II (I), they are not printed here; but have been collated with the copies. They are on 16 pages of paper, $6\frac{1}{2} \times 4$ inches, sewn together, and placed in a book back.

IV (III). Danby baptisms from 1790 to 1806 (when the chaplaincy or mission ceased) continued at West Witton until 1835, after which date West Witton registers appear in the Leyburn book, VI (IV). They are on paper, $7\frac{1}{4} \times 4\frac{1}{2}$ inches, and placed in a book cover.

V (V). Danby deaths, 1794–1804. Pages 3–6 have been inserted, and contain a few particulars in the interval between 1788 and 1794, in different hands. Although registers of deaths, four baptisms are recorded and duplicated in IV (III). They are on paper $7\frac{1}{4} \times 4\frac{1}{2}$ inches, newly bound in half vellum, with some padding pages.

VI (IV). The baptismal registers of Leyburn, although not so described, from 1793–1838. The Thornburghs and subsequently the Riddells had a seat here. Some registers relating to West Witton appear after those registers cease in 1835. The Scrope paper was formerly fastened in this. Size, $8\frac{1}{4} \times 6\frac{1}{2}$ inches, placed in a book cover.

It is impossible to differentiate between the registers of the three places in such close proximity. The priests of one would officiate for those of another, and in times of vacancy it was necessary.

Amongst the names of local Catholics taking the oath of allegiance in 1791 and 1792, there appear the following in N. Riding Records, viii. 153–4:

DANBY.—Simon Thomas Scroope, Esq.; John Sharrock, gent.; Thomas Douthwaite, steward; and Mary Hedley, spinster.

LEYBURN.—William Allen, gent.; William Allen, junior, farmer; Thomas Allen, farmer; John Blenkinsop, farmer; Robert Blenkinsop, mason; Christopher Dent, mason; John Dent, mason; and John Shaw, farmer.

WEST WITTON.—Thomas Buckle, gent.; and William Furniss, gent.

Mr. Gillow supplies the following notes regarding the missions.

J. S. H.

HISTORICAL NOTES ON THE DANBY, WEST WITTON, AND LEYBURN MISSIONS.

Barker in his delightful work, entitled The Three Days of Wensleydale, dedicated to Simon Thomas Scrope, Esq., of Danby-super-Yore, in 1854, traces a meagre yet interesting account of the mission in Wensleydale during the long Dark Day of Persecution. He records the local tradition that the celebrated Dom John Dionysius Huddleston, who subsequently received Charles II. into the Church, resided for some time at Grove House, Leyburn, and attended to the wants of the Catholics of the neighbourhood. This may be correct, but if so it must have been before he joined the Benedictine Order, and during the troublous times of the Civil Wars, probably when Henry Scrope or his brother Simon were the squires of Danby. He asserts that a chaplain was almost always resident at Danby Hall. The Scropes came into possession of that estate through the marriage of the heiress of Simon Conyers with Henry Scrope, of Spennithorne, who died there in 1591. Under one of the rooms in the old hall there is, or was in Barker's time, a hiding-place in which the hunted missionaries were often and successfully concealed. There was also a similar hiding-place at The Grove, or Grove House, in Leyburn, long the seat of the Thornburghs, after they had ceased to reside at Selside Hall, co. Westmoreland. William Thornburgh, of Selside Hall, a Catholic non-juror in 1717, married Mary Huddleston, a niece of Dom John Dionysius Huddleston, and his son Francis Thornburgh settled at Grove House, having married a daughter of Thomas Sudell, Esq., of Windlass Park and West Witton, co. York. The latter's brother, Dr. William Thornburgh, president of Douay College, died on a visit to Grove House in 1750. This Francis joined the Chevalier de St. George in 1715, and it was probably in consequence, after the defeat at Preston, that he settled in Leyburn, where he died in 1774, as recorded in the registers. His niece Mary Thornburgh became sole heiress to the family estates, and, having in 1769 become the wife of Ralph Riddell, of Cheeseburne Grange, second son of Thomas Riddell, of Swinburne Castle and Felton Park, Northumberland, Grove House passed to that family, and at various times has been occupied by the Riddells.

Grove House was the secular mission, while that at Danby Hall was generally served by the Jesuits until after the suppression of the Society. Two other chapels were eventually opened at Ulshaw Bridge and West Witton, but all gradually merged into one mission. At times it is very difficult to distinguish between these missions, but so far as the tangle can be unravelled the following sub-divisions fairly represent the history.

Danby Hall.

Rev. Thomas Cornforth alias Roydon, born in 1679, was ordained priest at Douay College, and thence was sent to St. Gregory's Seminary at Paris in 1707. He did not take degrees at the Sorbonne as intended, and probably came over to the mission soon afterwards, and was placed as chaplain to Simon Scrope, Esq., at Danby, where he is met with in 1714. Some time before 1728, probably in consequence of the persecution which followed the Rising of 1715, he removed to Marnhull, co. Dorset, was elected an archdeacon of the Old Chapter on July 14, 1739, and died Aug. 5, 1748, aged 70.

During his chaplaincy in 1716 Fr. Thomas Worthington, O.P., is found serving at Danby, but he was probably merely on a visit to the Scropes.

Fr. John Giffard, S.J., seems to have succeeded Mr. Cornforth. He was born in London, Dec. 20, 1683–4, and entered the Society in 1705. Foley (Records S. J. vii. 301) states that he was chaplain and missioner at Danby Hall. He left in 1740, and returned to St. Omer's College, where he died Aug. 21, 1757, aged 74. During his administration, in 1728, Bishop Williams made his visitation at Danby, and gave confirmation to 40 persons.

Fr. Francis Oakley alias Auckland, S.J., succeeded Fr. Giffard in 1740. Foley says he was born in Worcestershire, Aug. 3, 1694, but it is probable that he was the son of Thomas Oakley, of Brailes, co. Warwick, yeoman, a Catholic non-juror in 1717. He was superior of the Yorkshire District for the Society. Under date Jan. 12, 1745, he refers in the register to his nearly being banished for baptizing a child at Ulshaw Bridge. He died at Danby, still superior of the Residence, July 12, 1755, aged 61. Oct. 6, 1754, is the last entry in the register by Fr. Oakley, and from about this date till his death it is probable that he was unable to attend to the duties of the mission. Until a resident successor was appointed, Fr. Wappeler in 1758, the chapel was served from Richmond by—

Fr. Thomas Hunter, S.J., according to Fr. Laurenson (C.R.S. iv. 251), succeeded Fr. Oakley at Danby, and served it from Richmond, which he was forced to leave by the parson there for having christened a child. From 1763 to 1766 he was at York Bar, being appointed superior of the district in the former year, and in the latter year he removed to Pontefract. Finally he was sent to Ghent, where he died Jan. 30, 1773, aged 55. He was followed by—

Fr. Richard Knight alias Thorold, S.J., who was also stationed at Richmond. He was the only surviving son and heir of William Knight, of Kingerby, co. Lincoln, Esq., by his second wife Lucy Jennings, and was born at Kingerby, July 24 (O.S.) or Aug. 4 (N.S.), 1720. He entered the Society in 1739, was appointed to Richmond June 9, 1743, and thence served Danby with Fr. Hunter between Fr. Oakley's death in 1755 and the appointment of a resident chaplain in 1758. He was still at Richmond in 1761, some time after which he was transferred to Lincoln. He was appointed superior of the Lincolnshire District Dec. 3, 1765. Settling his estate at Irnham, co. Lincoln, upon his only sister Lucy, the wife of Sir Thomas Rookwood Gage, 5th Bart., of Hengreave Hall, co. Suffolk, he built a new chapel at Lincoln, and also erected a chapel at Market Rasen, in 1782, in place of the one at Kingerby, which he attended occasionally from Lincoln.

He died suddenly at Lincoln, Dec. 6, 1793 (O.S.), aged 73, eminent for his sanctity.

Fr. Wilhelm Wappeler, S.J., born Jan. 22, 1711, at Numan Sigmaringen, in Westphalia, after serving in Maryland for several years, returned to St. Omer's College, and was in 1748 sent to England. In 1754 he became prefect at St. Omer's, and in 1758 was appointed resident chaplain at Danby Hall. His last entry in the register is Sept. 2, 1764, after which he was transferred to Liverpool for a short time. Subsequently he was sent to Ghent, and finally to Bruges, where he died in Sept., says Dr. Oliver (Collectanea S.J.), but according to the Laity's Directory on Oct. 11, 1781, aged 70.

Fr. Edward Boone, S.J., a native of Maryland, born Feb. 29, 1734, who entered the Society in 1756, succeeded Fr. Wappeler at Danby in Sept. 1764, and remained till his death, Aug. 23, 1785, aged 51. It has been asserted that Fr. Boone did not at first reside at Danby, but lived at Grove House after the removal of Mr. Phillips, and served Danby from thence until the arrival of Mr. Postlethwaite. This is most improbable, as Grove House was a secular mission, and there is no evidence in corroboration of the statement. In 1773 the congregation at Danby consisted of 45, and in 1781 of 80 communicants. After Fr. Boone's death, the Society having been suppressed, the chapel at Danby was served temporarily by—amongst others—

The Rev. George Witham, whose name appears in the registers under date July 15, 1787. At the time he was chaplain at Carlton Hall, the seat of the Stapletons. He was the eldest son of Thomas Witham, Esq., M.D., of Old Elvet, Durham, and his wife Elizabeth, eldest daughter and co-heiress of George Meynell, of Aldborough and Dalton, co. York, Esq. He was born Aug. 9, 1750, and was sent to Douay College in 1763, but left in his third year's divinity on Sept. 9, 1774, to teach at St. Omer's College, then under secular rule, and was ordained priest. In July, 1781, he succeeded the last Jesuit chaplain, Fr. William Allan, at Carlton Hall, where he appears to have remained till 1791. He then became chaplain to the 14th Earl of Shrewsbury, and afterwards to the Countess, at Lacock Abbey, co. Wilts. It was there that he printed at his own private press in the abbey The History of Lacock Abbey, or Locus Beatæ Mariæ, 1806, 4to, pp. 53. After the death of the Countess, Aug. 11, 1809, aged 85, Mr. Witham retired to Durham, where he died in his house in Old Elvet, May 1, 1829, aged 79. In the same year that Mr. Witham appears in the registers the Benedictines accepted the charge of the chaplaincy at Danby Hall, and appointed—

Dom John Dunstan Sharrock, O.S.B.

He was born at Walton-le-dale, co. Lancaster, in 1754, being a member of an old Benedictine family, was professed at Dieulward, and came to the mission at Danby in 1787. In the following year, 1788, died the squire, Simon Scrope. His wife, Anne Clementina, was the daughter and co-heiress of George Meynell, of Aldborough and Dalton, Esq., and hence she was aunt to the Rev. George Witham previously mentioned. It was decided to erect an independent chapel at Ulshaw Bridge, Danby-on-Yore, and a small plain building was opened in that year, 1788, chiefly through the munificence of the Scropes. It was apparently served by the priests attending the domestic chapel in the hall, and its subsequent history will be treated hereafter. Fr. Sharrock remained at Danby till 1793, when he went to Hesleyside until the following year, and thence was transferred to Long Horsley, where he died May 7, 1831. He was succeeded at Danby by—

Dom Thomas Austin Lawson, O.S.B., born at York in 1768, who was son of John Lawson, Esq., third son of Sir Henry Lawson, 3rd Bart., of Brough Hall, co. York, and his wife Mary, eldest daughter of Sir John Shelley, 3rd Bart., of Michelgrove, co. Sussex. His mother was Elizabeth, daughter of Thomas William Selby, of Biddleston Hall, co. Northumberland, Esq.

He was professed at St. Gregory's, Douay, in 1779, and ordained priest in 1783. Coming to the mission, he was placed at Danby in 1793, his first signature in the registers being dated March 4 of that year. He only remained until the following year, his last entry in the register being under date Feb. 4, though he is said to have left in May, 1794. He was then transferred to Richmond. In 1803 he was called from Richmond to teach at St. Gregory's College, then at Acton Burnell, co. Salop, but disliking the occupation he returned to Richmond three months later. Thus he remained at Richmond till his appointment in 1814 as prior of St. Gregory's, which removed to Downside in that year, and continued in that office till 1818. He then served Kilvington, 1818–22, after which he became vicar to the Benedictine nuns at Salford Hall till his death, April 23, 1830, aged 62. He held the titular dignity of prior of Gloucester from 1818. Meanwhile a French émigré priest appears to have settled in the locality as early as 1790, and to have assisted the Benedictines in serving the two chapels at Danby and Ulshaw Bridge, presuming the editor of the registers is correct in ascribing entries in the registers to his hand. His name was—

Père Delalonde. Fr. John Laurenson, S.J., in his notes of chaplaincies in the north during the 18th century (C.R.S. iv. 252), says that this very respectable émigré next supplied Danby, and "made great improvements in the grounds, was ingenious in patch-work, &c., very steady in his clerical duties, and after staying 4 or 5 years returned in 179– to France, where he obtained a curacy at Dieppe; his departure was much regretted." The last entry in the registers by Père Delalonde was on Jan. 16, 1801, and the next entry, eleven months later, by Père Dupont.

It has been said (Merry England, No. 64, p. 260), questionably the writer thinks, that Père C. Devienne, curé de Freulleville, proche Dieppe en France, assisted his friend Père Delalonde at Danby. It was this good priest who returned the Danby registers of deaths, Book V (V), in 1819 after the death of Père Duboscq in Oct. 1818, who would appear to have taken them with him to Freulleville. Devienne succeeded him there, and was 76 years of age in 1819.

Père J. I. Dupont, late vicaire d'Ecalles, du diocèse de Rouen (Plasse, Le Clergé Français, ii. 408). His last entry is March 5, 1802, and his successor was—

Fr. John Laurence Eccles, O.S.F., a Lancashire man, who came from the Franciscan residence at Osmotherley, in Yorkshire, in 1802, his first entry in the registers being on June 13. He left in 1804 to make room for the Rev. Dominic Joseph Maini, and returned to Osmotherley, whence after a short time he went to Sizergh Castle, co. Westmoreland, the seat of the Stricklands, where he died a jubilarian in the Order, "remarkable for his humility and piety," says Fr. Laurenson (C.R.S. iv. 252), March 15, 1810. An imperfect memoir of him appears in Fr. Francis Thaddeus Hermans' Franciscans in England, p. 227.

Rev. Dominic Joseph Maini came from Crathorne, where he had gone in 1798, his first entry in the registers being on Jan. 9, 1804. Fr. Laurenson says that he "grew melancholy and dissatisfied in less than a year," and his last register seems to be that at Ulshaw Bridge, Aug. 21, 1805. Dominic Maini, who subsequently was known by the Christian name of Joseph only, was sent to Sedgley Park School, in Staffordshire, in 1784, and after he had been ordained priest at Ushaw was placed at Crathorne in 1798, whence he came to take charge of the Ulshaw Bridge and Danby Hall mission in 1804, and took up his residence at Jolly Pot. From here he removed in 1805 to Formby, in Lancashire, whence in 1834 he was transferred to Yealand in the same county, and remained there till 1846. He then served St. Anthony's, Liverpool, until shortly before his death in 1854. His temporary successor at Ulshaw Bridge was—

Père J. B. Jolly, who signs the registers for the first time May 18, 1806. This is the last entry in the Danby registers, and henceforward all Danby baptisms are entered in the West Witton registers. It has been said that Ulshaw Bridge chapel was closed in this year, and that the Danby mission was united with the one at West Witton, a small chapel dedicated to St. Bartholomew, opened in this year by the Rev. Richard Billington, of Grove House, Leyburn, who continued rector until his death at Grove House in 1830. Nevertheless, it is certain that the domestic chapel at Danby Hall was more or less served from West Witton until 1832, when the Scrope family ceased to live at the hall for twenty-five years. Père J. B. Jolly continues to make occasional entries in the registers until May 18, 1811. He finally returned to France, where he died, chanoine régulier de Ste. Genéviève, and curé du diocèse de Rennes, Sept. 27, 1828, aged 86. Meanwhile the names of the two following priests temporarily serving the mission are found in the registers—

Rev. Michael Wharton, on April 15, 1807, when probably he was staying at Danby Hall. He was born in 1733, near Kirby Stephen, co. Westmoreland, and was descended from the Whartons, of Wharton and Kirkby Thore in that county, and also of Yorkshire, one of whom, Sir Michael Wharton, of Beverley, Knt., was living in 1724. They were also connections of the Scropes, through the marriage of Simon Scrope, of Danby, who died in 1691, with Mary, daughter of Michael Wharton, of Beverley, Esq. He was ordained priest at the English College at Lisbon, Dec. 20, 1760, and left for England on July 18, 1761. He became chaplain at Leighton Hall, Lancashire, whence in 1782 he removed the mission to Yealand, where the lord of the manor, Richard Thomas Gillow, of Leighton Hall, subsequently erected a church. There he died Dec. 10, 1809, aged 76, rural dean of the hundred of Lonsdale.

Fr. Peter Philip Potier, O.P., chaplain to the Meynells at The Friary, Yarm (vide memoir Gillow, Biog. Dict. Eng. Caths. v. 348). He likewise was probably visiting at Danby Hall when his entry was made in the registers on Oct. 18, 1809.

Père J. Duboscq, a French émigré, who returned to France, became curé of Our Lady of Freulleville, near Dieppe, and died suddenly at Paris in Oct. 1818, was evidently serving one of the chapels at West Witton or Danby, as shown by his entries in the register on Feb. 17 and Nov. 3, 1816, and May 8, 1817. After this the mission appears to have been entirely served by Mr. Billington from Grove House till his death in 1830, and then by his successor—

The Rev. Thomas Middlehurst, who at first resided at Grove House and thence attended to the chapel at West Witton. In 1835 the latter was formed into a separate mission, and Mr. Middlehurst removed thither, Mr. Parker being appointed to take charge of the new chapel and presbytery erected in Leyburn and opened in that year. In 1839 Mr. Middlehurst was transferred to Pleasington Priory, in Lancashire, but returned to West Witton in the same year, and remained in charge till 1844, when West Witton ceased to be a separate mission and was re-united with Leyburn. Mr. Middlehurst then went to Kippax Park, Yorkshire, and remained there till 1848. After a rest from missionary duty he was appointed to Malton, 1850–7, then removed to Egton Bridge, but returned to Malton in the same year, and remained there till his death, July 12, 1880, aged 78.

In 1868 the late Mr. Joseph A. Hansom was engaged to transform and make certain additions to the old chapel at Ulshaw Bridge, dedicated to SS. Simon and Jude—no doubt suggested by Simon, the favourite family name of the Scropes—which was opened on June 10th of that year, and has since formed a separate mission. The list of incumbents is as follows :—

Rev. Robert Gibson, 1868 till shortly before his death, May 25, 1882.

Rev. John O'Donnell, 1881–2.
Rev. John Leadbetter, 1882–5.
Rev. David J. Smith, 1885–9.
Rev. William Kirkham, 1889–97.
Rev. John Murphy, 1897–1906.
Rev. John J. McCabe, 1906–7.
Rev. Geoffrey Cremer, 1907 to date.

Leyburn.

The Rev. John Huddleston, before his admission into the Benedictine Order under the religious name of Dionysius, as already related, is traditionally said to have served Grove House, but whether this be so, or that he was the chaplain at Danby Hall, and thence served Leyburn, is now impossible to say. There is no indication of his serving here in the obituaries he noted in his Missal, now in the writer's possession, though from some of the anniversaries it might be inferred that he had Yorkshire associations (C.R.S. i. 123). The earliest evidence of a priest at Grove House refers to—

Rev. Henry Maire, of the ancient family seated at Hartbushes, co. Durham. His father was Christopher Maire, Esq., a Catholic non-juror in 1717, and his mother, Frances Ingleby, was of the old Catholic family of that name seated at Lawkland Hall, co. York. He was born May 19, 1714 (s.v.), and was sent to Douay College, where he was ordained priest May 29, and left the college for the English mission on Aug. 25, 1738. He was appointed chaplain to Francis Thornburgh, Esq., of Grove House, Leyburn, but after about three years, in or before 1741, left to assist the Rev. James Skelton at Raventofts. Subsequently he served Nidd Hall, the seat of Francis Trappes-Byrnand, Esq., and thence he went to Cliffe-on-Tees, the seat of the Withams, where he succeeded the Rev. Nicholas Clavering in 1768, and died there, suddenly, on Nov. 5, 1775, aged 61. Possibly there was a vacancy for some little time at Grove House, during which the mission would be served from Danby. Anyhow the next chaplain on record was—

Rev. Peter Phillips alias Purshall, who was ordained priest at the English College at Rome, though his name (like many others) is omitted from the Diary published by Bro. Foley. He came to Grove House from Egton Bridge in 1743, and probably left in 1757 for Ugthorpe, where he died Nov. 23, 1761. During his time, the Rev. William Thornburgh, D.D., president of Douay College, came over on a visit to his brother Francis, and died at Grove House, March 4, 1750. He was succeeded by—

Rev. John Postlethwaite, born Aug. 20, 1727 (N.S.), son of Richard Postlethwaite and his wife Anne Newsham, of Westby, co. Lancaster, became an alumnus at Douay College in logic, Dec. 28, 1748, who was ordained priest in 1752 or 1753, left the college for the English mission on July 23, 1755, and so far as can be ascertained came to Grove House when Mr. Phillips left for Ugthorpe. It was probably after the death of Mr. Thornburgh, in 1774, that he removed to Hill Top in Leyburn, where he erected the sun-dial which was still there when Mr. Barker wrote in 1854. There he died Jan. 5, 1785, aged 57, being attended in his last illness by Fr. Boone of Danby. After this Leyburn seems to have been served by temporary priests, and the registers do not enlighten us as to their names until an entry dated June 9, 1793, by—

Rev. Richard Billington. He was son of Thomas Billington, of an ancient Catholic family of yeomen long seated at Bartell, in Woodplumpton in the Fylde, co. Lancaster, and his wife Mary Rigby. He was born in March 1757, and was sent to Sedgley Park School, whence he proceeded to Douay on the Rev. Richard Kendal's fund, now at Ushaw, and was admitted into the college on Nov. 13, 1772. He became an alumnus on June 24, 1779, received the subdiaconate in 1783, the diaconate in the following year, and was appointed to teach syntax on Oct. 1, 1784, but, after being ordained priest, left the college for the mission on April 11, 1775. He was stationed in the north, and from Jan. to May 1793, is found supplying at Lartington Hall after the death of the Rev. Edward Kitchen. In this year, on June 9, 1793, he commenced the Leyburn registers, and took up his residence at Grove House. From 1806 he also served the chapel at West Witton, his earliest register there being dated Dec. 14 of that year. In 1819 John Clifton, of Clifton, Westby, and Lytham, co. Lancaster, Esq., whose wife was Elizabeth, daughter of Thomas Horsley Widdrington Riddell, Esq., of Felton Park and Swinburne Castle, co. Northumberland, came to reside at Grove House, and remained for twenty-two years. Mr. Billington continued to live in the house till his death, when his remains were deposited in the parish churchyard of West Witton, and a white marble tablet was subsequently erected on the north wall of the new Catholic chapel at Leyburn, bearing the following inscription: "Sacred to the Memory of the Reverend Richard Billington, during Thirty-seven years the beloved Pastor of the Catholics of Wensleydale. He was simple in his manners, and faithful in the discharge of his duties. He died on the 6th of October, 1830, aged 73. R.I.P."

Rev. Thomas Middlehurst succeeded to the charge of the two chapels at Leyburn and West Witton. He was son of John Middlehurst, of Parr, co. Lancaster, and his wife Jane Clayton, and was born Sept. 11, 1802. He was admitted into the English College at Lisbon on Jan. 13, 1819, became an alumnus April 1, 1823, and after ordination left for the English mission July 6, 1824. He temporarily served at Callaly Castle, the seat of the Claverings, in 1830, and then was appointed to Leyburn and West Witton upon the death of Mr. Billington. In 1834 it was decided to supersede the small chapel at Grove House, and the present edifice, with its adjacent presbytery, was commenced. The new church, dedicated to SS. Peter and Paul, was solemnly opened on Wednesday, Oct. 14, 1835. The chapel was spacious, but devoid of ornament, and was lighted by three pointed windows on the south side, and a large one at the east end. Behind the altar was a reredos of tasteful design and execution, painted by Mr. Edward Gell, a promising young artist. It consisted of three compartments, the central one representing Our Lady with her Divine Son, and SS. Peter and Paul depicted on the side divisions, all the figures being life size. The whole was in the mediæval style, and painted on a gold ground with diapering and mottoes. A handsome and finely tuned organ, built by Paxton of York, on the same plan as that in York Minster, was purchased by subscription, and opened Nov. 16, 1843. The sanctuary lamp was the gift of Charles Gregory Fairfax, of Gilling Castle, Esq., in 1845. Simon Scrope, Esq., of Danby, is said to have been the main subscriber to the cost of the building. Upon the opening of the new church, Mr. Middlehurst withdrew to West Witton, as already related, and he was succeeded at Leyburn by—

Rev. William Parker, whose first entry in the registers is dated Nov. 25, 1835. He was the younger brother of the Rev. Thomas Parker, of Stella, and both brothers were educated and ordained at Ushaw College. In 1831 Mr. Parker was placed at Whitby, where he remained till his appointment to Leyburn. In 1837 he was transferred to St. Patrick's, Liverpool, where he remained till his death, a martyr to charity, April 30, 1847, aged 43. He was the first of the many priests who died of typhus fever contracted during the terrible epidemic of that year.

Rev. Richard Bolton succeeded in 1837. He was sent to Sedgley Park School in 1811, and thence proceeded to the English College at Lisbon, where he was admitted Dec. 27, 1826, was ordained priest, left for the mission July 30, 1837, and was appointed to succeed Mr. Parker in that year. He remained till his death, Nov. 13, 1866, and was succeeded by—

Rev. Laurence McGonnell, 1867–70.
Rev. Thomas A. Loughran, 1870 till death, May 6, 1875.
Rev. Edward Pearson, educated at Sedgley Park 1837–41, then at Ushaw, whence he was ordained priest at York, Dec. 21, 1861, and appointed to St. Marie's, Bradford, 1862–3; Doncaster, 1863–71; Pocklington, 1871–5; succeeded Mr. McGonnell as above in 1875, elected canon of Middlesborough in 1881, remained at Leyburn till his retirement from missionary duty in 1893, and died at Sheffield, April 10, 1894.
Rev. William Maher, 1893–5.
Rev. Joseph Canon Dodds, 1895–1912.
Rev. Arthur William Philip Calvert, 1912.
Rev. Sydney Charles Francis Calvert, 1912 to date. J. G.

NO. XI

THE REV. PIERCE PARRY'S PRIVATE BAPTISMAL REGISTERS AT CLAXBY AND OSCOTT, 1755–1766

CONTRIBUTED BY JOSEPH GILLOW.

CLAXBY, CO. LINCOLN.

In the time of the Fitzwilliam family Claxby was served by the Society. Fr. John Pansford, S.J., died here in 1668, aged 80. The estate, with that of Normanby, subsequently passed with the heiress of the Fitzwilliams to the Markhams of Ollerton, and from that time the chaplaincy was filled by secular clergy, successively—James Rigby, Pierce Parry, and George Wyche.

From various autographs on the fly-leaves can be traced the history of the small octavo common-place book in which the registers are written. In its pristine state it was presented in 1726 by the Rev. John Turberville Needham, then a student in poetry at Douay, to one of the grammarians, Hen. Witham, eldest son and heir of Wm. Witham, of Cliffe, Esq. Witham gave it in the same year to a school-fellow, Francis White, a member of an old Irish family long suffering exile on the Continent, whose father was then living at St. Malo. White left Douay in poetry in May, 1729, having presented the book to James Warham, of the ancient Dorset family of that name, who arrived at Douay in May, 1727, and left in rhetoric, Sept. 22, 1732. Through these owners the volume passed till it fell into the hands of one who tore out a certain number of leaves which had been used, reversed the book, and wrote in it an English translation of "The Mandate of the Most Illustrious and Right Rev^{d} the Lord Bishop of Arras," dated 28 Apr. 1738, relative to "that Miracle which He [God] has been pleased to work in favour of Mary Isabel Le Grand, the 19th day of the last month [March] in the Church of the Rev^{d} Father: of the Society of Jesus in this Town [Arras]." This is followed by the previous Mandate of the same bishop dated April 26th, the whole occupying 39 closely written pages. At the end, reversing the page, is inscribed "8 May, 1738, p J: S:" These are the initials of the translator, whom I identify as the Rev. James Slaughter, then a student just entering theology. Most if not all of his missionary career was passed at Longford Hall, near Newport, Salop, a seat of the Talbots, of the Shrewsbury family. How the book came into the hands of the Rev. Pierce Parry to use for his baptismal registers at Claxby does not appear. Possibly one of the several Markhams who were at Douay College about that period had taken it home with him.

Pierce Parry, born 1716, son of John Parry, of Twysog, Esq., and Mary his wife, was admitted into the English College at Rome, Sept. 17, 1736, by Fr. Joseph Mershall, S.J., the rector. He took the oath of Alexander VII in May, 1737. He is omitted from Foley's imperfect transcript of the college diary. From Rome he went to Lisbon, and became an alumnus of the English College on Dec. 13, 1741. He was ordained priest Jan. 6, 1742, and left for England on Feb. 4, or according to another authority on Oct. 16 following. During the first nine years of his missionary career he has not been located, but in 1751 he succeeded the Rev. James Rigby at Claxby. The latter was ordained at Rome, but obtained a dispensation from that part of the oath of Alexander VII which precluded his admission to religious orders, and on Nov. 20, 1730, left the English College for Douay, where he entered the English Franciscan Convent. The rule, however, did not suit him, and on March 31, 1731, he obtained admission to Douay College, where he continued his studies in theology till the following year, when he came on the mission. He became chaplain at Claxby, where he died Oct. 18, 1751, aged 46. Mr. Parry succeeded him, and remained at Claxby till the end of 1759.

OSCOTT, CO. WARWICK

Mr. Parry was transferred to Oscott in the place of the Rev. Joseph Barnes, and took charge of the mission Dec. 16, 1759. In 1763 Bishop Hornyold made some complaint about him, and Mr. Parry removed to Heythrop Park, co. Oxon, a seat of the Earl of Shrewsbury, but his late congregation at Oscott held him in such esteem that they memorialised the bishop, on Jan. 23, 1764, pointing out that far from there being any fault in regard to his pastoral duties, he was assiduous in preaching, in instructing his flock, and in visiting the sick, and hence they earnestly entreated for his return to Oscott. The memorial had the desired effect, and Mr. Parry resumed his charge at Oscott. This mission was an old one, the property having been given for the purpose by the Rev. Andrew Bromwich, who in 1679 was condemned to death for his priesthood but reprieved. It is probable, however, that Mass was said at Oscott before Andrew Bromwich's time. The house was larger than Mr. Parry required, so he entered into an agreement whereby he gave up a portion of it for a boarding-school established by the Rev. Arthur Vaughan, of Harvington Hall, co. Worcester, under the direction of Miss Ainsworth. She accordingly removed her school from Harvington to Oscott, but upon her marriage the care of it was given to Miss Johnson, whose mother was a daughter of Sir Jno. Wrottesley, of Wrottesley, co. Stafford, Bart. When Mr. Parry was disabled by repeated paralytic strokes, he withdrew from Oscott in 1785, and retired to Aldridge, where he died, Dec. 30, 1792, aged 76. He was succeeded at Oscott by the Rev. Joseph Berington.

The original MS. is at Oscott College, and has been kindly lent to the Editor for the present purpose by the Bishop of Birmingham. J. G.

NO. XII

THE CATHOLIC REGISTERS OF BRITWELL-PRIOR OR BRIGHTWELL, OXFORDSHIRE, 1765–88, WITH DEATHS PREVIOUSLY

CONTRIBUTED BY THE REV. JOHN EDGE, S.J.

THESE registers are in a paper book 7¾×6 inches, containing about 150 pages, a few having been torn out. They are kept at St. Aloysius' Church, Oxford, and are bound in parchment. For the most part they are in the writing of the Rev. George Bruning, S.J. The book has been used for notes or references on religious subjects; in most cases the heading of the subject only being given. The writing is in the same hand as most of the registers. On the third page someone has written "the reuvant robard nusom oxford," evidently referring to the Reverend Robert Newsham of Oxford, who was missioner there from 1818 to 1849 (C.R.S. vii. 392). Although illiterate it gives the pronunciation of News-ham, not New-sham. Twenty-one pages later, in a good hand, but partly written over, is "john Blake [? Walkerd caffee house]." Fr. Newsham baptized Mary Anne Blake, an adult, 7 Jan. 1831 (ibid., 418). The registers commence at the other end of the book.

They are quoted and referred to very often in the Hon. Mrs. Bryan Stapleton's Post-Reformation Oxfordshire Missions, a description of them appearing at p. 281. The same excellent authority gives a short account of the mission in the Waterperry and Oxford Missions (Introduction, ibid., 389–390). It will be noticed that the same family and place names occur at times. J. E.

THE CATHOLIC REGISTERS OF ISLEWORTH, MIDDLESEX, 1746–1835

CONTRIBUTED BY JOSEPH S. HANSOM

HISTORICAL NOTES BY JOSEPH GILLOW

In The Catholic Handbook by C. Dolman (Burns & Lambert, 1857) there is a statement that the Catholic baptismal registers of Isleworth date as far back as the year 1675. Nothing is known of such early registers by the Rev. Eric F. Green, the Rector, who has given me facilities for copying and collating the following ones, commencing with an entry in 1746.

On 17 Nov. 1758 the Vestry of Islington decreed that Mr. O'Flaherty, who, from the nature of the notice, and his extensive establishment shewn in the registers, must have been the tenant of Shrewsbury House, must close the chapel. The Rev. Richard Kendal was threatened with prosecution unless he quitted the parish.* It was stated at the time that the room had been in use as a chapel for thirty years, which would carry us to the year 1728. This may possibly have been only a verifiable date; and a chapel elsewhere, and at an earlier period, is possible.

As the recovery of earlier registers may still be hoped for, it has been determined to number the following books,—second and third. There are more modern ones.

Besides the Middlesex parishes of Brentford, Hayes, Sunbury, Teddington, and Twickenham; there are references to Surrey ones, as—Barnes, Esher, Kingston, Mortlake, Richmond, and Wandsworth. More distant places, as Reading in Berkshire and Stoke-Poges in Buckinghamshire, may be explained by the Wheble family having relatives at Richmond, and the Clark family at Hounslow, which is a chapelry, part in Heston and part in Isleworth parishes. Whitton is in Twickenham.

Mr. Gillow provides the following. J. S. H.

HISTORICAL NOTE ON THE CHAPLAINCY

The Earls of Shrewsbury long possessed a seat at Isleworth, co. Middlesex, nine miles west-south-west of London on the western bank of the Thames, between Brentford and Richmond. When the family ceased to occupy the mansion in or soon after 1761, a portion of the premises was reserved for the chapel and priest's house, and thenceforward was known as Shrewsbury Place. The chapel was but 40 by 16 feet, and was "badly constructed and scantily supplied." It continued to serve the requirements of the mission until it was replaced by the chapel erected by Mgr. Weld, who converted the old one into the sacristy. The new chapel, in the Romanesque style, consisted of a nave and galleries designed to accommodate about 200 sittings, and this gave place in 1909 to the present church in Twickenham Road, which was consecrated to Our Lady of Sorrows and St. Bridget on Oct. 6, 1910. The first chaplain on record is—

Rev. John Matthews alias Williams, a member of an old Catholic family seated at Heath House, Buriton, co. Southampton, of which Henry Matthews, gent., was a Catholic non-juror in 1716. Mr. Matthews became an alumnus at Douay College Dec. 8, 1678, and in due course was ordained priest and came to the mission. He appears in a list of priests serving in Middlesex in 1702, and two years later is found apparently residing with Bishop Bonaventure Giffard and the Rev. William Martin in or near Red Lion Square, and all were apprehended on account of their sacred callings in or about Sept. 1704. Mr. Matthews was committed to Newgate, but the others were admitted to bail, each in the sum of £1000 surety in moieties of £500. How long Mr. Matthews remained in prison does not appear, but subsequently he became chaplain to the Dowager Lady Shrewsbury at Isleworth. During his term the bishop made his visitation and gave confirmation on June 14, 1743. Mr. Matthews continued his chaplaincy till his death, Sept. 8, 1744. Lady Shrewsbury, who survived till Sept. 20, 1752, was the widow (from 1733) of George Talbot, commonly called Earl of Shrewsbury, his elder brother, Gilbert, being a Jesuit, and surviving him. (Vide C.R.S. viii. 411.) Mr. Matthews' successor at Isleworth was—

* The Rev. Dr. Burton's Life and Times of Bishop Challoner, i. 373. The notice to Mr. Kendal is dated 20 Nov. 1758.

Rev. Richard Kendal, junior, born 1709, a younger son of John Kendal, the younger, of Fulwood, near Preston, co. Lancaster (vide Gillow, Biog. Dict. iv. 10), who was admitted into Douay College with his brother Hugh on July 20, 1724, was ordained subdeacon June 19, 1734, deacon in 1735, priest on Dec. 1 of that year, and left the college for the English Mission on June 30, 1738. His first appointment is not stated, but it is very probable that he became chaplain to the Shrewsbury family at one or other of their seats. Anyhow from the registers it is evident that in May, 1746, he was chaplain to Lady Shrewsbury at Isleworth, and no doubt succeeded Mr. Matthews in 1744. Shortly before the death of the Countess, Mr. Kendal left Isleworth at the request of Bishop Challoner, in 1751, in order to establish and preside over the school at Standon Lordship, co. Herts, but according to the registers he was back again in April, 1752. After the death of the Countess, who was buried at Heythrop Park, co. Oxon, in Sept. 1752, Mr. Kendal became chaplain to the Earl of Shrewsbury at that seat, where all the registers are signed by him from 1753 until the end of 1761, though he probably served Isleworth when the Earl was in residence, as the registers there were kept by him from 1755 to 1758. In August, 1766, he was again keeping the registers at Heythrop, and so continued till April, 1768. Meanwhile he had been elected a canon of the Old Chapter, May 5, 1756, subsequently was chosen archdeacon, and finally became dean, on Feb. 6, 1771. At the latter date he was residing at Hare Street, a hamlet on the Braughin road to Cambridge, to which the school at Standon Lordship had been removed in 1768 by Mr. Kendal. There he governed it till 1769, when it was transferred by Bishop James Talbot to Old Hall, distant about five miles, and re-established under the presidency of the Rev. James Willacy. Mr. Kendal is said to have usually had several pupils at Hare Street preparing for Douay College. He was still there in 1775, but died in London, after an operation, in the memorable year of the Gordon riots, Dec. 10, 1780, aged 71. Meanwhile, during Mr. Kendal's absence, the chaplaincy at Isleworth was apparently served from Hammersmith—

Fr. Bernard Cassidy alias Stafford, S.J., probably may be identified as the occasional supply appearing in the register on Oct. 6, 1751, as "Mr. Stafford of Hammersmith." He was a native of Ireland, born in Dec. 1713, was educated at St. Omer's, and entered the novitiate at Watten in 1735. Probably he was serving the convent at Hammersmith when he did duty at Isleworth in 1751. In 1758 he was chaplain at Oxburgh Hall, the seat of the Bedingfelds, and in 1761–4 he was at Warkworth Castle, co. Northampton, the seat of the Holmans. He was serving Dorchester, co. Oxon, in 1773, and finally removed to Thame Park, in the same county, where he died June 12, 1788, aged 76, and was buried in the chapel in the Park built by the last Cistercian Abbot of Thame. Another occasional supply was—

Rev. Philip Wyndham, who appears in the register in 1758, and possibly at this period was at Hammersmith. His memoir has been given under the account of Slindon, C.R.S. vii. 356. He eventually died at Brook Green, Hammersmith, Feb. 6, 1825, aged 92. Immediately afterwards a permanent chaplain was appointed in the person of—

Rev. John Exley alias Rathmell, born June 18, 1716, son of Leonard Exley and his wife Mary Rathmell, of Yorkshire, who was educated at Douay College, where he was ordained priest in 1748. His signature appears in the registers 1759–78, in which latter year he retired to Newington Green, where he died May 18, 1778, aged 62. He was succeeded by—

Rev. Robert Tommins, born Oct. 25, 1741, eldest son of George Tommins, of London, and his wife Anne Gray, who was admitted into the English College at Rome, Jan. 28, 1755, ordained priest Dec. 22, 1764, and left for the English Mission April 25, 1765. He is found assisting in the secular mission at Winchester in 1775–6, afterwards appears at the Sardinian chapel in Lincoln's Inn Fields, and from 1778 till 1790 served Isleworth. He then returned to London as one of the chaplains at the Bavarian Embassy, where he died June 27, 1810, aged almost 69, and was interred in the burial-ground of Old St. Pancras, under a slab bearing the following inscription—"To the Memory of the Rev[d] Robert Tommins, Who departed this Life, Feb. [sic] 1810. Requiescat in pace." He was succeeded at Isleworth in 1790 by—

Fr. William Allan, S.J. (vide Foley, vii. 7), who was chaplain to the Stapletons at Carlton Hall, co. York, from 1773–81, after which he is lost sight of till he appears in the register here in 1790, and continued to serve the chapel at Shrewsbury Place till 1810, when he retired from missionary duty, died at Turnham Green, Jan. 26, 1814, aged 82, and was buried in Hammersmith churchyard. Whilst at Isleworth he had as socius—

Fr. George Bruning, S.J. (vide Gillow, Biog. Dict. i. 330), till his death at Shrewsbury Place, June 5, 1802, aged 64. He had previously served Soberton, Hants, and East Hendred, co. Berks, the seat of his brother-in-law, Thomas John Eyston, Esq. He had also been chaplain to Sir Edward Simeon, Bart., of Britwell House, co. Oxon, from 1765 till 1788. After his death at Isleworth his body was removed for burial to East Hendred. It was here that he wrote his Divine Economy of Christ, London, 1791, 8vo, and Remarks on the Rev. Joseph Berington's Examination of Events, London, 1796, 8vo. In 1810 the service of the mission at Shrewsbury Place was formally resumed by the secular clergy in the person of—

Rev. Anthony Wareing, born July 19, 1780, son of William Wareing, of Goosnargh, co. Lancaster, but subsequently of Manchester, and his wife Helen Lund, a relative of the Rev. Anthony Lund, of Ladywell, Fernyhalgh. On July 17, 1795, he was admitted into the English College at Lisbon, where he was ordained priest, and left for the English Mission May 27, 1807. It is not quite certain when he came to Isleworth. It is possible that he assisted Fr. Allan before he formally succeeded to the charge in 1810. He remained until his death at Shrewsbury Place, Feb. 28, 1854, aged 73. For a short interval, before and after his death, the mission was supplied by—

The registers shew the Rev. P Farrelly supplying from 21 April till 3 July 1853, as likewise—

Rev. Sebastian Faenza, who in the same year, 1854, was transferred to Great Saffron Hill, London, and a missionary rector appointed in the person of—

The Right Rev. Mgr. Francis J. Weld, 2nd son of James Weld, Esq., of Britwell House, co. Oxon (7th son of Thomas Weld, of Lulworth Castle, co. Dorset, Esq.), by Juliana Anne, daughter of Robert Edward, 10th Lord Petre. He was nephew of His Eminence, Thomas, Cardinal Weld (who died in 1837), and for some time was his secretary. He came to Isleworth in 1854, rebuilt the chapel in Shrewsbury Place, incorporating the old one as the sacristy, and also erected the schools, all at his own expense. The Monsignor was a man of saintly life, and was the author of the well-known work entitled The Love of God. He continued rector of the mission till his death at Shrewsbury Place, Sept. 26, 1898. Previous to his death he had the following assistants :—

Rev. Wm. Lloyd, 1881–2.
— W. J. Smullen, 1882–94.
— James Noonan, 1888–9.
— Henry J. Grosch, 1889–92.
— Mgr. H. Cluever, 1892–3.
— John Storey, 1893–5.
— Arthur Day, 1895–8, of Ivy Place.

Rev. Thomas Francis Gorman, of Ivy Place, curate 1896–8, of Shrewsbury Place, rector 1898–1906, with assistants—

Rev. Edward Melly, 1899–1900.
— J. J. Crowley, 1900–1.
— Martin Brassill, 1901–3.
— J. Cleary, 1903–8.

Rev. Eric F. Green, rector, of Shrewsbury Place, 1906–8, of the new presbytery and church in Twickenham Road, 1908 to date, with assistants—

Rev. Wm. O'Brien, 1908–11.
— Wilfrid Musgrave, 1911–12. J. G.

Book III

[This book is of paper $7\frac{1}{8} \times 4\frac{3}{4}$ inches, in thin boards covered in faded red leather, and is in good preservation. The pages are not numbered, but the numbers are supplied here in square brackets, including several pages cut out.

The Rev. Anthony Wareing's writing varies much in character, suggesting that some may not be in his hand. The spelling of many names also varies, especially those of Irish, who form the larger part. He often adds the name above or below the registers to make clear the spellings, or to reserve spaces for insertions, which in one case (in 1834) he fails altogether to make.]

a C. S. Chabot.†

* The word "Jo-annis" is in two lines with a space between them equal to a line; but nothing is written in it except the interlined "Elizæ."

† This may be an autograph register of C. S. Chabot and in a different hand to all the rest; except the one on 19 Nov. 1829 "a Revdo Domino Shabot." There is nothing, however, to show its being written in the first person, and the spelling of the sirname varies. The solution may be that the two entries have been written for the celebrant, who may not have understood what had to be done.

THE CATHOLIC REGISTERS OF NEWPORT, SHROPSHIRE. BAPTISMS 1785–1843. MARRIAGES 1807–46

CONTRIBUTED BY THE REV. CHICHELE GILES
HISTORICAL NOTES BY JOSEPH GILLOW

LONGFORD HALL AND SALTER'S HALL, NEWPORT, CO. SALOP

LONGFORD Hall, about a mile from Newport, was brought to the Talbot family, with other estates including Albrighton in the same county, through the marriage of Sir John Talbot, of Grafton Manor, co. Worcester, with Margaret, daughter and heiress of Adam Troutbeck, of Mobberley, co. Chester, Esq. Sir John was son of Sir Gilbert Talbot, of Grafton, a younger son of John Talbot, 2nd Earl of Shrewsbury. He died in 1549 and was succeeded by his namesake, Sir John, whose eldest son George succeeded as 9th Earl of Shrewsbury in 1617, and his younger son, John, inherited and settled at Longford Hall. The latter's son and namesake, John, succeeded as 10th Earl of Shrewsbury, and made Longford House, as it was then called, his principal residence. It was captured by the Cromwellians in 1646, retaken by the Royalists in the same year, and three months later again fell into the hands of the Cromwellians, when Col. Younger was appointed its governor. The 10th earl died in 1653, and was succeeded by his son Francis, but Longford was inherited by Thomas Talbot, a younger son of the 10th earl by his second wife, Frances, daughter of Thomas, 2nd Lord Arundell of Wardour. Thomas Talbot died at Longford, June 30, 1686, aged 45, and his widowed mother, Lady Frances, Dec. 30, 1706, aged 68. Thomas Talbot married Anastasia, daughter of Sir John Yate, of Buckland, Bart., and had an only son, John Talbot, baptized at Longford, Oct. 20, 1664, who inherited the estate, and was residing there, a Catholic non-juror, in 1717. He married Katherine, one of the four daughters and co-heiresses of the third wife of John, Lord Belasyse of Worlaby. She died Sept. 22, 1737, and her husband, John Talbot, was buried at Longford, July 1, 1743. The estate then reverted to his second cousin, George Talbot, 14th Earl of Shrewsbury, who died without issue in 1787. The manor of Longford, as well as that of Church Aston, was in 1789 sold to Ralph Leeke, Esq., by Charles Talbot, 15th Earl of Shrewsbury, and in that year the ancient chapel in the hall had to be vacated, as described in the following extract from a letter of Thomas Henry Francis Whitgreave, then residing at Newport, to his father, Francis Whitgreave, of Moseley, co. Stafford, Esq., under date March 24, 1789: "Until there can be a place fitted up for a chapel for us, we shall be without the assistance of prayers at Newport, being obliged to leave Longford to make room for Mr. Leeke who has purchased it. I believe Lord Shrewsbury has allotted a house called Salter's Hall for the purpose, and we hope it will be ready for prayers in a short time." There can be little doubt that the chapel at Longford Hall was continuously served by priests from the reign of Henry VIII., but the names of the earlier chaplains have not been ascertained, and the writer has to content himself for the present with commencing his list from about the middle of the 17th century, as follows:—

Rev. William Whale alias Robinson, son of Thomas Whale, of Brampton Hall, co. Norfolk, Esq., whose father and namesake, of Catton, near Norwich, married Philippa, elder daughter and eventual heiress of Edward

Brampton, of Brampton, co. Norfolk, Esq., one of the most ancient families in that county. William Whale was admitted into Douay College June 17, 1624, became an alumnus March 12, 1632, and in due course was ordained priest and came to the English mission. After serving here many years he was murdered near Leicester whilst travelling to Norfolk to visit his relatives in May 1671. Several of his near relatives were secular priests and Benedictines. He was apparently succeeded at Longford by—

Rev. George Barrett alias Martin, son of Thomas Barrett, of a good Warwickshire family, who at the age of 14 was sent to the English College at Lisbon, where he was admitted March 8, 1652. He became an alumnus Oct. 10, 1655, was ordained priest March 7, 1661, and was appointed a professor in the college. About the time of Mr. Whale's death he came over to the English mission, and was appointed chaplain to the Hon. Thomas Talbot at Longford Hall. On Sept. 10, 1673, he was elected by the Chapter archdeacon of half of Herefordshire and Shropshire; and when Bishop Leyburne became vicar-apostolic in 1688 he appointed Mr. Barrett rural dean of Salop and Cheshire. He remained at Longford till his death, Aug. 15, 1699, aged 61, "a very worthy person and sincere clergyman [i.e. chapterman] and lover of the public," wrote the Rev. John Ward alias Rogers, secretary of the Chapter, who added—"This testimony is due to him from me, and from all that knew him."

Rev. James Griffith succeeded. He became an alumnus at the English College at Lisbon, Sept. 7, 1686, was ordained deacon Nov. 16, 1687, and, after receiving priest's orders, was sent to England, Dec. 23, 1689, and succeeded Mr. Barrett at Longford in 1699. In 1717, as a Catholic non-juror, he registered a rent-charge of £10 per annum out of a messuage called "Little London" at Rushock, co. Worcester. It was here that the Venerable Franciscan martyr Fr. John Joachim of St. Anne Wall alias Marsh was apprehended in 1678, and there can be no doubt that Mr. Griffith was a trustee for the property of the mission, and very probably had served it before he came to Longford. In his infirm old age he applied to have at his own expense an assistant in the person of Fr. James Gordon, O.C.D., and obtained the approbation of the grand-vicar to Bishop Stonor, though the proceeding was irregular. Mr. Griffith died at Longford Feb. 22 or 23, 1734–5, and the Carmelites contrived to have Fr. Gordon to succeed him.

Fr. James Mary of St. Margaret Gordon, O.C.D., a Scotchman, born 1702, came as assistant in 1732, and succeeded to the chaplaincy upon Mr. Griffith's death. He remained until 1742, when he was removed by Bishop Stonor in consequence of some irregularities laid to his charge. This gave rise to a dispute between him and his regular superior, which was carried to Rome, and was one of the causes that drew from Benedict XIV the Regulæ Missionis, under date May 30, 1753. Fr. Gordon upon leaving Longford went to Newton, near Chester, the seat of Sir John ffleetwood, Bart., which was in the Northern Vicariate, and though his name appears in a catalogue of English Carmelites as late as 1755, he seems eventually to have left the order.

Rev. James Slaughter succeeded to the chaplaincy in 1742. He was the fourth son of James Slaughter, of Yarkhill, co. Hereford, Esq., and was born in April, 1712. His father was the 6th son of Bellingham Slaughter, of Cheyney's Court in the same county, Esq., by Ann, daughter and co-heiress of the Rev. John Hathway, D.D., prebend of Hereford. He was sent to Douay College, where he arrived April 25, 1732, became an alumnus Nov. 4, 1736, "in rhætorica inter primos, optimæ spei adolescens," was ordained priest Dec. 23, 1741, and left Douay to take up the chaplaincy at Longford Hall, March 22, 1742. He was elected a member of the Old Chapter March 21, 1755, and an archdeacon Nov. 8, 1774. He continued chaplain to the 14th Earl of Shrewsbury till his death, June 12, 1781, aged 69, and two days later his interment at Longford parish church was entered in the registers as "James Slaughter, a Romish priest." He was greatly respected by his brethren and acquaintances, and his death was widely regretted. He translated Lambert's Manière d'instruire les pauvres de la campagne, but it was never printed, and the MS. was formerly in Dr. Kirk's possession. He was succeeded by—

Rev. John Manning, born Nov. 4, 1731, son of John Manning, of London, and his wife Elizabeth Usher. On Nov. 1, 1749, he was admitted into the English College at Rome, where he was ordained priest March 13, and left for the English mission May 5, 1756, and in 1757 went from London to Talacre, co. Flint, the seat of Sir George Mostyn, 4th Bart. There he remained till (or about) 1771, and then he was transferred to Derby, in succession to the unhappy Mr. John Tapprell, who conformed to the Established Church and afterwards practised physic. In 1778 he appears as serving the chapel at Lincoln's Inn Fields, but probably it was only temporary, and upon Mr. Slaughter's death in 1781 he came to Longford, and retained the chaplaincy till his death, though he is said to have actually died in Derbyshire, in July, 1783. His successor was—

Rev. John Wright, born Nov. 28, 1754, at Irnham, co. Lincoln. He was sent to Sedgley Park School in 1764, whence he was transferred to Douay College, where he was admitted April 26, 1769. In 1780 he was ordained priest, and was retained in the college, first as professor of rhetoric, and then, in 1782, of philosophy, till he left Douay for the mission, either in 1783 or the beginning of 1784, to fill the chaplaincy at Longford Hall. In 1789 the estate was sold by Charles Talbot, 15th Earl of Shrewsbury, to a Protestant gentleman named Leeke. The old chapel in the hall had thus to be closed, and the earl arranged that the mission should be instated in Salter's Hall, Newport—about a mile distant from Longford Hall—an ancient mansion on an estate acquired by another branch of the Talbot family through marriage. It took its name from the Salter family, of whom was Sir John Salter, sheriff of Shropshire in 1521, and was a most interesting old mansion. Salter left an only daughter and heiress, Joan, first married to Thomas Chetwynd, of Ingestrie Hall, co. Stafford, Esq., and secondly to Sir William Sneyd, of Broadwell Hall and Keele Hall, co. Stafford, Knt. In 1664 Charles Chetwynd was residing at Salter's Hall, but the estate belonged to the elder branch of the family, which was raised to the peerage of Ireland in 1717, in the person of Walter Chetwynd, of Ingestrie, and his niece Catherine carried it in marriage to the Hon. John Talbot, 2nd son of Charles Talbot, Baron Talbot, of Hensol, co. Glamorgan, who conveyed it to the 14th Earl of Shrewsbury. Mr. Wright thus became chaplain to the Earl of Shrewsbury at Salter's Hall, and remained there till 1796, when he became secretary to Bishop Berington at Longbirch in Staffordshire. He had long been subject to epileptic fits, of which, however, he generally had sufficient warning to call for assistance. He is supposed to have had one on Sunday, July 23, 1797, when he was found dead in the morning, with his head hanging over the side of the bed. He was much esteemed by his brethren, though he was one of the thirteen priests known as the "Staffordshire Clergy," through their protest against the condemnation by the vicars-apostolic of the oath of allegiance proposed in 1791 by the Catholic Committee, of which Mr. Charles Butler and Dom Joseph Cuthbert Wilks, O.S.B., were the moving spirits. Unlike some of them he never recanted. Mr. Wright was also greatly respected by his congregation. His Douay Dictates, written in 1778, MS., pp. 368, and the printed copy of his theses, are now at Old Hall College.

and at this date president of Sedgley Park, in Aug., 1795. Mr. Wright's successor was—

Dom Joseph Cuthbert Wilks, O.S.B., born 1743, son of John Wilks, of Coughton, co. Warwick, and his wife Anne Pearks. He was professed at St. Edmund's Monastery at Paris, was ordained priest in 1772, and after serving Swynnerton, co. Stafford, the seat of the Fitzherberts, Bath, co. Somerset, and Heythrop, co. Oxon, a seat of Charles, 15th Earl of Shrewsbury, he came at the instance of that nobleman to assist Mr. Wright at Salter's Hall in Jan., 1796, succeeded to the chaplaincy in 1797, and remained until 1800. Fr. Wilks eventually died at his monastery, then settled at Douay, May 19, 1829, aged 85. During his chaplaincy at Salter's Hall, Fr. Wilks kept a small boarding-school for the sons of Catholic gentry, and amongst his pupils were Sir Henry Tichborne, of Tichborne, co. Hants, 7th Bart., and one of the Swinburnes of Capheaton, co. Northumberland. He was succeeded by—

Rev. William C. Goff, a French émigré, who temporarily served the mission 1800–1801, until the arrival of—

Rev. John Reeve, born June 7, 1758, son of James Reeve, of London, and his wife Helen Barry, admitted into Douay College Sept. 3, 1776, ordained priest in 1783, came to the English mission in the following year, and was placed at Foxcote, co. Warwick, the seat of Francis Canning, Esq. There he remained till he was appointed chaplain to the Earl of Shrewsbury at Salter's Hall in 1801. In 1806 this zealous missioner was transferred to Madeley in the same county, where he died in Feb., 1813, aged 54. His successor here was—

Rev. George Howe, born Oct. 4, 1771, son of George Howe, of Ipstones, co. Stafford, and his wife Winifred Herd. He was sent to Sedgley Park School July 15, 1783, thence transferred to the English College at Lisbon, where he was admitted Feb. 22, 1785, on Thomas Wolfe's Fund, ordained priest April 5, 1795, and left the college the same month for the English mission. The seat of his first missionary labours is not recorded, but he came as chaplain to Salter's Hall in 1806, and remained till 1822, when he was transferred to Shrewsbury in June, but returned in October following. In 1827 John Talbot succeeded his uncle as 16th Earl of Shrewsbury, and shortly afterwards conceived the idea of erecting a new church in the early English style, as well as a presbytery, from designs by Mr. Potter, of Lichfield. For this purpose part of the venerable old mansion was pulled down, considerable alterations and additions were made, and the new church erected, which was opened on Tuesday July 3, 1832, by Bishop Walsh, V.A.–M.D. An account of the opening appeared in the Catholic Magazine, ii. 520. Some three years later, on Oct. 13, 1835, the earl conveyed the property to the bishop of the Midland District, the Rt. Rev. Thomas Walsh. Mr. Howe remained in charge till his death, Nov. 6, 1837, aged 66. During Mr. Howe's chaplaincy the Earl and Countess of Shrewsbury frequently visited Salter's Hall, often staying for more than a week at a time. One of the priests who supplied for him was the Rev. Henry Richmond, who appears in the baptismal register on Aug. 21, 1828. He had been educated at Sedgley Park and Oscott, at the latter of which he was ordained on March 27, 1827, subsequently served Black Ladies, Abbots Salford, &c., and died canon of the Birmingham Chapter, Feb. 26, 1867. He was buried in the church at Salter's Hall, as stated on a stone which marks the place. Mr. Howe's successor was—

Rev. Michael Trovell, son of Michael Trovell, of Hanley Castle, co. Worcester, and his wife Mary (who died there Nov. 12, 1841, aged 82), who went on Aug. 7, 1809, to Sedgley Park School, whence he proceeded to Oscott College in Aug. 1813, and there was ordained priest by Bishop Milner, Sept. 21, 1820. He was then appointed to succeed the Rev. James

Duckett at Botesdale, co. Suffolk, and resided with Mr. George Gardiner, a bank manager there. It was known by the name of the Border mission, and in 1824, by consent of the bishop, it was removed to Thetford, in the same county, where Mr. Gardiner went to reside at a large farm called The Canons. Mr. Trovell served a small chapel in the house, but removed to Gifford's Hall, Stoke-by-Nayland, the ancient seat of the Mannocks, and thence issued an appeal for funds to build a new chapel at Stoke in April, 1825. There he remained till his appointment as chaplain to the Earl of Shrewsbury at Salter's Hall in 1837. After the restoration of the hierarchy, the first bishop of Shrewsbury, the Rt. Rev. James Brown, D.D., in 1851 took up his residence at Salter's Hall, and only removed to his cathedral at Shrewsbury in 1868. Mr. Trovell was raised to the new chapter in 1852, and was appointed vicar-general in 1854. Thus he continued till May 28, 1867, when he retired from all missionary duty, on account of increasing deafness and infirmity, to Shaw Street, Worcester, where he died March 26, 1875, aged 80. To commemorate the 29 years of his devoted and zealous labour a handsome monument was erected in the church at Salter's Hall. He was the last priest to hold the position of chaplain to the Earl of Shrewsbury at Salter's Hall. During his ministration, on Feb. 5, 1838, the Rev. Henry Elwes, a convert, appears in the baptismal register, who, in the following year, went to Dudley, co. Stafford, till 1841, when he went to Oscott College as professor of French till 1842. He then served Cossey Hall, Norfolk, till 1852, and thence went to Salcombe, co. Devon, till 1857, when his name finally disappears from the Directory. He died in Jan., 1878. It is noteworthy that Emily Sarah, daughter of Henry Elwes, of Colesbourne, co. Gloucester, Esq., in 1842 married the Hon. and Rev. Geo. Gustavus C. Talbot, younger son of Charles Chetwynd Chetwynd Talbot, Earl Talbot and Viscount Ingestrie, and brother of the Protestant 18th Earl of Shrewsbury. Canon Trovell was succeeded at Salter's Hall by—

Rev. Eugene Buquet, the son of French parents settled in Edinburgh after the great revolution, who was sent to Sedgley Park School in 1844, thence, in 1851, proceeded to Oscott College, and was ordained priest June 3, 1860. In the following year he left Oscott for St. Werburg's, Birkenhead, where he remained as curate till 1865, and then became secretary to Bishop Brown at Salter's Hall, and assistant to Canon Trovell, whom he succeeded in 1867. Thence in July, 1868, he went as rector to St. Werburg's, Chester, till 1882, during which time he built the church and presbytery, and was created canon penitentiary. Next he went back to St. Werburg's, Birkenhead, as rector, in 1882, and in the following year was made provost of the Chapter, and thus continued till his death, Jan. 29, 1898. He was succeeded temporarily at Salter's Hall by—

Fr. F. Gerard Lamb, O.S.F.C., who came in July, 1868, from Pantasaph, co. Flint, but left in the following September to make place for—

Rev. Ambrose Canon Lennon, V.G. of Shrewsbury, who came from Liscard, and remained till Aug., 1872, when he went to Wrexham, co. Denbigh, and died there March 29, 1876. He was succeeded by—

Rev. John Rogerson, ordained priest at Ushaw, Aug. 24, 1854, and sent to St. Werburg's, Birkenhead, thence in 1857 to Our Lady's, Birkenhead, of which he was the first rector till 1863, when he went to Macclesfield, and there remained till he came to Salter's Hall in 1872. In 1885 he was appointed a canon, and so continued till his death, Dec. 13, 1893, and was succeeded by—

Rev. David Williams from Market Drayton, co. Salop, whither he had gone in 1890. He was a convert to the Church at the age of eighteen. He remained here till his death, Aug. 6, 1902, and was succeeded by—

Rev. Chichele Giles, the present rector.

It is noteworthy that the Catholic portion of the Newport cemetery was solemnly blessed by the bishop on Aug. 16, 1859; and that the school was built in 1868, with the addition of an infant school in 1878. One of the priest's hiding-places, so necessary in times of persecution, still remains in a much altered form in the old portion of Salter's Hall. Among the treasures of the mission are:—the orphreys of a xv. or early xvi. century chasuble, remounted in modern times; a large chalice, silver gilt, inscribed —"Jesu fili David miserere mei, Thomas Talbot, 1671"; a small Gothic chalice, probably xvii. century, almost a replica of Fr. Postgate's chalice as photographed in Dom Bede Camm's Forgotten Shrines; a portrait on panel of the Ven. John Duckett, formerly in the Hall, but now in the church, inscribed—"Joannes Duckett, Sacerdos, passus Londini Sep. die 7, 1644, ætatis suæ 31." J. G.

BOOK I.

[On the first page of the front fly-leaf are pencil notes for three baptisms, the first for 1840, the two others for 1838, and referred to in their places. On the second page is the "Bycot" baptism for 1788. The regular baptismal registers are on the next 74 pages. Then follow two blank pages, and eight pages of marriages complete the book. Pages $7 \times 5\frac{1}{2}$ inches, bound in vellum.]

* The questionable economy of abbreviating the different forms of "baptizatus" in registers, four or six times yearly, suggested that the entries from 4 to 54 had been copied at one time from earlier memoranda. Comparison with the originals confirms this as far as 52. But 53, which commences on another quarter quire of paper, is distinctly different, the three last by the Rev. John Wright (54 to 56) resuming the former character, and his signatures for the first time commence "A me."—J. S. H.

MARRIAGES

[These are on the last four leaves, and are signed by autograph or mark unless omitted or described. Many of the crosses can only indicate where the signatures had to be written, and, where marked [signs], are distinctly autographs. Where the cross is described as "His mark," and perhaps in "Brennan's +," illiteracy must be assumed. Some are very shaky and the names spelt curiously, which may be attributable to the excitement of the moment.]

[This is a common account-book, originally of 32 pages $6\frac{3}{8} \times 4$ inches, in a marbled paper cover. The first half of the pages have been cut off, ample being left to keep the sewing intact, on which are traces of dates and cash figures, confirming the pencil note on the first—"These pages seem to have been accounts only." Inside the cover at the top is "1839," and lower down—"A list of those who have been confirmed since my arrival at Newport. Feb: 1838." This is evidently by Canon Trovell.

The first list is the above one of 4 Sept. 1842, but less complete, the names taken being omitted, like the following ones.]

THE CATHOLIC REGISTERS OF CULCHETH, LANCASHIRE, 1791–1825

CONTRIBUTED BY THE REV. JOHN DONOHOE
HISTORICAL NOTES BY JOSEPH GILLOW

PRINTED AT THE EXPENSE OF JOHN PETER SMITH, J.P.

THE book in which these registers are inscribed is a small quarto volume. It is well bound in parchment, and its covers are ruled on each side towards the edges. The volume is in a good state of preservation, and is kept in the archives of the Mission of St. Lewis's, Croft, Warrington. J. D.

HISTORY OF CULCHETH CHAPLAINCY

Culcheth, in the parish of Winwick, has been assigned as the site of many synods of the Anglo-Saxon Church, many charters were dated thence, and an ancient farmstead, moated round, and called the "Old Abbey," points to some ecclesiastical building of remote antiquity. The manor descended in the family bearing the name until the death of Thomas Culcheth, of Culcheth Hall, in 1747, when the estate passed to his cousin Thomas Stanley, of Great Eccleston Hall, in the Fylde, whose mother was aunt to Thomas Culcheth. Two years later Thomas Stanley died, and his brother, Fr. Henry Stanley, became heir to the estate. Thechapel in the hall was then closed, and Fr. Stanley opened a small chapel in the vicinity, at Dobbsfont, which so continued till the opening of the chapel at Croft in 1827. Thomas Stanley left an only daughter and heiress, Meliora, who became the wife of William Dicconson, 4th son of Edward Dicconson, of Wrightington Hall, Esq., and upon her death, June 29, 1794, Culcheth passed to John Trafford, of Trafford and Croston, Esq., whose grandfather John Trafford, of Croston Hall, had married Catherine, sister to Mrs. Stanley and daughter of Thomas Culcheth, of Culcheth Hall. By the Traffords the estate was sold to Peter Withington, Esq., and thus Culcheth, which had ever been in Catholic hands, ceased to be a centre of Catholicity. The Culcheths had always remained staunch to the Faith, and many of them were Jesuits and nuns. They intermarried with the leading Catholic families of the county, and one of them in the reign of Henry VIII. married a daughter of Sir Thomas Southworth, of Samlesbury Hall and Southworth Hall, high sheriff of Lancashire in 1541, and sister of the famous confessor of the faith, Sir John Southworth.

The following is the list of the priests serving the mission so far as can be ascertained :—

Fr. John Penketh alias Rivers, S.J., born 1630, son of Richard Penketh, of Penketh Hall, co. Lancaster, Esq., who was ordained priest at the English College at Rome in 1656, came to the English mission in 1658 as a secular, but five years later entered the Society at Watten, and in 1666 returned to Lancashire, and apparently became chaplain to Lord Molyneux at Croxteth. From 1673 till his arrest during the Oates Plot persecution in 1679 he was at Scarisbrick Hall, the seat of the Scarisbricks. He was tried at Lancaster and condemned to death for his priestly character, but was reprieved, and retained in prison for six years, enduring patiently many sufferings. After his release he appears to have come to Culcheth Hall, whence he is said to have served Bedford Leigh, a few miles distant.

At the outbreak of the Revolution, in Dec. 1688, he was compelled to seek safety in hiding-places, from whence he continued for a length of time to assist the neighbouring Catholics by stealthy visits during the night. He is thought to have died either at Culcheth or Bedford Leigh, Aug. 1, 1701, aged 71. He probably was succeeded by—

Fr. Edward Scarisbrick alias Neville, S.J., born 1639, son of Edward Scarisbrick, of Scarisbrick Hall, co. Lancaster, Esq., and his wife Frances, daughter of Roger Bradshaigh, of Haigh Hall, near Wigan, Esq. He came to the mission in Lancashire about the time of the so-called "Popish Plot," and was entered in Titus Oates' list of intended victims. In the reign of James II. he was called to London, and was appointed one of the royal preachers and chaplains, and two of his sermons were printed by his Majesty's command in 1687 and 1688 (Gillow, Biog. Dict. v. 482). He fled to the Continent upon the outbreak of the Revolution in the latter year, and remained there till 1693, when he returned to Lancashire, and then or later came to Culcheth Hall. In a return to the general of the Society in 1701, he is stated to be at Culcheth, with a salary from the Society of £9. Here he remained till his death, and was buried at Winwick, Feb. 10, 1708–9, as "Edward Skarisbrick, of Culcheth, Priest." He was author of The Life of Lady Warner, 1691, and Rules and Instructions, 1703. He was succeeded by—

Fr. Richard Smith alias Saville, S.J., son of John Smith, of an ancient Sussex family, who came from Lulworth Castle, co. Dorset (C.R.S. vi. 365). In 1716 the apostate priest and informer, Richard Hitchmough, reported to the Commissioners—"At Culcheth Hall, the seat of Thomas Culcheth, near Warrington . . . one large silver chalice and one Paten, the chalice being double gilt within with gold, two silver crucibles, and a large silver plate for the crucibles to stand upon." When Bishop Williams made his visitation at Culcheth in Nov. 1728, Fr. Smith presented 132 persons for confirmation, some of whom probably came from Leigh, as their pastor Fr. Charles Eccop, S.J., was present on the occasion. Fr. Smith remained at Culcheth till his death, Sept. 22, 1735, aged 75. His successor was—

Fr. Thomas Maire, S.J., son of Christopher Maire, of Hartbushes, co. Durham, Esq., born April 18, 1703, who entered the Society in 1720, and after ordination was chaplain in 1730 to the Riddells at Gateshead, whence he had to retire about Sept., 1736, owing to some anti-popery bustle, and he then came to Culcheth Hall. Here he seems to have remained until 1749, when he removed to Leicester, where he died, Dec. 3, 1752, aged 49. He was succeeded at Culcheth by—

Fr. Henry Stanley alias Culcheth, S.J., born Sept. 11, 1688, son of Richard Stanley, of Great Eccleston Hall, in the Fylde, Esq., and his wife Anne, daughter of Thomas Culcheth, of Culcheth Hall, Esq. He entered the Society at Watten in 1706, and in 1716–18 was professor of philosophy at Liège College. About this time he was sent to the mission in the Oxford district, of which he was superior from Feb. 1728–9 till 1743, and seems to have been chaplain to the Curzons at Waterperry. Upon the death of his mother's nephew, Thomas Culcheth, Esq., in Oct. 1747, the Culcheth estates passed to her son Thomas Stanley, who took possession of the hall, but died within two years and was buried at Winwick, July 21, 1749. Fr. Henry then became heir to the estates, and came to reside at Culcheth, not at the hall, but at a place called Dobbsfont, where he established a chapel and priest's house. In 1751 he had a socius given him in the person of Fr. Henry Smith, and in Nov. of that year he made his will (now at Stonyhurst), leaving his personal estate to the Society. He died Nov. 27, 1753, aged 65, and was buried at Winwick. He was succeeded in the mission by—

Fr. Henry Smith, S.J., born Nov. 11, 1699, in Berwick, co. Northumberland, who was educated at St. Alban's College, Valladolid, ordained priest in 1724, and left the college for the secular mission, but instead proceeded to Watten, and entered the Society Sept. 7th of that year. In 1729 he probably succeeded Fr. Thomas Scarisbrick, S.J., at Dutton Hall, in Great Budworth, co. Chester, formerly the seat of the Lords Gerard, of Gerard's Bromley, but at that time the property of Charles Gerard ffleetwood, Esq., whose mother Frances Gerard, wife of Thomas ffleetwood, Esq., had inherited the estate from her brother Charles, 6th Lord Gerard, of Gerard's Bromley, co. Stafford. Charles ffleetwood sold Dutton about the time that Fr. Smith came to Culcheth in 1751. Fr. Smith succeeded to the sole charge of the mission upon Fr. Stanley's death in 1753, and remained till his death May 1, 1756, aged 56. The next priest on record was—

Fr. Roger Leigh, S.J., whose biography has been given under Liverpool, C.R.S. ix. 185. He seems to have come from Rixton Hall, the seat of the Massey family, and was here when the Bishop of Chester made his return to the Government in 1767. William Dicconson was then residing at the hall with his wife, the heiress of Thomas Stanley. Fr. Leigh was succeeded by—

Fr. Thomas Walmesley, S.J., born July 19, 1716, a native of Lancashire, who entered the Society at Watten in 1737, and after ordination was sent to the mission, and was in the Hants District in 1747, in London in 1754, and, according to Foley, Records S.J. vii. 806, came to Culcheth in 1771. During his term Bishop William Walton made his visitation at Culcheth on June 11, 1774, and confirmed 78 persons. He was still in charge when Bishop Matthew Gibson confirmed 35 persons at Culcheth on Oct. 27, 1784, and in Feb. 1785 the communicants of the congregation were returned at 140. He was then transferred to Stockeld Park, co. York, the seat of the Middletons, where he was chaplain, probably from 1788 to 1790, and then was placed at Rixton Hall, co. Lancaster, till his death, Jan. 5, 1792, aged 75. His immediate successor at Culcheth does not appear, but no doubt the mission was duly served until the arrival of—

Rev. Thomas Caton, who is said to have come on June 11, 1791, and he commenced the registers in that month. He was the son of John Caton, of Broughton, near Preston, and his wife Anne Gregson, of Lancaster, and was born Sept. 26, and baptized at Lancaster by the Rev. Nicholas Skelton on Oct. 3, 1756. He was sent to the English College at Lisbon, where he was admitted Oct. 30, 1768, ordained priest March 11, 1780, and left for the English mission in 1782, and was stationed at Alston Lane, near Preston, till 1787. He then removed to Towneley Hall, the seat of the Towneleys, whence he came to Culcheth. His registers commence on June 16, 1791, and continue till July 1, 1792, when he went to Formby. Thence, in or before 1798, he returned to the Towneley or Burnley mission, whence he removed to Cottam, July 24, 1812, and died there, Aug. 14, 1826, aged almost 70. He was succeeded at Culcheth by—

Rev. Henry Carter, born Feb. 2, 1761, son of Robert Carter and his wife Jane Cope, of Lancashire, who was admitted into Douay College Aug. 28, 1774, became an alumnus in rhetoric, June 29, 1780, and after receiving the diaconate in 1783, in his second year's theology, was sent to St. Omer's College, where he was ordained priest. He succeeded Mr. Caton at Culcheth in July 1792, and continued to sign the registers till Aug. 1796. Meanwhile, Mrs. Dicconson, the daughter and heiress of Thomas Stanley, died on June 29, 1794, and Culcheth Hall and estate passed to John Trafford, of Trafford and Croston, Esq., whose grandfather and namesake had married Catherine, daughter of Thomas Culcheth, of Culcheth, Esq. The chapel and priest's house thus became the property of Mr. Trafford, who allowed the incumbent £30 per annum. Besides this there was a small income derived from various investments belonging to the mission, and about £16 per annum from bench money. In 1805 Mr. Carter went to assist his uncle, the Rev. James Carter alias Mawdesley, at Newhouse, Newsham, near Preston, succeeded to the charge of that mission upon his uncle's death, Feb. 4, 1814, aged 78, and remained there till his retirement in ill-health in 1818 to Preston, where he died, Nov. 24, 1826, aged 65. He was succeeded at Culcheth by—

The Rev. William Harris, who was sent to Sedgley Park School in 1785, and thence proceeded to the English College at Rome, where he was ordained priest. Thence he went to Crook Hall College, where he arrived Dec. 27, 1796, but left on Jan. 23, 1797, to take Mr. Carter's place at Culcheth. In November of the same year he left Culcheth to become chaplain and vice-president at Sedgley Park, a position which he held until 1802. He then took charge of the mission at Osgodby, co. Lincoln, where he remained till his death, Nov. 10, 1823. He was succeeded at Culcheth by—

Rev. James Newsham, born at Westby-cum-Plumpton, in the Fylde, in or about 1742, who was admitted into Douay College Oct. 5, 1754, was appointed to teach rudiments Oct. 1, 1767, and having been ordained priest became prefect-general Oct. 1, 1769. He vacated that office and left Douay to be confessor to the English Augustinian nuns at Louvain on March 12, 1771, but returned to Douay as a convictor in 1788, left again Nov. 30 in that year, again returned on Sept 10, and was appointed to teach rudiments on Oct. 1, 1789, which he continued to do till Nov. 15, 1790, when he again left the college. On Oct. 1, 1791, he once more returned to teach rudiments, and commenced the same course on Oct. 1, 1792, but finally left before the end of the scholastic year, and probably rejoined the nuns at Louvain, where he is said to have been in 1793, and Dr. Oliver (Collections, p. 364) says he resided for a time with the community after its settlement at Spetisbury, co. Dorset. Where he was in the interval is not stated, but in or about Nov. 1797 he came to Culcheth to succeed Mr. Harris. Here he remained till about June 1798. Eventually he died at the convent at Hammersmith, June 11, 1825. His successor at Culcheth was—

Rev. Thomas Berry, who first appears in the registers in July 1798. He was a native of Ashton-in-Makerfield, co. Lancaster, was educated at the English College at Rome, and was there ordained sub-deacon. Thence he went to Douay College, where he was admitted Jan. 24, 1791. He was imprisoned with the rest of the collegians during the French Revolution, and with them was liberated, Feb. 25, 1795, being still a sub-deacon, but in his third year's divinity. He joined the Douay refugees congregated at Crook Hall on Aug. 28, 1796, was ordained priest there April 1, 1797, left the college for the mission Jan. 19, 1798, and was placed at Culcheth. Here he remained till 1814 or 1815, when he appears to have gone to Ince Blundell, the seat of Charles Robert Blundell, Esq., and was at Crosby Marsh 1823–6. From the latter he went to Cottam, 1826–45, and finally to Great Crosby, where he died, Aug. 29, 1851, aged 85. Meanwhile Mr. Trafford died Oct. 29, 1815, and it was either about this time or shortly before his death that the Culcheth Hall estate was sold to Peter Withington, Esq., and thus passed out of Catholic hands. From the lapse in the registers it would appear that there was no resident priest at Culcheth until the Benedictines undertook the charge and sent—

Dom Samuel Maurus Phillips, O.S.B., who signs the registers from Sept. 1820 to July 1822. Born at Bristol in 1794, professed at St. Gregory's, Douay, and ordained priest there in 1819, he came here in 1820, and remained till he was transferred to Standish in 1822. Thence he went to Woolton in 1824, and remained there till his death, April 3, 1855, aged 61. He was succeeded at Culcheth by—

Dom Samuel Bede Day, O.S.B., who signs the registers from Sept. 1822 till May 1823. He was born at Wellow, co. Somerset, in 1791, and from Sedgley Park School went to Dieulward, where he was professed in 1807, and after coming to the mission served Standish, 1816–22; Culcheth, 1822–3; Clayton Green, 1823–34; was prior of Ampleforth, 1834–8; served Coventry, 1838–40; Kemerton, co. Gloucester, 1842–4; Brownedge, near Preston, 1844–5; Aigburth, near Liverpool, 1845–50; Felton, Northumberland, 1850-69; after which he retired to Ampleforth and there died, Feb. 16, 1870, aged 78. After Fr. Day's departure the chapel was served by—

The Abbé Louis Le Richebec, the last priest at Southworth Hall, signs the registers until the end. He said the last Mass at Culcheth on May 8, 1825, and from that date the congregation attended service at Southworth Hall until the two missions were united at Croft. J. G.

THE CATHOLIC REGISTERS OF SOUTHWORTH HALL, LANCASHIRE, 1795–1827

CONTRIBUTED BY THE REV. JOHN DONOHOE
HISTORICAL NOTES BY JOSEPH GILLOW

PRINTED AT THE EXPENSE OF JOHN PETER SMITH, J.P.

HISTORY OF SOUTHWORTH CHAPLAINCY

THE manors of Southworth, Croft, Middleton, and Arbury in the parish of Winwick, co. Lancaster, were the possessions of the knightly family of Southworth, which between the years 1320 and 1346 acquired the manor of Samlesbury through the marriage of Sir Gilbert Southworth, of Southworth Hall, with the heiress of Nicholas D'Ewyas, and thenceforward Salmesbury Hall became the principal residence of the family. Great were the sufferings of this staunch recusant family for the faith of their ancestors. Of Sir John Southworth, high sheriff of his county in 1562, it is said (Gibson's Lydiate Hall, p. 210) perhaps no layman suffered more in fines and imprisonments for the cause of religion. So early as 1568 articles were preferred by the ecclesiastical commissioners against him for neither repairing to church, nor receiving the sacraments, and for speaking against the book of common-prayer, and that he had received into his house certain priests (P.R.O., Dom. Eliz. XLIII.). Later on, March 29, 1582, he was delivered by the Earl of Derby to the custody of Sir Edmund Trafford and Robert Worsley, keepers of the gaol at Salford, and there, or in the New Fleet at Manchester, he was detained till 1584. He died in 1595. And so the family persevered until exhausted by fine and persecution—and even martyrdom in the person of the Ven. John Southworth, hanged at Tyburn for his priesthood in 1654—they were obliged gradually to part with their extensive estates, the last, Samlesbury Hall, passing by sale to Thomas Braddyll, of Portfield and Brock Hall, Esq., on March 10, 1679. The Southworth Hall estate was purchased somewhat earlier by Col. Richard Gerard, second surviving son of Sir Thomas Gerard, of Bryn, 2nd Bart. (vide C.R.S. vi. 106, 228), and thus preserved in Catholic hands. Col. Gerard was residing at the hall in 1667 and 1679, but removed to Ince Hall shortly before his death in 1686. The colonel's son Thomas Gerard inherited Southworth, but resided at Highfield House in Ince, and in his return as a Catholic Non-juror in 1717 he states that Southworth Hall was let for £33 per annum. He died in 1724, and his son, Fr. Thomas Gerard, S.J., conveyed the hall and manor of Southworth to his cousin William Gerard, of Wigan, apothecary, subsequently of Ince Hall, esquire. The latter's sister and heiress married John Walmesley, grandson of John Walmesley whose eldest brother Richard Walmesley, of Showley Hall, son of Richard Walmesley of the same and his wife Ellen Gerard, married Elizabeth, daughter and eventual heiress of Thomas Southworth, of Samlesbury and Southworth. By one of the Gerards the demesne of Southworth Hall and about 20 acres of land was settled upon the Society of Jesus. This ancient mansion, existing in the reign of Henry VI, was a wood, plaster, and brick pile in the post and pan style, but in later times it was refronted, and still stands in a modernised state. Traces of the old chapel so long in use within its walls were visible some forty years ago. A view of the old hall was engraved in Croston's History of the Ancient Hall of Samlesbury in 1871. After the opening of the new chapel at Croft in 1827, midway between Southworth Hall and Culcheth Hall, when those two missions were united, the Jesuits in the following year, 1828, disposed of Southworth Hall by sale, since which it has been in several hands, eventually being purchased from the Greenalls by Samuel Brooks, banker of Manchester.

There can be little doubt that the chapel in Southworth Hall was continuously served from the time of Elizabeth, but the names of the priests can only be traced as follows :—

Fr. Thomas Eccleston, senior, S.J., born 1643, son of Thomas Eccleston, of Eccleston Hall, co. Lancaster, Esq., by Jane, daughter of Sir Cuthbert Clifton, of Westby Hall, in the same county, knt., entered the Society in 1668, and was ordained priest April 17, 1677, when he came to the Lancashire mission and either then or later was placed at Southworth Hall. He became rector of the Lancashire District, or College of Blessed Aloysius, in 1696, and died in this district, presumably here, Nov. 25, 1698, aged 55. He was succeeded by—

Fr. Gervase Hamerton, S.J., born April 10, 1668, of the ancient Yorkshire family originally seated at Hellifield Hall, who entered the Society, into which his uncles FF. Peter and Henry Hamerton had preceded him, at Watten in 1687, and in due course was ordained and came to the mission in Lancashire. He succeeded Fr. Eccleston at Southworth in 1698, and remained till his death, and was buried at Winwick, Aug. 28, 1708, aged 40, being entered in the register as "Mr. Gerviss Hamerton, of Southworth, Priest." Foley (Records S.J. vii. 329) gives the date of his death incorrectly. In 1701 his salary from the Society was returned at £18. His successor was—

Fr. Sebastian Needham alias Robert Morgan, S.J., born 1671, son of Robert Needham, of Upper Hilston, in the parish of St. Maughan's, co. Monmouth, Esq., entered the Society at Watten in 1691, and after ordination was sent to the mission at Bedford Leigh, co. Lancaster, in 1699, whence he came to Southworth in 1708. After the unsuccessful rising in favour of the rightful heir to the throne in 1715, inquiries were instituted by the "Commissioners for Forfeited Estates and Estates given to Superstitious Uses" in the following year, and various depositions and informations were made concerning Southworth Hall. James Tatlock deposed that the house called Southworth Hall and about 20 acres of land belonging to it were generally reputed to be settled to superstitious uses, and that Thomas Gerard is said to be trustee, and that one Needham, a priest, and Mr. Eaton now live in the house. On Sept. 28 of the same year, Richard Hitchmough the apostate priest and informer, deposed "that Mr. John Golden, this deponent's uncle, lived at Southworth Hall for several years as steward, and that Mr. Gervase Hamerton was priest there." He added that he had himself officiated there, and that Sebastian Needham succeeded Mr. Hamerton, and that Needham was then (Oct. 9, 1716) priest there. According to another of his informations "One Eccleston (dec^{d}.), then Hamerton, then Needham" was the order of the succession of priests. He also deposed regarding the plate as follows: "At Southworth Hall, near Warrington, in the said county of Lancaster, one large silver chalice and paten finely carved, the chalice double gilt within with gold, and which said chalice and paten cost £35, as Mr. John Golden, who bought the same, told this deponent. One small plain silver chalice, which was dayly made use of and which the said Mr. Golden told this deponent cost £3. One ciborium of silver to preserve the consecrated Hoste, with a silver cover and cross on the top thereof, which the said John Golden told this deponent cost five pounds." Mass was still being said at Southworth when Chambers Slaughter, the commissioners' agent, appeared on the scene in Jan., 1716, and the Mr. Eaton, named in one of the depositions, was probably a successor of Mr. Golden in the stewardship of the estate. How long Fr. Needham stayed has not been ascertained. He subsequently removed to the London district, the College of St. Ignatius, of which he was declared rector in 1736, and died superior, in London, Jan. 4, 1743, aged 72. The next priest found at Southworth is—

Fr. Henry Stanley, junior, S.J., born March 12 or June 5, 1713, younger son of Sir William Stanley, of Hooton Hall, co. Chester, 3rd Bart., by Catherine, daughter of Rowland Eyre, of Hassop Hall, co. Derby, Esq., who entered the Society in 1732, and after his ordination came to Lancashire. At this period there were two Jesuits of the name of Henry Stanley, which has led to considerable confusion. After a careful analysis of all records bearing upon the point, the writer has come to the conclusion that he was wrong in stating that Fr. Henry Stanley, senior, alias Culcheth, was the one at Liverpool and Bedford Leigh (C.R.S. ix. 186), and that it was Fr. Henry Stanley, junior, who was at Liverpool, where he was as early as 1742, and probably left there for Bedford Leigh in 1749. In a report sent to the superior at Rome in 1750, Fr. Henry Stanley, jun., is stated to be the missioner at Southworth, the income of the place being put down at £57, of which £16, 8*s.* 0*d.* came from the College of St. Aloysius, and the communicants in the congregation were estimated at 200. He is said to have lived at Southworth upwards of twelve years, which would make the date of his departure in or about 1762. He then went to reside with his mother, Lady Stanley, at Moor Hall, Aughton, co. Lancaster, where he died, Nov. 30, 1786, aged 73. He was succeeded at Southworth by—

Fr. William Gillibrand, S.J., born Jan. 13, 1716, son of Thomas Gillibrand, of Chorley Hall (subsequently called Gillibrand Hall), co. Lancaster, Esq., by Alice, daughter of John Westby, of Upper Rawcliffe Hall (or White Hall), in the same county, Esq. He entered the Society in 1735, and in due course came to the mission in Lancashire. In 1749 he was appointed to Slate Delph in Wheelton, whence he appears to have come to Southworth Hall. He could not have remained long, for in 1762 or 1763 he went to Exeter, was superior of that district in 1765, and after about five years removed from Exeter to Tusmore, co. Oxon, the seat of the Fermor family, where he still was in 1773. Upon the death of his elder brother he succeeded to the family estates in Lancashire, and went to reside at Gillibrand Hall, where he died, March 22, 1779, aged 63. The next priest on record at Southworth was—

Fr. James Foxe alias Pole, S.J., born in Salop, July 17, 1729–30, who was probably a son or near relative of Henry Foxe, of Shrewsbury, Esq., a Catholic Non-juror in 1717. In the Jesuit catalogues he is sometimes called John. Oliver (Collectanea S.J.) says he was related to the Foxes of Guernoza, co. Montgomery, and to the Somerset and Powis families. Henry Foxe, of Rhydteskin, co. Montgomery, Esq., was also a Catholic Non-juror in 1717. James joined the novitiate S.J. in 1747, and after he came to the mission in Lancashire was placed at Southworth Hall, which he served for many years. He was here at the suppression of the Society in 1773, and at Bishop Matthew Gibson's visitation, Oct. 29, 1784, presented 34 persons for confirmation and returned his communicants at 70. When Bishop William Gibson made his visitation at Southworth in 1793, Fr. Foxe presented 25 for confirmation. He died suddenly in his chair in the chapel at Southworth whilst catechising the children, March 29, 1795, aged 65, and was buried at Windleshaw. He was succeeded by—

Fr. Richard Reeve alias Haskey, S.J., born Feb. 25, 1740, 3rd son of Mr. Richard Reeve, of Island Hill, Studley, co. Warwick, and his wife Ann, daughter of Matthew Haskey, of Pirton, co. Oxon, gent. He studied at St. Omer's College, entered the Society in 1757, and after ordination was sent as chaplain to John Stanley-Massey, of Puddington Hall, co. Chester, Esq., son of Sir William Stanley, of Hooton, 3rd Bart., where he was in 1767 and subsequent years. He was at Lulworth Castle, co. Dorset, in 1777, at Abbot's Salford, co. Warwick, in 1778, at Slindon Hall, co. Sussex, 1780–2 (C.R.S. vii. 355), and at some date unrecorded was sent to St. Petersburg to teach the English language to the Russian nobility in the Jesuit college. In 1795 he came to Southworth Hall, and kept the registers apparently till Oct., 1797. Finally he became Spiritual Father at Stonyhurst College, where this true-hearted but somewhat eccentric Father died, May 31, 1816, aged 76. He retained his alias of Haskey till the end of his life. The Society being unable to afford a member to serve Southworth obtained a locum tenens in the person of—Abbé Louis Le Richebec, a French émigré. This good priest being driven from his native land by the great Revolution supported himself for the first year or so after his arrival in England by teaching French in several respectable schools in Lancashire and Cheshire. From this period, 1797, he continued to serve the chapel in Southworth Hall until it was decided to unite Southworth and Culcheth in one mission at Croft, where a new chapel dedicated to the abbé's patron-saint, St. Lewis, was erected and opened on May 29, 1827. Thus Southworth Hall was abandoned, its chapel in which Mass had been continuously said for centuries was vacated, and the property sold by the Society in the following year as previously related. The continuation of the history of the mission will be briefly traced under Croft, whilst some account of that at Culcheth has been already given with the registers of that mission.

HISTORY OF CROFT MISSION

When it was decided to give up the mission at Southworth Hall, the Society erected a new chapel at Croft, the foundation-stone being laid by the Abbé Louis Le Richebec on the feast of SS. Peter and Paul, June 29, 1826, and it was solemnly opened on May 29, 1827. The good abbé continued to serve the mission till the end of his meritorious life, being found on his knees in a dying state, on Feb. 11, 1845, aged 82. He was succeeded by—

Fr. James Clough, S.J., born near Liverpool, Jan. 11, 1803, educated at Stonyhurst, entered the Society at Hodder in 1827, and was ordained priest at Oscott College by Bishop Walsh in 1835. After serving Pylewell, Hants, he came to Croft in 1845, and continued till 1847, when he was succeeded by—

Fr. John Baron, S.J., born Sept. 2, 1807, second son of Mr. John Baron, cotton manufacturer, of Blackburn, who was sent to Sedgely Park School in 1816, thence went to Stonyhurst Aug. 28, 1821, entered the Society at Hodder in 1827, was appointed master of the Jesuit school opened in London in 1831, and afterwards taught at Stonyhurst, where he was ordained priest in 1841. In 1847 he came to Croft, but in Oct. of the following year was appointed vice-rector of Mount St. Mary's College, and declared rector in 1851. Three years later he went to Wakefield, where he remained till 1870. He took charge of the orphanage at Mark Cross, Tunbridge Wells, in 1871, was sent to Wardour Castle in Aug. 1874, and to Holywell in 1876, where he died, July 11, 1878, aged 71. His successor at Croft was—

Fr. William Waterton, S.J., born Dec. 9, 1794, son of Thomas Waterton, of Walton Hall, co. York, Esq. From Stonyhurst he entered the Society at Hodder in 1815, and was ordained priest at Clongowes College, Ireland, in 1823. After serving Pontefract, Pylewell, and Tunbridge Wells he came to Croft in 1848, but left in 1849, and died at Stonyhurst Jan. 18, 1852, aged 57. He was succeeded by—

Fr. Henry Shea, S.J., born May 24, 1818, in London, who entered the Society at Hodder in 1836, and was ordained priest at Louvain, whence he returned as a professor to Stonyhurst in 1847. He came to Croft in 1849, but left for St. Ignatius', Preston, in 1850, where he died Oct. 5, 1852, aged 34. His successors at Croft were—

Fr. Edward Bird, S.J., 1850–1.

Fr. Frederick Muller, S.J., 1851–4, after which the Society gave up the mission to the secular clergy in 1855, when Bishop Brown appointed—

Rev. William J. Gillett, a native of Lytham, who went to Sedgley Park School in 1838, and thence to Ushaw, but owing to ill-health was obliged to return to Lytham, where he completed his theology under the Rev. Joseph Walmsley. After ordination he served eight years at St. Anthony's, Liverpool, was made a canon, and in the autumn of 1855 was appointed to the charge of the mission at Douglas, Isle of Man, but instead came to Croft, and died in the presbytery Nov. 15, 1855, aged 33.

Rev. Thomas Ellison Gibson succeeded in 1855. He was son of George Gibson of Salford, cotton merchant, and his second wife Eliza, daughter of Matthew Ellison, of Glossop Hall, co. Derby, agent for the Duke of Norfolk, and was born July 30, 1822. From Mr. Henry Dobson's academy at Broadwood, Maghull, he went to Ushaw College in 1832. After four years he entered a commercial firm in Liverpool, where he worked for five years. In 1841 he returned to Ushaw to study for the Church, and was ordained priest Sept. 18, 1847. In that year of epidemic fever at Liverpool he was sent to the pro-cathedral, but after four months on account of ill-health was sent to Fleetwood, where he remained till 1855. There he erected schools, and in the latter year was transferred to Croft. He left in 1860 for Lydiate, of which he wrote and published a most interesting history in 1876. He retired from Lydiate and missionary duty Feb. 14, 1879, and went to reside at Birkdale, where he died, holding the office of diocesan treasurer, Jan. 26, 1891, aged 68. He was the author of several valuable antiquarian and historical works, as well as contributions to the Historic Society of Lancashire and Cheshire, and in 1840 wrote some verses entitled "The Good Old Catholic Times." His successors at Croft were—

Rev. William Wells, 1860 till death, Jan. 27, 1875.

Rev. Thomas Turner, eldest son of John Turner, of Preston, solicitor, 1875–7.

Rev. James Parkinson, 1877–81.

Rev. John Dorran, 1881–4.

Rev. Francis Blake, 1884–6.

Rev. Patrick Monaghan, 1886–99.

Rev. Charles Reynolds, 1899–1903.

Rev. Francis Blake, 1903–7.

Rev. William T. Walmsley, jun., curate, 1904–5.

Rev. William Byrne, 1905–7, curate, 1907–8, rector.

Rev. John Donohoe, 1908 to date.
